LOCAL RIPPLES.

Dr. S. Mattoon is reported to be improving.

There was a big rain in this section last night, and it was too wet to-day for the farmers to do any out-door work.

A german will be given at the Pleasure Club's rooms to-morrow night, complimentary to the visiting young ladies.

In the absence of Mr. McLeod, the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium is in charge of Mr. A. E. Waters. Waters is something of a gymnast himself.

The friends of Gen. Jno. A. Young will be glad to learn that there is a marked improvement in his condition to-day. He has made a strong rally.

Mr. Richard Elliott, a native of Long Creek township, this county, is now 80 years old, but he can and does do as good a day's ploughing as any man in the county. He is a remarkably vigorous and well preserved man.

The lecture on "Naples, Vesuvius and Pompei," at the Tryon street Baptist church to-morrow night, by Dr. Pritchard, will be a rare treat, as all who have heard it will testify. Dr. Pritchard will doubtless be greeted by a large audience.

Thieves last night raided the flower beds at Mr. O. M. Sadler's residence, and, in the language of Mr. Sadler, "plumb cleaned off a whole raft of beautiful double hyacinths that had cost a year's labor for two days' enjoyment." O. M. is going to plant his flowers in the jaws of a steel trap hereafter.

Assignment of Mr. Hayes.
Mr. C. C. Hayes, of this city, made an assignment late Saturday evening. His assignment was recorded at the court house at 5:25 o'clock. Mr. Hayes failed for about $1,500, and his assets will be about equal to that amount. Inability to collect his debts and meet his obligations caused the failure. All the home creditors are preferred, while Mr. Hayes waives the homestead exemption. Mr. Heriot Clarkson is the trustee.

Personal Notes.
Hon. R. H. M. Davidson, member of Congress from Florida, arrived in the city from Washington today, and is the guest of Mr. A. B. Davidson.

Capt. A. J. Beall has returned from a business trip to Atlanta. Duncan Osborne, a well known young man of this city has accepted a position in Charleston, S. C. Rev. E. A. Osborne returned to the city today.

The Y. M. C. A. Convention.
At the boys' meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, in the First Presbyterian church in Wilmington yesterday, talks were made by Messrs. Chas. W. Tillett and W. C. Dowd, of Charlotte. During Saturday's proceedings, "Association Finances, Best Way of Securing Them," was discussed by Capt. A. G. Brazier, of Charlotte. His remarks were forcible, and the methods he advised for raising funds were practical and common-sensical. The Charlotte delegates are all expected home this evening.

Messiah.
There will be a regular communication of Phalanx Lodge, No. 31, A. F. & A. M., at the Masonic Temple this evening at 7:30. From the mysterious movements of certain members of the fraternity, and especially of one who is recognized as the leading center of the city, and the various packages seen going into the Temple today, it is supposed that the mystic brotherhood are preparing for something out of the usual order of things for to-night. One who knows says that the goat is being put in trial for action, and will be brought out to-night for exercise. There is evidently fun aimed for the initiated. They extend a fraternal invitation to all Masons in the city to be present.

ADVERTISING CHARLOTTE.

The Good Policy Adopted by Our Business Men to Let Our Light Shine.

Last week's meeting of the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce has had one good result. The town has been well advertised abroad. A sample of how this has been done is to be seen in the following dispatch from Charlotte, which appeared in Saturday's New York Herald, under date of Charlotte, March 22: "A very large and enthusiastic meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of this city was held last night to consider the best means for promoting the growth and prosperity of the city. The meeting was addressed by prominent business men, and also by Mr. C. B. Lewis, of the Detroit Free Press, and a movement was inaugurated to secure the location of factories of all kinds. During the progress of the meeting a number of building sites were placed at the disposal of the Chamber of Commerce, to be donated to manufacturers who will settle here permanently. Subscriptions in money were also made to create a fund to aid in the establishment of industrial enterprises. The movement will be vigorously pushed, and every possible effort will be made to induce capitalists and investors from every quarter of the country to become permanent residents of this section."

Getting Old, but Still Good.

The Wilmington Star, on last Saturday, was 21 1/2 years old. The Star makes mention of this fact in a casual way, in a modest manner. It says: "It does not pretend to be the best or livest or ablest paper in the State or in the South. It does claim to be faithful and honest and pure. It has hosts of friends whereof it is 'mighty glad.' The Star is strictly and always North Carolinian and it hopes to continue to merit public confidence."

We have read the Star for the past fourteen years, and we have never known the time in all that period when it was a better paper than it is today. The death of Mr. Joel Muse, the city editor, several years ago, was a serious loss to the Star, but Mr. Bernard displayed good judgment in selecting a man to fill his place; and to fill the place of Joel Muse was no easy matter. Mr. Kingsbury seems to improve as the days go rolling by, and his pen is nimble, bright and ever alert. The Star takes full telegraphic reports and prints them all. It is, indeed, a representative Southern daily, an honor to North Carolina, and a paper that would do credit to many a city much larger than Wilmington.

Moving a Telegraph Office.

Sunday is the only known dull day on the railroad telegraph wires, and this fact was taken advantage of yesterday to move the wires and instruments of the railroad company into the new Trade street passenger station. The wires and the eight instruments, single, complex and duplex, were moved into the new building, and the tickers were set going by dark. The new office is fitted with a self-regulating clock of the Gardner system, observatory time. It is a handsome and expensive clock, and is connected with Washington by wire. Every day at noon, when the hall drops at Washington, the clock's hands are bound to come to exactly 12 o'clock.

Evangelist Pearson.

Rev. R. G. Pearson, the evangelist, has been greeted by large crowds in Columbia, but we see it stated that up to last Thursday night there had been but three conversions, though the number is doubtless increased by this time. Mr. Pearson is shortly to commence a meeting in Fayetteville, and the Richmond and Danville will sell reduced rate tickets. The tickets will be on sale April 26, 27, May 3 and 4, 10 and 11 and 17 and 18. The rate from Raleigh to Fayetteville and return will be $5.10, and from all other points in the same proportion. Passengers leaving Raleigh at 1 p. m., arrive in Fayetteville at 10 p. m. Tickets good returning until Monday following the day of sale.

GOV. JARVIS' COUNTRY.

A Missionary Tells About Life in Brazil—Three Lectures in One Day.

The missionary lectures of Rev. Edward P. Lane, Presbyterian missionary to Brazil, were special features among the Presbyterians of the city yesterday. Mr. Lane delivered three lectures, one in the forenoon at the First Presbyterian church; one in the afternoon at the same church, and one at night at the Second Presbyterian church. The afternoon lecture was designed mainly for children, but it was attended by a large crowd of adults, so deeply entertained were all by the missionary's morning lecture. Mr. Lane is a pleasant speaker, and has the faculty of presenting his points in a most entertaining manner. His discourses are something out of the usual order of missionary lectures, and are not only entertaining but instructive. The lecture at night was over an hour in length, yet every one listened with the deepest interest and attention, and were sorry when it closed. Mr. Lane's description of life in Brazil, and the habits and customs of the people, were very vivid. A considerable part of his discourse was devoted to a description of the oppression by the Roman Catholics in that country.

The Electric Burglar Alarm.

It would be a good idea for the Charlotte Telephone Exchange to enlarge its field of usefulness and add the electric burglar alarm to its business. A sufficient number of subscribers could be secured in Charlotte to make it pay. The burglar alarm is worked in connection with the telephone exchange, and is thus described: In the exchange is placed a large walnut case into which very sensitive galvanometers are connected by wire to the subscribers' buildings. There the wire runs through contact springs at each door or window, as well as passing through the frame and lining of the vaults and safes. Should a window or door be opened, or the frame or lining of the vaults and safes be tampered with, the galvanometers referred to above are deflected. In the case of a broken wire the deflection is to the left, and if the wire is grounded the deflection is to the right; in both cases a large gong is sounded, and the alarm is continued until the cause is removed. The burglar does not know that he has caused the above alarm, as no bell is rung or any other noise made on the premises, and it is an easy matter for the policeman, who have been communicated with by the telephone, to repair to the spot indicated and nab the burglar. A record is kept at the exchange of all entrances made into the building at night or on Sundays, and a copy of this record is handed to the proprietor each week. This enables him to know at what hour his store is opened in the morning and closed at night. Also how often and at what hour it is entered by his clerks at night or on Sundays, and by whom. With this information he is able to control all ingress to the building, as it gives him an oversight he can have in no other way except by his personal presence.

Battered Homes.

Joseph Arndt, the two year old son of Mr. Rudolph Arndt, died at 3 o'clock Sunday morning, from an attack of whooping cough. The funeral services were conducted from the residence, by Rev. T. S. Brown, at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Reuben Jones, the little child of Mr. W. E. Calpeper, died this morning. The funeral services will take place from the Tryon street Baptist church at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon.

An Old Landmark Gone.

The celebrated old "round house," on South Tryon street, that has for years past attracted the attention of people going to and from the fair grounds, is a thing of the past. It has been torn down to make room for two new city residences to be built by Capt. R. P. Waring, who owns the property.
