The Cocaine Evil.
 Carolina Spartan.
 Health Inspector Cofield brought the sale of cocaine before the medical association last week. He exhibited prescriptions given by Dr. Orr to county convicts and filled at the Maddox drug store. The association did not consider that the law was violated, but suggested that the whole subject was worthy of investigation in the future.
 If cocaine was the only mind and will-destroying drug on the market it would be easy to deal with it. But we have morphine, a variety of headache cures and these get-well-quick remedies in every drug store. They are of such a nature that the occasional administration by the physician begets a habit which soon becomes an incurable vice. There is not one of these terrible drugs that wreck body and mind but what are prescribed by physicians. The ever ready hypodermic syringe has wrought evils that are far in excess of the benefits bestowed. The physicians, the custodians of the health of the people, should do all they could to exterminate the drug dope habit even if they have to burn their hypodermic syringes and give up the use of death producing drugs.

Doing Business Again.
 "When my friends thought I was about to take leave of this world, on account of indigestion, nervousness and general debility," writes A. A. Chisholm, Treadwell, N. Y., "and when it looked as if there was no hope left, I was persuaded to try Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say that they are curing me. I am now doing business again as of old, and am still gaining daily." Best tonic medicine on earth. Guaranteed by J. E. Shell, druggist. 50c.

Ruling Sustained.
 Asheville, N. C., Oct. 10.—In the United States court here today Judge Pritchard rendered his decision sustaining the ruling of Standingmaster Montgomery, in refusing to allow the state's attorneys in the railway rate case hearing to investigate the books of the Southern railway prior to June 30, 1905.
 The court says that the exceptions to the ruling of the standingmaster are without merit and are therefore overruled. The appeal of the defendants was argued last Saturday by counsel and since then Judge Pritchard has had the matter under consideration.
 The state counsel wished to investigate the railway books for many years back and insisted that past records are necessary for establishing the state's claims. The railway objects to this contention upon the ground that delving into old records is unnecessary and expensive and a loss of time, claiming that a speedy settlement of the matter is important as the railroad is losing a large sum of money on account of the railroad rates.

Men's Thank Offering $1,000,000.
 Raleigh Evening Times.
 Richmond, Va., Oct. 9.—One of the largest collections ever taken up was gathered in the men's thank offering service in Holy Trinity Church at 8 o'clock this morning when a great corporate communion of the men attending the Episcopal general convention was held. The offering totals up, it is said on good authority, about one million dollars and huge basins of gold were necessary to hold the bunches of bank notes, banks of gold, tied many of them in the American colors or in streaming purple ribbons. The collection was taken in utter silence, therefore was all the more impressive. Private detectives and policemen were scattered through the church to guard the treasure. Seventy-seven dioceses contributed.
 The offertory thanksgiving song after this largest single offering in the history of Christendom was a mighty shout of triumph.
 The occasion of the offering is 300th anniversary of the American church and it was decided that the churchmen of America should thus express their thanksgiving for three centuries of primitive Christianity on this continent.
 A preliminary condition was that the offering should be over and above the usual contributions of the church, a special effort, in no way to interfere with apportionment to each church from the head of missions or with parochial expenses of each congregation.

Thomas A. Edison, the great American inventor, says "Fully eighty per cent. of the illness of mankind comes from eating improper food or too much food; people are inclined to over-indulge themselves." This is where indigestion finds its beginning in nearly every case. The stomach can do just so much work and no more, and when you overload it or when you eat the wrong kind of food the digestive organs cannot do the work demanded of them. It is at such times that the stomach needs help, it demands help, and warns you by headaches, belching, sour stomach, nausea and indigestion. You should attend to this at once by taking something that will actually do the work for the stomach. Koloid will do this. It is a combination of natural digestants and vegetable acids and contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. It is pleasant to take. It digests what you eat. Sold by J. E. Shell, Dr. Kent and Granite Falls Drug Company.

The Path of Progress.
 Ohio State Journal.
 There is no good reason, if human life cannot get up on a level of the beatitudes, that it should not try to get as near as it can. There is no good reason why, if business cannot be done on the square and the golden rule govern it completely, that it should not get as close under these influences as possible. There is no good reason, if politics cannot be absolutely pure and unselfish and upright, that it should not hope to reach as close as may be to those whole some conditions. It often happens when one contends for higher ideas in the rule of social and political life that he is told it is no use trying to establish a millennium this year, that the world is not ready for it, and such bosh, as it is liable to stagger weak heads and make them let go of high aims. Nobody is expecting a millennium now. No one is counting on a sinless world during the present centuries. But the fighting for one that is to come a few thousand years from now is making this age better, and is making manlier and truer the life of the man who is engaged in the conflict. Indifference to this fact is next door to a crime. These men, who go along catering to downward tendencies and compromising manly effort with selfish purpose, pile up evil by creating despair. Men should see a higher purpose in their lives than such experience implies. "To every haven of desire each yearning opens a portal," sang Gerald Massey. It is so. The path of progress leads in that direction, and in no other.

Tramps.
 Pittsburg Dispatch.
 In dealing with the vicious class, the tramps proper, the roads are equally serviceable. There should be no option here. Every trespasser on a freight train should be sentenced to work on the roads in the locality where captured. Every vagrant caught loitering anywhere should be sentenced in like manner and compelled to do honest labor for the benefit of society, being given in return food, lodging and a small compensation. No tender sentimentality should be permitted to intervene to prevent these sentences being exemplary. If an occasional prodigal son should be caught no harm will be done. He might as well eat the husks with the vagrant swine as with any other. In truth, the tramps are a menace to every honest man and woman. Floating about irresponsibly, they prey upon society at will. They degenerate from mere idle vagabonds to ordinary thieves and malefactors. Their numbers serve to conceal the movements of fugitives from justice who mingle with the derelict mass. It is, indeed, time that vigorous measures should be adopted to cope with this growing evil.
