

Evelyn Thaw is to Marry Again.

Raleigh Evening Times.
New York, March 12.—It was reported today on seemingly good authority that as soon as Evelyn Neibit Thaw succeeds in securing her freedom from Harry K. Thaw, she will immediately marry again and go west to spend the remainder of her days.

The successful suitor for her hand is said to be a wealthy western professional man.

When Daniel O'Reilly, of her counsel, was asked regarding the rumor, he said:

I have heard nothing of it. Of course she is young and has a great deal to look forward to."

The young millionaire's lawyers met today to frame an answer to his wife's suit. At the same time subpoena servers went to Mat-tawan with two copies of the complaint in the action—one to be served on the defendant and the other on the superintendent of the asylum.

Evelyn's admission that she has grounds for the annulment other than insanity at the time of her marriage, has added mystery as well as interest to the case.

Hints were dropped by those interested in the welfare of the young woman which pointed to discoveries she had made after her husband had been locked up in prison.

Be careful about that little cough. Get something right away; some good, reliable remedy that will move the bowels. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts gently yet promptly on the bowels and allays inflammation at the same time. It is pleasant to take and it is especially recommended for children, as it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. Sold by J. E. Shell, Dr. Kent and Granite Falls Drug Co.

It Does The Business.

Mr. E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Maine, says of Bucklen's Arnica Salve: "It does the business; I have used it for piles and it cured them. Used it for chapped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore and it healed it without leaving a scar behind." 25c. at J. E. Shell's drug store.

Plowed Up Snakes.

Wilkesboro Chronicle.

The groundhog will go out of business now; uncle Sog Hampton, colored, has been finding snakes, real live ones. Last Wednesday while plowing for Esq. Jim Forester he plowed up two big adders. Mr. Forester was in the field at the time, and when the first snake was plowed out, Sog stood his ground very well till Forester killed it. The next round about the same place out popped another big adder. This was too much for Sog, and he called on his legs for protection. Mr. Forester called to him to stop, but Sog answered, "Boss, dat snake done spread over de hole hill and am now swallowin' de mules; and dis nigga haint no Joner to be swallowid by dat varmint. Dis nigga done gone off right now, boss." It was some little time before Sog could be induced to proceed with the plowing.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson XII.—First Quarter, For March 22, 1908.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, a Comprehensive Quarterly Review—Golden Text, John 1-4—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1907, by American Press Association.]
LESSON I.—The Word made flesh (John 1, 1-18). Golden Text, John 1, 14. "The Word was made flesh and dwelt among us." The Golden Text for the quarter suggests a summary of all the lessons and also of the whole gospel, life in Christ and no life apart from Him. The Creator of all things became one of us, a son of man, equal with man, sin excepted, that we sinful sons of men might receive Him and thus become sons of God. In Him was the truth concerning what God wants us to be and also the grace to make us such.

LESSON II.—Jesus and John the Baptist (John 1, 19-34). Golden Text, John 1, 29. "Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world!" We are as utterly unable to become anything but sinful sons of men, as was Adam and Eve, after they sinned, to return to God and to holiness, but by the shedding of blood the Lord redeemed them; by the blood of the Pass-over lamb He saved Israel, and only by the blood of Jesus Christ, the Lamb of God, can our sins be put away and we become sons of God.

LESSON III.—Jesus and His first disciples (John 1, 35-51). Golden Text, John 1, 45. "We have found Him of whom Moses in the law and the prophets wrote, Jesus of Nazareth." When we become sons of God it is that we may walk as such, ever beholding Him the Lamb of God in the midst of the throne. When we truly see Him we cannot refrain from bringing others to Him, that they also may know Him and follow Him.

LESSON IV.—Jesus cleanses the temple (John 8, 13-22). Golden Text, Ps. xlii, 5. "Holiness becometh thine house, O Lord, forever." He does not ask us to follow Him here, in lowliness and suffering, without pointing us to the kingdom, the resurrection, the marriage of the Lamb (1, 51; 2, 1-11, 19-21), for He would have us clean and holy, and nothing purifies and weans from present things like that blessed assurance, "We shall be like Him (1 John 3, 1-3).

LESSON V.—Jesus the Saviour of the world (John 3, 1-21). Golden Text, John 3, 16. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son." However good a man may be religiously or morally, he cannot enter nor even see the kingdom of God unless he has seen Jesus lifted upon the cross for him, his substitute, his sin bearer, and thus been born from above by the spirit and the word of God.

LESSON VI.—Jesus and the woman of Samaria (John 4, 1-42). Golden Text, John 4, 37. "If any man thirst, let him come unto me and drink." No sinner is too vile to be born again and thus enter this kingdom; even such as the woman of Samaria may come. Note how great sinners were some of the Corinthians who came and were by the blood of the Lamb washed and sanctified and justified (1 Cor. vi, 9-11).

LESSON VII.—Jesus heals the nobleman's son (John 4, 43-54). Golden Text, John 4, 50. "The man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way." The bodies as well as the souls of believers shall in due time know the power of the Lamb of God at the resurrection of the just. But even now in these mortal bodies many are seeing forestastes of resurrection life. It all comes according to John 11, 40; Rom. xv, 13.

LESSON VIII.—Jesus at the pool of Bethesda (John 5, 1-18). Golden Text, Matt. viii, 17. "Himself took our infirmities and bare our sicknesses." The last lesson was a case of sickness apparently unto death. This is one of prolonged infirmity, with no hope of deliverance and seemingly no approaching deliverance by death. The only hope seemed to be in the pool, but that was an impossibility to this man. The Hope of Israel, the Fountain of Life, drew near, and in a moment by a word the man is whole (Jer. 31, 13; xiv, 8).

LESSON IX.—Jesus feeds the five thousand (John 6, 1-21). Golden Text, Isa. xl, 11. "He shall feed His flock like a shepherd." The seemingly impossible is all easy to Him who created heaven and earth, and when we know Him we neither fear mountains of difficulty nor despise small things, nor do we make suggestions as to how things may possibly be accomplished. Rather do we say, "We have no might, neither know we what to do, but our eyes are unto Thee" (1 Chron. xx, 12).

LESSON X.—Jesus, the Bread of Life (John 6, 22-51). Golden Text, John 6, 25. "Jesus said unto them, I am the Bread of Life." He is bread from heaven and water clear as crystal and pure milk and strong meat and honey from the rock and wine of the kingdom. He so satisfies that once we have tasted we want no other. The Father who sent Him was all to Him, and He who sends us desires to be all to us (vi, 57).

LESSON XI.—Jesus heals a man born blind (John 9, 1-12). Golden Text, John 9, 5. "I am the Light of the World." Consider the four great words, life, light, love and believe, and that by the last one Jesus becomes the other three to us. We are all born blind to the things of God, and it is the devil's work to keep us so, but the entrance of His word giveth light; in His light we see light, and then He uses us to enlighten others.

This is what Hon. Jake Moore, State Warden of Georgia, says of Kodol For Dyspepsia: "E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Dear Sirs—I have suffered more than twenty years from indigestion. About eighteen months ago I had grown so much worse that I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not retain anything on my stomach. I lost 25 lbs.; in fact I made up my mind that I could not live but a short time, when a friend of mine recommended Kodol. I consented to try it to please him and I was better in one day. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than for many years. Kodol did it. I keep a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity will be benefited. Yours very truly, Jake C. Moore, Atlanta, Aug. 10, 1904." Sold by J. E. Shell, Dr. Kent and Granite Falls Drug Co.
