LOCAL RIPPLES.

—Mr. T. A. Kendrick, an old citizen of Charlotte, is in a dying condition at his home on Sixth street.

—Skipped by the Light of the Moon at the opera house last night, was what the boys call a "bum" show.

—Burglars visited the premises of S. M. Faires, 511 North College street, last night, and carried off four fine hens.

—S. J. Elliott, who kept a jewelry store on West Trade street, has skipped to Atlanta. Constable Fisher has gone after him.

—Up to twelve o'clock today, the grand jury of the Criminal Court had found and returned 59 true bills. Most of them were for larceny.

—Prof. Ober's illustrated lectures are really delightful, entertaining and instructive. He should be greeted by a large crowd to-night.

—The condition of Uncle Johnny Rooke, who has been quite ill for the past few days, is slightly improved today, though he is still quite feeble.

—Mr. Fields, who lived here for a time, has gone to Lincolnton to reside. He bought the home place of the late V. Q. Johnson, of Lincolnton.

—Dr. J. B. Shearer, of Davidson College, and Dr. A. W. Miller, of the First Presbyterian church of this city, will exchange pulpits next Sunday.

—The headquarters of the Georgia, Carolina & Northern road, of which Capt. Jas. A. Dodson is superintendent, have been moved from Monroe to Chester, S. C.

—Those holding course tickets to the Y. M. C. A. Star Course will be admitted to the illustrated lecture of Spain to-night, also to Hadyn Concert Company in week March 15th.

—The fare from Charlotte to Washington and return, for Harrison's inauguration, will be $12.50. Tickets will be on sale from February 25th to March 3rd, and will be good to March 8th.

—A letter received by a gentleman in this city from Mr. A. P. Newhart, a former resident of Charlotte but now of Ocoee, Florida, states that he has five hundred peach trees with peaches on them as large as nickles and the trees are still in bloom.

—The Concord Times says: "While little Carrie Beall, daughter of Mr. A. J. Beall, of Charlotte, was rolling her little two year old brother in the carriage in front of Mr. C. G. Montgomery's Tuesday, some one threw a stone which struck the baby on the head, inflicting an ugly and serious wound."

—The Mecklenburg Times learns from Esquire J. M. Beaver, of Clear Creek, that there is an epidemic of measles in his community. Esquire J. E. Henderson's wife is critically ill, and Mrs. Phillips, wife of M. W. Phillips, Esq., has been quite sick but she is now improving. This disease is prevalent throughout the whole county.

A Good Sateley.
There is a society in Charlotte, each member of which is fined five cents for each time they speak unkindly of any one, or criticize anybody. They appoint a judge for each week. A lady member a few days since was presented with her bill for a single month and it was one dollar.

A Big Ren.
Mr. C. Gresham, who has kept the Piedmont Air Line eating house in this city for years past, is to have charge of the dining room in the new passenger station. He pays a rental of $125 per month for the dining room and a portion of the upper story of the building. Mr. Gresham will also continue business at the old eating house, on the opposite side of the track, and will run both houses. The old house will be continued mainly as a boarding house for railroad men. Mr. Gresham has made a fine reputation as a restaurateur, and has the reputation of keeping one of the finest eating houses in the whole south.

TWO CRAZY STRANGERS.

One Wanted to Kill Himself and the Other was Strolling Around at a m

Two strangers, both crazy, have been picked up by the police of Charlotte. One was crazy from drink and the other was crazy from disease. Yesterday an unknown man who, it has since been learned, lives in Goldsboro, walked into a drugstore and asked the druggist to give him something to kill himself with. The druggist at once saw that the man was crazy from drink, and concluded to humor him. Under pretence of fixing up a dose for him, the druggist retired to the prescription case and telephoned for a policeman. He then returned to the front part of the store and engaged the man in conversation. The druggist agreed with him that he ought to die, "but suggested the druggist, "it would not be right for you to die and be buried as a pauper. You ought to be able to pay your funeral expenses before you take yourself off."

This struck the man as something reasonable, and thrusting his hand into his pocket he exclaimed: "You are right; just tell me how much my undertaker's bill will be and I will leave the money with you."

Just then Sergeant Jetton stepped in and took the would be suicide to the station house. He had no money whatever, and proved to be from Goldsboro. He received careful medical attention and is much better today, though he is still kept in confinement.

At 2 o'clock this morning, policeman Hunter found another stranger wandering about the streets in a crazy condition. He was locked up for the night and was this morning sent to the Home & Hospital. He is a patient of a Charlotte doctor, but whiskey had nothing to do with his insanity.

Mr. Hoke Engineering a Big Suit.

Mr. W. A. Hoke, of Lincolnton, who is now one of the most brilliant members of the State Legislature, has been retained as chief counsel in a suit that will stir up the whole State of South Carolina. The suit is brought by William G. Childs, to compel the county of Richland, S. C., to receive Blue Ridge Revenue Bond scrip in payment of taxes, and menaces South Carolina with litigation similar to that which Virginia has undergone. The action is based on an act by the General Assembly of South Carolina to relieve that State of all liability for its guaranty of the bonds of the Blue Ridge Railroad Company.

The action is brought under Sections 268 and 269 of the General Statutes. Of course, if the section of the "act to raise supplies," forbidding the county treasurers to receive "revenue bond scrip" in payment of taxes is declared unconstitutional, the way will be opened for litigation such as has rendered "the Virginia coupon cases" famous the country over. This action is indeed analogous to that taken in the Virginia cases.

If the section is unconstitutional the treasury is bound to receive the scrip in payment of taxes, and by Sections 268 and 269 of the General Statutes the plaintiffs are authorized to bring action against the treasurer.

A Fine Entertainment.

Prof. Ober's illustrated lecture on Mexico, at the hall of the Y. M. C. A., last night, was a fine treat, instructive as well as entertaining. To-night he will give an illustrated lecture on Spain, and those of our people who wish to enjoy themselves for an hour or so, should not fail to attend. Eighty finely executed pictures of Spanish scenes will be thrown upon the cloth, and will be explained by the lecturer. This is a show of an unusually interesting character. The views are so large and life-like that one can almost imagine himself transported to the country whose scenes are being depicted. It is a show and a school combined. The News hopes to see the hall crowded to-night.

The Roanoke Southern.

The Roanoke Southern road, which is being built from Roanoke, Va., to Winston, in this State, and which was expected to come on to Charlotte, is seeking another outlet. It is now aiming for Monroe. Charlotte at one time had a good grasp on this road, but appears to have relinquished it. It would be damaging to this city in the extreme, to have this road shoot by us. It is certainly to be extended either to Charlotte or by Charlotte, and our people had better be awake to the importance of the matter. The Enquirer & Express, of Monroe, says: "Mr. Henry Fries, one of the wealthiest and most progressive citizens of Winston-Salem, is president of the road, and, we learn, prefers Monroe as a terminus to any other point, and if our town and county will offer inducements equal to those offered by other places, there is no reason why we should not get the road. This road, when completed, will be one of the most important in the Southern States. Roanoke, the Northern terminus of the road, has sprung up almost like magic, and is still growing rapidly. At this point the Roanoke & Southern connects with the Shenandoah Valley railroad, and forms a direct line to Harrisburg, Philadelphia, and other Northern cities."

Personal Mention.

Miss Bessie Hayes is visiting her uncle, Capt. S. E. Linton, in this city.

Mr. Geo. W. Kittelle, proprietor of the Buford House, arrived home this morning from a visit to Washington.

Miss L. Stokes, of Union, S. C., is visiting friends in the city. She is the guest of Mrs. Robert F. Stokes.

C. J. Pride, Jr., of Greenville, S. C.; Jno. B. Myers, Baltimore, E. A. Schwarz, Phila.; W. F. Stevenson and wife, Chesterfield, S. C., were among the arrivals at the Buford today.

Among the arrivals at the Central today were: Gen. R. F. Hoke, Raleigh; W. T. Jordan, Mt. Island; Prof. Jno. H. Furman, King's Mountain; Capt. E. W. Ward, Lincolnton; Frank S. Craven, King's Mountain; J. Rubel, S. E. Hearne, Cin.; R. S. French, Wilmington; Rev. J. M. Hedrick, Staunton, Va.; F. H. Seigfield, Youngstown, Ohio.

Some Rich Men.

The Wilmington Review, in speaking of the wealth of the late Rufus Y. McAden, says: "There is not a man resident in Wilmington worth as much money. There is one, a Wilmingtonian proper, but resident in New York, who is probably worth two million. Some years ago his name was published in a New York paper in a list of four hundred persons who were worth a million or more. We have heard of two estates here worth $500,000 and there are probably a dozen others worth from $100,000 to $500,000."

Just at this writing we can call to mind one resident of Charlotte who is worth $500,000; another who is worth $300,000, and another who is worth $250,000. There is one lady in Charlotte who is worth $175,000. There are four residents who are worth from $125,000 to $200,000 each.

Death of Mrs. Brockenbrough.

Mrs. Brockenbrough, whose serious illness had been noted in THE NEWS, died at her home in Richmond, Va., at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. She was the mother of Mr. George Brockenbrough, of this city, who was at her bedside when she died. Mrs. Brockenbrough was quite well known in Charlotte. She was a most amiable lady and had many friends here who will be grieved at the news of her death. Her husband preceded her to the grave just two years ago.

A Jumbo Bale.

Charlotte has the distinction of packing perhaps the largest bale of cotton on record. The bale, which hooped and damped from the press, weighed 2,210 pounds. It was ginned by Mr. A. J. Haysmont, at the cotton compress.

T. L. SEIGLE & CO. GREAT LINEN SALE.

We gave them a mention last week, but our stock of these goods is so large and varied that we will have a great advertising sale this week. These pure Linen Napkins at 25 cents a dozen attracted many buyers to this department. Our line of Table Damask is ten times better than it ever was before, and we always thought it very good. We are offering many bargains in our Linen Department and if you only give them a look you can not fail to appreciate them. There are many patterns that are entirely new and very beautiful. The variety of Doylies and Napkins, and the low prices on them, make them doubly attractive.

TOWELS—The best line of them that we have ever had. Our 25c Towel is a beauty. It would be hard to duplicate at anything less than 35 cents. Remember this great Linen sale only lasts this week. See that Linen Napkin at 25 cents per dozen.
