A BIG WAVE COMING.

The Flag Over the Signal Office Today, and What it Predicts.
 The white flag with the black centre was run to the top of the pole over the signal station in this city this morning. It is a warning to look out for a cold wave, and officer Bronson says that we will probably have a hard snap. The probabilities cannot always be relied upon, of course, but they point to a hard freeze. In a large area of the west the air pressure is as high as it has ever been since the signal service was established. The weather map issued this morning forms an interesting study. At St. Vincent, the mercury at 8 a. m. was 42 degrees below zero. It was 34 degrees below at Bismarck; 30 degrees below at Fort Buford; 26 below at St. Paul; 20 below at Chicago; 2 below at Portland, and zero at St. Louis. At New York City the temperature was 12 degrees above zero; 20 above at Memphis; 20 above at Fort Smith, and 38 above at Charlotte.

Officer Bronson's advice is that the temperature will fall to 10 degrees above in Virginia and 15 above in North Carolina by eight o'clock in the morning.

LOCAL RIPPLES.

Lumber is being hauled for the new Episcopal church in this city. Work is to commence on the structure soon.

Mr. J. B. Rooker's condition has grown steadily worse, and it is not thought that he can survive through the night.

The church entertainment at the residence of Mrs. T. S. Brown last night, was a most pleasant affair and a great success.

Rev. Job Turner will hold a special service for deaf mutes at St. Peter's P. E. Church at 7.15 p. m. on Sunday. The deaf mutes in town are all invited to be present.

Rev. M. P. Matheny, of Texas, will preach at Tryon street Baptist church to-morrow afternoon at 4.30. Preaching in the morning by the pastor, Rev. A. G. McManaway.

Carols are out for the Social Circle entertainment to be given at the Buford House next Tuesday night by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Kittelle. A good time is in store for those who attend.

The State Library, and the Western North Carolina Insane Asylum at Morganton, are to be adorned each with a life-size portrait of the late Wm. J. Yates, of Charlotte, one of the most loyal sons North Carolina ever knew.

Burglary in the County.

The residence of Mr. W. H. Farrior, who lives three miles from Charlotte in Crab Orchard township, was robbed last night. The burglars went through the entire house and made a big haul. They did not even leave Mr. Farrior a suit of clothes. They stole bed clothes, provisions, clothing, etc. There is no clew. Mr. Farrior is a brother-in-law of Mr. Josiah Asbury, of Charlotte.

A New Firm.

Messrs. Walter and Chas. Brem have formed a business partnership, and have leased the storeroom in the Central Hotel building formerly occupied by the retail department of the Wilson Drug Company. This room is now being fitted up for their occupancy. They will do a general insurance and machinery business. Mr. Chas. Brem has been the Charlotte representative of the Equitable Insurance Company, of New York.

Conson Thief Caught.

Last Wednesday night, during the snow storm, a thief visited the gin house of Mr. James Cochran, in Mallard Creek township, and stole a lot of cotton. The tracks were followed up to a cabin, where a negro named Hec Sanders lived, and there the cotton was found. Hec is an old offender, and has made several raids on the farmers of Mallard Creek. He is now in jail.

THEODORA.

Something About the Costumes to be Seen at the Opera House To-Night.

The Theodora Company did not arrive in the city today in time to give the matinee, but will present "Theodora" at the opera house to-night. This paraphernalia was originally designed and prepared for the renowned Sarah Bernhardt by a Parisian artist, and was by her used in the production of this play. The original cost of the wardrobe and trappings was something like $20,000.

There are six costumes belonging to Theodora and all are marvelously beautiful. When seated on the imperial throne in the first act, she appears in a gown made of the cloth of gold woven in net work; all over the robe are scattered oriental flowers of strange oriental designs and colors. Across the hem peeping out from among wreaths of these same flowers and bands and beads of heavy beaten gold are heads of cherubs, embroidered on silk.

The head piece is of the cloth of gold woven solidly in figures; bands of precious stones adorn the rim of this cap, and pendants composed of every precious stone fall from it over the forehead. The shoes are of oriental design, and in the hand is carried the silver lily, which was carried with such grace by graceful Sarah and created so much comment. There are three silver lilies in the spray rising out from a score of leaves mounted on a slender stem of silver, in the scene which shows the interior of the emperor's box. Theodora wears the counterpart of the "Mantle of the Gesars," the robe of state. It is of light blue satin finished all around the edges with bands of gold, set with precious stones. The robe is embroidered with every known jewel in the cashmere figure. The lining is of cloth of gold. In this scene Justinian appears in his robes of state, a crimson mantle richly embroidered in pearls and precious stones. The robe is lined throughout with heavy satin of contrasting shade. A massive crown, heavily jewelled, and a sceptre of gold are used in the same act by him. Antonia at the same time wears a peccilian robe of salmon pink satin embroidered, in circles of pearls, the centres are filled with jewels. These jewels are not beads, but regularly mounted in solid gold. The crown of Justinian has over two hundred jewels, while that of Theodora has half as many. Nine girdles are used and are all heavily jeweled. The scenery is a counterpart of the famous production by Bernhardt. The robes of the courtiers, slave and ambassadors are all her original possessions.

Waived Examination.

United States Marshal W. P. Little started out in the snow storm Wednesday evening last for Union county, with a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Jno. E. Morgan and Mrs. Francis Love, charged with retailing whisky without a license. He returned to the city yesterday afternoon with the parties and they were arraigned before United States Commissioner D. G. Maxwell. They waived an examination and gave a bond of $500 each for their appearance for trial at the next term of the Federal court. Just the day before his arrest, Mr. Morgan and his wife were divorced at Monroe.

Tom Wilson's "Alex. Stephens."

There are four things that no well regulated editor can get along without. They are, a paste pot, pair of scissors, a pencil and a convenient plug of tobacco. The News man is heeled today, for he had all the first named articles, and the noon mail brought him a tobacco pocket book, filled with a sample of the "Alex. Stephens" brand, made by Mr. Thos. J. Wilson, of Winston. It's about the best sample of the weed we ever tried, and the only plug of regret that we feel about the whole matter is that there wasn't enough of it. Gov. Gordon, of Georgia, has expressed this same opinion.

THE GROCERS ORGANIZE.

They Declare War on the Dead Beats-- They Arrange to Protect Themselves from Imposition in the Future.

The retail grocers of Charlotte have organized for protection against dead beats. They met last night at the grocery store of Mr. F. R. Durham, on Trade street, and discussed measures for self-protection. Mr. Durham was chosen chairman of the meeting. There was quite a large gathering of grocers, and all were in favor of forming an organization similar to that recently formed here by the butchers. After a full discussion, it was decided to perfect the organization, and the meeting adjourned to one week from next Tuesday night. At that meeting the permanent organization will be effected. It will be known as the Retail Grocers' Association of Charlotte, and it will have on its black list the names of all who refuse to pay grocers bills. These names will be boycotted, and no goods will be sold to them except for cash. The rules will evidently be ironclad.

Mr. Durham, in speaking to a News reporter today about the matter, said: "It has come to such a pass that we are simply bound to do something. The list of people who 'beat' the grocers in Charlotte would astound you. We have been keeping them in free rations long enough, and the time has come for us to adopt some measures in self defense." All except two grocers in the city have signified their intention to join this organization.

Death of Mrs. R. W. Allison.

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. R. W. Allison, which occurred at 4 o'clock this morning, at her home in Concord, in her 70th year, after many months of painful illness. This death will bring sorrow throughout a large circle of friends and acquaintances in this and other communities where Mrs. Allison was so much esteemed for her amiable character and christian virtues. She will be sadly missed in the home, in the community and in the church of which she was an active and devoted member. Through a long sickness she was a patient sufferer, resigned to the will of her heavenly Father. This dear saint anticipated a better country and has at last entered into the "land of rest."

Operating in Texas.

Kramer, the alleged ex-Jewish Rabbi, who took in Revs. Joseph Cheshire and A. G. McManaway, in this city, some months ago, has reached Fort Worth, Texas. We find this notice of him in the Gazette of that place: "An alleged ex-Jewish Rabbi, going under the name of Kramer, and who claims to be anxious to be baptized into the Christian faith, succeeded in victimizing some credulous divines and citizens of this city last week and securing considerable sums of money. He was simply a slick professional sharper."

The New Roller Mills.

Things are turned upside down at the Star Mills today, Mr. Crowell being engaged in moving out the old machinery, and replacing it with the new roller apparatus. The mills are being equipped with a Climax corn meal bolt and purifier, hominy mill, grit mill, dryer, arm cleaner, and patent roller flour apparatus. Besides fine flour and meal, all grades of hominy and grits will be made. The new mills will soon be in operation.

A Valuable Remedy.

A letter from S. P. Wardwell, Boston, says: "I used Clarke's Extract of Flax (Papilion) Catarrh Cure in June last for my fever with great satisfaction, and find it is the only thing I have seen which would allay, without irritating, the inflammation of the nostrils and throat. Its soothing and healing properties were marked and immediate." Large bottle $1.00. Clarke's Flax Soap is the latest and best. Try it. 25 cents. Ask for them at R. H. Jordan & Co.'s Drug Store.

WHEN YOUNG

Georgie was a kid, yet years before he got to be the well beloved parent of his wonderful country, he set us an example to be always truthful, but remember fame and fortune wait on him who makes a CUT. So we seek to learn this lesson and apply it to our line of

MEN'S FURNISHING GOODS AND HOSIERY
 as we did last week to our Collars and Cuffs, by telling the truth and cutting goods and prices very fine.

Like Georgie, we are truthful,
 On our word you may rely;
 You'll find our store the safest place
 Where'er you come to buy.
 To give our stock inspection
 Is to show us you are wise,
 And more wisdom you will gather
 When you've opened up your eyes.
 Exhibiting the quality of

UNDERWEAR AND HOSIERY
 We keep on sale at such prices
 That competitors with jealousy
 Turn pale.

Then why continue buying
 Where you pay
 Double price,
 For goods that
 May appear
 Like ours, but
 Are not near as Nice. Come to
 Our store for
 Cheapest goods,
 'Tis dangerous
 To delay. We'll
