LOCAL RIPPLES.

—Thieves raided the chicken coop of Mr. John Lillycrop, the blind man, last night.

—A Charlotte dry goods store sold fifteen hundred yards of lace in a few hours one afternoon this week, all at retail.

—Our New York letter is written by a lady who formerly resided in Charlotte, and will be interesting reading for the fair sex.

—No Raleigh papers were received in this city today. The Raleigh papers have been reaching here very irregularly for several weeks past.

—Up to the latest reports, the body of the drowned preacher, Rev. Jas. Gibson, had not been recovered. It is probable that the body was washed into the Catawba.

—The funeral of Mrs. John M. Crowell was conducted from St. Peter's Episcopal Church at 11 o'clock this morning, and was attended by a large concourse of sympathetic friends.

—At the meeting of the Mecklenburg Literary Society last night Mr. Jerome Dowd resigned his position as president, and Mr. Richard N. Tiddy was elected to fill the vacancy. The Society is in a flourishing condition.

—There was a typographical error in the advertisement of the Mechanics Perpetual Building and Loan Association yesterday. It is corrected today. There is some difference between $50,000 and $300,000, but a little O did it.

—Seven white men were arraigned before the mayor this morning, all charged with drunk and disorderly conduct. The fines ranged from $3 to $25. Three of them couldn't pay, and were sent to the chain gang.

—Mr. Ketchum, landlord of the Park Central Hotel, which collapsed in Hartford on the 18th, and was rescued alive, had at one time negotiated for the lease of the Buford House in this city, and came very near closing a trade for the house.

—It only costs you cents to gain admittance to the "Tea Party," in the Y. M. C. A. building to-morrow night. Oysters in any style can be procured for 25 cents. The Peaks with their charming music and recitations will be present, and Miss Williamson's guitar class will lend their aid in making the evening one of unalloyed pleasure. Other attractions may be expected.

Personal Mentions.

Messrs. Joseph Green and J. S. Land, of Columbia, are at the Central.

Jas. H. Mann, of Lewiston, Pa., manufacturer of the celebrated Mann Axe; T. R. Abernathy, Newton; P. Balwin, Lenoir; C. N. Bennett, Norwood; Thos. May, Wadesboro, are at the Central.

Capt. Jno. M. Odell, of Concord, one of the most prominent milling men of the State, is in the city today.

Jas. H. Merrimon, Asheville; H. D. Lesk, Winston; Jno. R. Baker, New York; A. S. Frisk, Baltimore; A. A. Margeson, Buffalo, N. Y., are at the Buford today.

A Prospective Lawsuit.

Mr. B. R. Beckwith, of Alabama, who has been in the city for several days past making arrangements to institute a civil action against Mr. A. B. Davidson, left this afternoon for Washington. Mr. Beckwith proposes to bring suit to recover the property on Tryon street next to the Springs corner, which was sold to Mr. Davidson some years ago. The old Cornwallis headquarters used to stand on the site, but the old buildings were torn down by Mr. Davidson, and a block of handsome brick houses erected in their stead. The details of the suit are unknown to the public, but Mr. Beckwith, one of the heirs, appears not to have been satisfied with the sale. He has employed three lawyers, and Mr. Davidson also has a good array of legal talent. Mr. Davidson thinks that his side is good.

ROBBERS WITH TORCHES.

They Break into Capt. Kidd's Store, Select a Load of Groceries and Drive Off, Leaving a Torch Burning on a Cracker Box.

Capt. W. B. Kidd lives in a large two-story house on East Seventh street, and in his yard fronting on Seventh street is a one-story house, in which he kept a large stock of groceries and family supplies. A side door at the rear end of the house opens on Capt. Kidd's backyard. When he waked this morning, a lot of big augur holes and a shivered pane attracted his attention to this door. He hastened to make an examination, and found that he had been cleaned out by robbers. The robbers went to work in a bold manner. With a two-inch augur they bored a square in the door entirely cutting out the lock, and further than this, they split the door from top to bottom. When they went away they left an iron wrench and several knots of torches. The thieves evidently had a wagon at the front door, for they could not well have carried off their booty in any other way. Capt. Kidd's casual inventory showed that they had stolen ten sacks of flour, a lot of bacon, half a barrel of sugar, fifteen or twenty pounds of lard, and a full selection of cigars, sardines, coffee, tobacco, and other articles. There was a sum of money amounting to about $20 in the drawer, and they took this, but dropped a copper cent at the front door. The torches they used were made of fat pine, splintered fine. One of these torches was left lying on a cracker box, next to two large cans of lard, but after burning awhile it went out, doing no further damage than charring the box.

Democrat Holt, who lives near, says that he happened to be up at 2 o'clock this morning, and saw two men run away from the store. Policemen Jetton and Hunter were in the immediate neighborhood of the store between 2 and 3 o'clock, and though the moon was giving a good light, they saw no one on the streets.

Capt. Kidd's clerk slept in the residence, and the window of his room overlooks the door that was shattered by the robbers, and is not more than twenty feet distant from it. There is no clew.

The Boys Stepping Up.

"I see," said Esquire D. G. Maxwell to a News reporter today, "that you have had somewhat to say about a young man with eyeglasses and auburn mustache being marched in by the sheriff to pay double taxes. Just take a seat for half an hour, and I will show you an assortment—some with red mustache, some with no mustache, some blondes, some brunettes, some duds and some who are not duds." It was a fact, too. The way the young men were ushered in was a sight. So far about one hundred noses have been double taxed. The young man with the auburn mustache and eyeglasses is not by any means alone in his misery. The sheriff is still on the war path.

Married in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Vinton Liddell, of this city, was married at Ridgeway, Penn., today, to Miss Janie Hall. It was a quiet affair, no invitations having been issued, but simple announcement cards sent out, on account of a recent death in the family. The newly wedded will spend a few days in Washington, when they will come on to Charlotte.

Common, Ten Cents.

Cotton has at last reached the ten cent notch in Charlotte. Ten cents was paid for the staple on our streets today. It was the highest spot market of the season, and the tone was stronger. The market was firm and with an upward tendency. The receipts by wagon were 51 bales. The quotations were: Strict Good Middling . . . 10 Good Middling . . . 9 1/2 Strict Middling . . . 9 Middling . . . 8 1/2 Tugan . . . 8 1/2

The Presbyterians in Conference.

Dr. A. W. Miller, Rev. J. Y. Fair and Rev. J. L. McLees, the three Presbyterian pastors of the city, and 30 officers from the two churches, attended the meeting last night to discuss matters relating to the Synodical orphanage and the new Third church. The meeting was in session until after ten o'clock. Dr. Miller presided, and Mr. C. N. G. Butt acted as secretary. The discussion in regard to the Synodical orphanage was quite interesting, and resulted in the adoption of the following paper: That, in our opinion, no community would be justified in bidding for the Synodical Orphanage in their midst; that the selection of location should be made by Synod, after duly considering the advantages of the different localities. Resolved, That if the Synod should select Charlotte as the proper place, we will do our part in supporting it, and will contribute our due proportion towards paying for its buildings and site. Resolved, That a committee consisting of one elder and one deacon from each church be appointed to ascertain if the Managers of the Presbyterian Home are willing to merge their institution into the Synodical Orphanage, if located in Charlotte. The chairman appointed Elders D. W. Oates and A. G. Brenizer, and Deacons Butt and Nisbet, who will meet the Managers of the Presbyterian Home this afternoon, at 4 o'clock, at the Y. M. C. A. parlors. The matter of building a Third church was discussed and it was decided that the church is to be built. It will be definitely settled at a meeting to be held on the second Tuesday in March.

Notes from Huntersville.

A News reader at Huntersville writes us that Rev. S. C. Alexander, of Missouri, will lecture at that place to-morrow night, from the subject: "The Stone Kingdom, the fifth world power; or the United States in Prophecy." . . . Rev. W. W. Orr left today for Birmingham, Ala., to organize an Associate Reformed church at that place. . . . Huntersville is very healthy at present. Dr. H. J. Walker has been sick for some days past, but he told me this morning that he had just swallowed a dynamite cartridge, and felt better. . . . Unless Signal Officer Bronson gives us better weather, we will have to move out to dry land somewhere. The wet weather has retarded farming operations since the 15th. . . . Miss Mattie M. Woodruff, of Mansfield, Desota Parish, La., is visiting her uncle, Mr. C. W. Ritch.

Gathering of Railroad Men.

There is quite a gathering of railroad men in the city today. Capt. Wm. H. Green, the general superintendent of the Richmond & Danville road, is the biggest man in the crowd. The Air Line division is represented by Capt. Berkeley, superintendent, and Arthur Ramseur, master of trains; the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta division by Col. G. R. Talcott, superintendent, J. S. Land, master of trains, Joe Green, master machinist, and L. T. Nichols, master of trains for the C. & L. division; the Richmond and Danville division by W. D. Ryder, superintendent, and J. H. Walsh, master of trains.

The officers met here for a general consultation, and their meeting is being held in the new depot this afternoon.

Blair Says It's All Right.

Mrs. S. O. Blair, Chicago, says: "We could not keep house without your Clarke's Extract of Flax Skin Cure and Cough Cure. We have used both for numerous troubles, especially for our child. We recommend the Cough Cure to every family having children. We used it for Whooping Cough with remarkably quick and satisfactory results, and use it for any and every cough the family may have." Only one size, large bottle. Price $1.00. If you want the best relief ever get Clarke's Flax Skin Cure. Ask R. H. Jordan, the Druggist, for these preparations.
