LOCAL RIPPLES.

VOLUME 1.

-To-morrow is the 157th anniversary of the birth of the father of his country.

-Capt. John R. Erwin and Capt. T. R. Robertson will leave this evening for Raleigh.

-Mr. J. D. Fox has bought the gun store of the late C. J. Fox, and will continue the business.

-There were no robberies in Charlotte last night, and it is a right good piece of news to record.

-There was a sudden cessation of Fowle talk, on part of our esteemed morning contemporary this

-The Social Circle will be entertained next Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Kittelle, at the

Buford,
-The House judiciary committee yesterday reported unfavorably the bill to remove the political disabilities of ex-Gov. Holden.

-Policeman McCracken, who was patroling the eastern outskirts of Ward r, last night, caught a thief stealing wood from Mr. W. W. Phifer's back yard. He brought the the thief up town and lodged him in the guard house.

—Jas. Harrison & Co., the new dry goods firm established in Charlotte, have an advertisement in this issue of THE NEWS that will be read with interest by shoppers. Friday, Saturday and Monday will be their special sales days.

A few of our people are prepar-ing to attend Harrison's inaugural, but others who are wiser and know what it is to anticipate a good time are holding back for the Washington centennial in New York, on April 30th. That will be the trip to take.

-A Choral Benefit and Sociable will be held at the residence of Mrs. T. S. Brown, on East Trade street, tomorrow (Friday) night, given by the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Mark's Lutheran Church. The proceeds to be used for completing and turnishing the church.

-J. B. Hartman, a tenant on the land of Mr. J. G. Shannonhouse, was arraigned before Esquire Maxwell today upon the charge of injuring real estate. He had been cutting down and hauling off timber. He was placed under a bond of $50 for his appearance for trial at the Criminal Court.

-Sheriff Smith returned home to day from Raleigh, and is now enjoying a snooze. There were two breakdowns on the road going there, and last night he sat up until a o'clock waiting for the Charlotte bound train. It was his first trip to Raleigh with a prisoner, and in view of his two sleepless nights he doesn't feel like bragging on it.

The Union Prayer Meetings.

The union peayer meetings are resulting in great good. Services were held last night at Tryon Street M. E. Church, conducted by Rev. J. Y. Fair. Prayers were made by all the pastors. The crowd surpassed any they have had, and it reminded one of the Pearson meetings. No one realizes the number of people in Charlotte that attend prayer meeting until they see them assembled together. Services neft Wednesday night will be held at the Tryon Street Baptist church.

A Car Captured-

Just after the snow storm commenced today, the graded school was dismissed, and the first street car that came up town was a sight. The children had possession of it. They not only filled the car but took the platforms, and the driver had to hold up his arms like he had boile under them. It was the most numerous car load that has yet been houled on Mr. Osborne's lines.

TO TRAIL THE BURGLARS.

The Keen-Nosed Bloodbound to Pressed Into Police Service.

Bloodhounds! That's the idea The problem of catching the burglars has been solved, and now as soon as the dogs arrive and some burglar will be accommodating enough to crack a house we will have some fun. A police officer to day told a NEWS reporter that the dogs are being negotiated for. They are Georgia dogs, and are well trained. "When we get these dogs," he said; "we will show the burglars a thing or two."

"You are sure of success, then?" asked the reporter.

"We are sure of it," was the reply. "We will get three dogs. I can put them on a track twenty-four hours after it is made, and the only way the burglar can get away will be to take a railroad car. He can go through water or mount a horse, but that will make no difference; the dogs will run him down relentlessly. His tracks may be walked over by a hundred other people, but the dogs will never lose it. With these dogs I would have had no difficulty whatever in catching the parties who robbed Kidd's store Tuesday night."

The officer says that the dogs are expected to arrive here shortly. The result of this experiment will be watched with interest by our people, and the general opinion is that the right policy has been adopted. The luck that we may expect, though, will be that as soon as the dogs arrive the burglaries will cease, but that would be a reliet, worth all the trouble and expense.

The 3 C.'s.

There is no sham about the building of the 3 C.'s railroad. The receat contract signed in New York City was for the construction of 250 miles. The company has already under operation 400 miles of road, 200 of which are of its own construction. The portion to be built under the contract referred to is from Rutherfordton, N. C., to the new town of Minneapolis, in Southwestern Virginia, at the crossing of the Clinch river, where the line will make a junction with the Norfolk and Westem Railroad, and probably with a proposed eastern extension of the Louisville and Nashville, which is to come through by Stone Gap. A. B. Harris, of Boston; Frank Coxe, of Philadelphia; Wharton Barker, of Philadelphia; B. D. Johnston, of Boston; Gen. Thomas L. Rosser, ell known men, are int ested in the road. The contractors are McDonald & Shea, the well known railroad builders, of Knoxville, Tenn., and they are required to complete the contract awarded to them within ten months.

A New Daily in Durbam.

We see it stated that Mr. Jax. A. Robinson, who was formerly connected with the Charlotte Chronicle, is to start a daily paper in Durham, to be called the Morning News. Mr. Robinson is a good editor, and from what we know of him we can predict that he will give the people of Durham a paper in every way worthy their support. Good luck and suc-

The Charlotte Cotton Market,

The Railroad Commission Bill.

The bill constituting a Railroad Commission for North Carolina passed its third reading in the House of Representatives yesterday. The News and Observer says that when the bill was called up, Mr. Alexander offered an amendment changing the salaries of the commissioners from $2,500 to $2,000 and the clerk from $1,200 to $1,000. He spoke at some length, advocating the bill and his amendment.

Upon the vote on the amendment Mr. Franks, who opposed the bill; called for the yeas and nays.

Mr. Cooke spoke in support of the bill. He said the question of salaries had been embarrassing to the committee, but that it had finally settled down on the same as those paid to the judicial bench, and for this reason they were fixed at $1,500 and $1,200. Mr. Cooke's speech was strong and eloquent. He handled the measure from the side of the people and sustained himself with credit.

A vote was taken on the substitute offered by Mr. Alexander, reducing the salaries. The amendment was adopted by a vote of 69 to 38.

Mr. Long, of Me klenburg, offered an amendment, changing the pay of witnesses from two to one dollar per day. Lost.

Mr. Baird offered an amendment striking out the clause relating to the professions of the commissioners. Lost by a vote of 49 to 38.

Mr. Cooke moved the previous question (the passage of the bill upon its third reading), and upon this motion Mr. Beddingfield called for the yeas and nays. The main question was then put, and the bill passed its third reading by a vote of 65 yeas to 43 nays.

"Theodora" Saturday Night.

Theodora is to be presented at the Opera House in this city next Saturday night. This is said to be the grandest production of this season in point of scenic effects, dramatic interest, and all that combine to make a performance of surpassing grandeur, is that of Theodora, the Lion Queen, by Walter Standish. No cost or pains have been spared to make the play equal in all respects to the wonderful productions ot the old world.

When the curtain rises on Act 1, you are transported back to the fifth century; again Zyzantium is restored; you walk the halls of Justinan's palace; you hear the song of the green faction in the streets. Once a juggler in the circus,

A Woman, Too.

United States Commissioner D. G. Maxwell today dispatched an officer to Union county with warrants for the arrest of John E. Morgan and Mrs. Francis Lore, alias Yow. Both are charged with retailing whiskey without a license. They will be arraigned before the commissioner for trial to-morrow.
