Burt-Stine.

(The Meridional Abbeville, La.)

One of the prettiest and most orderly ceremonies ever witnessed at Henry, was that which took place here in the Methodist church last Wednesday evening, the 11th, at 8:30 o'clock when Miss Nellie Burt, daughter of C. M. Burt, a prominent farmer of this place, was given in marriage to Mr. Laurence F. Stine, of Lenoir, N. C.

Virgil Moss and Milton Henry and the bridesmaids, Misses Josephine and Lorena Burt. After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's parents where refreshments were served, then Mr. and Mrs. Stine with Mr. Heffner left by auto, for New Iberia and thence to New Orleans. BETTER TIMES.

From all sources come assurances and evidences of better times. It seems to be not only "in the air" but to have permeated the factories and shops, the stores and offices, and the promise is for bumper crops the country over. If your business is more profitable, if your income is larger, don't let your ideas run to extravagance. Learn the lesson the recent past should teach. SAVE a large share of your earnings and accumulate it with this strong Bank and then see if you don't congratulate yourself when the next period of "hard times" comes along.

Accounts invited and information cheerfully furnished.
