LOCAL RIPPLES.

—Whooping cough in First Ward, is keeping company with the measles.

—It is said that Mrs. Hand has sold her property on the corner of Fifth and Tryon streets for $4,500.

—Rumors that robins were plentiful is doubted by one of our local sportsmen, who tramped for more than five hours and bagged but one.

—A male quartette is expected to sing at the Y. M. C. A. meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4.30. Young men are cordially invited to attend.

—Judging from the boasting of certain men with whom the reporter came in contact today, the crop of spring chickens this year will be early and large.

—A good work is being done by Capt. Strickland in the First Ward. He is having gravel placed along the sidewalks of a number of streets that have hitherto been sadly neglected.

—Rev. Mr. McCorkle is to supply the pulpit of Amity church, during the absence of its pastor at the Seminary. Mr. McCorkle and family will board with Mr. Robert King.

—The police last night picked up a young man who was walking about the streets in the rain. He had a case of jim jams. He was from Danville, and has been sent back there.

—Dr. J. B. Shearer, of Davidson College, will fill the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church tomorrow. Dr. A. W. Miller, the pastor, will fill Dr. Shearer's pulpit at Davidson College.

—The reception by the Social Circle at the residence of Mr. Walter Breen, last night, was a most pleasant affair. There was quite a large attendance, and the guests were most charmingly entertained.

—Mr. Henry Ford, who established the New York jewelry store here, a few months ago, but who recently sold out to Messrs. Hales & Tolar, has gone to Yorkville, S. C., and will go into business there.

Home from Philadelphia.

Hon. Robert P. Waring, assayer of the United States Mint at Charlotte, arrived home today from Philadelphia. He went to that city as a member of the commission to test the samples of gold coinage. The committee began its labors in the Philadelphia mint last Wednesday morning, and concluded its work at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. In all, 10,000 samples of gold coinage were tested, weighed and assayed, and all were found to come within the legal tolerance.

Capt. Waring spent a few hours in Washington city, and had a ten minutes' talk with Senator Vance. He says that Senator Vance wears a green blind over his eye. The Senator is in good spirits and excellent health, and has ceased to brood over the loss of his eye.

Good for the Legislature.

The people of Charlotte are delighted at the action of the Legislature in passing the bill in favor of the State Guard. The Guard is now fixed in a way that is creditable to the State, and the permanent encampment at Wrightsville is an assured fact. The people of Wilmington donated the site, which is on a bluff just north of the seacoast station, at Wrightsville, and overlooking Wrightsville sound and the ocean. The United States Government, according to an act of Congress, will appropriate $5,000 for the erection of a fort on the encampment grounds, and then the State Guard will be healed. The Legislature did a good thing when it passed the bill to aid the State Guard.

Rev. A. G. McManaway.

Rev. A. G. McManaway, pastor of the Tryon street Baptist church, returned home from Wadesboro this afternoon, where he has been assisting in a religious meeting, at which a number of conversions were made. Mr. McManaway will fill his regular appointments tomorrow. The sermon at the Tryon street church at 4.30 P. M., will have special reference to young people.

CHARLES J. FOX.

Sudden Death of One of Charlotte's Well Known Young Men.

Mr. Chas. J. Fox died at the residence of his mother, on West Trade street, shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon, after a brief illness.

The news of his death was a great shock to our people. It was so unexpected that it is hard to realize that the genial young man has gone from among us forever.

Mr. Fox went to his bed a few days ago with an attack of pneumonia, but until this morning no fears had been entertained in regard to his condition. There was a decided change for the worse before noon, however, and despite the efforts of the physicians he continued to sink rapidly and soon expired.

The deceased was 26 years of age, and was the oldest son of the late Dr. Chas. Fox. His mother, one brother and a sister survive him. Mr. Fox was one of the promising young business men of Charlotte, and had built up a fine reputation. He was an energetic young man, and had made a splendid reputation as a contractor in gas, plumbing and water works. He was a clever young man, genial and affable, and his untimely death will be regretted by all our people.

The Railroad Bill.

In the House of Representatives yesterday the Speaker announced the arrival of the hour for the special order, the consideration of H. B. 811, relating to the proposed railroad commission. Mr. Holman moved to pass it over, as Mr. Cooke, the chairman of the House branch of the commission committee was absent from his seat. Mr. Beddingfield objected and said the chairman knew the bill was a special order for today and should have been in his seat. Mr. Franks moved to pass it over and make it a special order for tomorrow. Lost. The Speaker ordered the clerk to read the bill. Chairman Cooke arrived. The clerk continued until the reports, majority and minority, had been read. The Speaker announced that the question was the adoption of the minority report. The question was put as to the adoption of the minority report. The report was not adopted. The question was then put upon the adoption of the majority report, which passed its second reading by a vote of 55 to 26 and was made the special order for today at 11 o'clock.

Starr Neeley Accidentally Shot.

Starr Neeley, a little son of Mr. T. W. Neeley, of Steel Creek township, was shot in the face one day this week, and painfully hurt. Starr and a colored boy had arranged to kill a cat, and the darkey was to act as executioner. Starr crawled under the house and routed the cat, which took refuge on a wood-pile. The negro raised his gun, took aim and fired. The cat hopped into the air and scudded away unhurt, while Starr fell to the ground with a load of shot in his face. At the time the boy fired, Starr was standing 30 feet out of the range of the gun, but the shot struck a log in a glancing way, and struck Starr in the face. Several shot entered his eye, one of his ears was pierced, and one side of his face was literally perforated.

Banker Wants the Mist.

Mr. R. H. W. Barker, of Huntersville, who ran against Mr. J. W. Cobb, for register of deeds, of this county, was in Charlotte yesterday circulating a petition for signers recommending his appointment as assayer of the Charlotte mint. He has been in the western counties of this district, and says he is "now working up this territory."

Failure at Maxton.

Mr. M. McNair, the largest merchant at Maxton, on the Carolina Central road, yesterday filled an assignment. Mr. J. W. Carter, of Maxton, is the assignee. Mr. McNair's liabilities are $20,000, and the assets will fall short of that amount.

Col. Julian Allen in the City.

Col. Julian Allen, who has been considerably talked about in the papers lately in consequence of his recent business-like interview with James G. Blaine, arrived at the Central this morning, and will leave on the A. T. & O. train this afternoon for his home near Statesville. Col. Allen is just home from a northern trip in the interests of the State exposition, he having been appointed a member of the exposition committee. Col. Allen is very much encouraged over the result of his trip, and from all reports, he did good work for the State. He not only interested northern cities in the exposition, but did some work at Washington that will probably result in securing an appropriation from Congress in aid of the exposition.

Col. Allen told a News reporter that the commission had not yet decided upon the place for holding the exposition, but added that in his opinion, it would be held either at New York or Boston. He says that the exposition, when it is made, will be a credit to the whole United States.

Music in Salisbury.

The fourth group of the soiree recitals of the Neave Music School, was given in Salisbury last night. The programme contained 19 pieces, that were selected and arranged with Prof. Neave's usual care and good judgment. Misses Mary Julian, Rachel Wallace, Pattie Tuttle, Agnes Neave, Mamie Gaskill, Edna Vanderford, Jeannie Brown, Blanche Bernhardt, Mamie Hedrick, Ruth Mauney, Bessie Trexler, Emma Gowan, Mamie Buchanan, Lillian Foust, Maude Estelle Smithdeal, Maggie McNeely, Effie Kilpatrick, Jeannie Kluttz, and Messrs. J. W. Correll, W. H. and E. B. Neave, and Dr. E. Rose Dorsett, took part in the concert. The programme was headed by one of Prof. Neave's characteristic and sensible N. B.'s. Prof. Neave's music school is one of the finest in the country, and the people of Salisbury appreciate it.

Capt. Erwin's Endorsement.

Capt. John R. Erwin, formerly clerk of the Superior court of Mecklenburg county, goes before the Legislature with a strong endorsement for Railroad Commissioner, from the people of Mecklenburg. Papers endorsing him for a member of the Commission and recommending his appointment, have been forwarded to Mecklenburg's representatives, from the board of county commissioners, the county officers, the mayor and board of aldermen of Charlotte, and a large majority of the magistrates. All the magistrates are in favor of Capt. Erwin, but some of them were not seen in time to add their official endorsement to the paper. These petitions undoubtedly express the sentiment of Mecklenburg, and THE NEWS can repeat what it has said on a previous occasion, that Capt. Erwin would prove an honor to the commission.

St. Mark's Church.

The interior of St. Mark's Lutheran church is being handsomely fitted up. The fresco work is being done by the same artist who, some years ago, frescoed the First Presbyterian church, and the work is being well done. Capt. T. L. Seigle made a generous donation to this church of a set of fine plush chairs, and the building will be carpeted with Brussels, by the ladies of the congregation. When completed, this church will be one of the handsomest to be found in the South.

Judge Meares' Work.

The February term of the Criminal Court for Mecklenburg county adjourned yesterday afternoon, and Judge Meares left last night for his home in Wilmington. The court had a busy week, the docket being filled with trifling cases. There was quite an array of thieves, and Judge Meares sent 20 men and 3 women to the chain gang, and one man to the penitentiary. All were colored except one white man.
