FRIDAY, MAY 29, 1914.

If dreamcatchers are built much larger, not only will the Panama Canal have to be widened out, but the oceans will have to be deepened.

Old Roosevelt does not tell us whether or not he fanned the savage tribe he discovered, but he probably did.

Some people without a conscience will work the sponging game to death, although they pray it may never die.

A hard, warm rain would certainly be welcomed by the farmer at this time.

Wanted: walking appears to have gained Woodrow Wilson his base on hills.

Anyway the moving habit makes the simple life, which is usually worth while.

At least some time Huerta has no need that salute for Admiral Mayo.

When are we going to have that leaning up? week? It is high time.

It would be helpful if the administration would also put an embargo on false reports to and from Mexico.

One big difference between Huerta and some other people is that he does his drinking in public.

Lace may be blind, but it can make an actress seem a lot of beauty that doesn't exist.

Is Argentina going to run this country? First she gave us the tango, then began selling us beef and now she is trying to force us to Huerta.

Thursday leaders say that if voters have no choice they will send a regiment. They evidently heard that the letting is good.

A good many of us will wait a while and go to war at the "Movies." It's so much more comfortable, to say nothing of the safety.

No doubt, the next time the London militants try to reach King George with a petition they'll throw it at the chauffeur.

A Maryland church is hoping to build a house of worship with bricks sent by parcel post. The postal department has a lot to put up with.

Why can't our citizens meet with the Board of Aldermen in a call meeting and start some movement for the swimming pool and play grounds for the children? What are we waiting for?

Most of us want to spank the man who marches in a suffragist parade.

Why did the Nobel crowd ever start awarding peace prizes, anyway?

Huerta wears glasses, and reports say that he also empties them.

A woman's ideas of keeping a secret is to keep it going.

The dove of peace had better go armed these days.

MEXICAN SITUATION IS NEAR VOUS.

The public is now in such a state of mind, that it is not surprised at anything that happens in Mexico. One thing is certain, that is that Huerta will not be the ruler of Mexico for many more days. Huerta has been sustained and supported largely by the Roman Catholic Church and as General Villa has indicated that he expects to hang every Catholic Priest and Bishop that is left when he takes the city of Mexico, and it appears that Villa will be able to capture Mexico City in a short time, it will be seen that Huerta and his Catholic Machine are in a desperate situation. The threat of the part of General Villa against the Catholic dignitaries is reported in the dispatches as being based on the fact that the Catholic church has furnished many millions of dollars to the Huerta Government. This is probably true, but General Villa realizes that the Catholic priests and bishops in Mexico have designedly kept the working classes in ignorance and poverty so that the few could own the many as helpless slaves. All the revolutionists are particularly bitter against the priests and Bishops, very much like the French peasants were when they brought on the great French revolution of 1789 in which they hung a priest on one side of a lamp post and a feudal or nobleman on the other side, holding both equal responsible for the poverty and misery existing at that time in France. Mexico is much like France in 1789 suffering from the same identical causes, the corruption and rottenness of the church and state.

As it looks now, Greenville will be right on doing nothing in the matter of providing a place for the residence of the municipality and recreation of children. At any rate no one seems to be moving in that direction just a case of continued neglect or which another tragedy may some day befall them.

MORE DRINKING FOUNTAINS NEEDED

Something that has caused a great deal of comment of late from people of Greenville, and the county districts as well, is the need of drinking fountains on the streets for the benefit of those coming to town from the rural districts. To provide these would be a great convenience to the public generally. At present there is only one such place in the town and that on the corner of the court house square. While we have many industries here to attract the country people, there are numerous improvements that could be made, and drinking fountains for man and beast are among the principal roads that should be added at this time.

As we well know, the main support of all comes the size of Greenville is the country people, and it is our duty as well as conducive to our benefit to make such improvements that will appeal to them.

We hope the city fathers will grasp this opportunity to add this particular thing to the conveniences of our country friends that have and wish to continue to make Greenville their hopping headquarters.

PROGRAM IN CONGRESS

President Wilson and the Democratic leaders in Congress have finally reached an agreement as regards the program of legislation at this session of Congress. It is now agreed that as soon as a bill repealing the free tolls becomes a law, Congress is then to pass the administration anti trust bills and the usual appropriations and then go home and repair their political fences. President Wilson was particularly anxious that a bill should be passed establishing banks of farm credits. It is realized by all that the prolonged debate on the Panama Canal tolls and the unforeseen developments in the Mexican situation have rendered it impossible for Congress to carry out the full desire of the President. However, the farm credit or rural credit bill will have the right of way when Congress meets next December. It is even argued by some that it is better that the program should run this way and that the rural credit banks should follow the establishment of the new currency system of regional banks now being established so that the rural credit banks can be made to fit into and harmonize with the regional banks.

We received through the mails yesterday an item for publication accompanied with $1.00. There is no name signed to the article consequently we cannot use it. It is not necessary that the name or names of any person or parties be signed in the paper, but following the rules of all newspapers the editor has to know the author of all articles of a like nature to the one received.

The series of the Home Building and Loan Association has passed the thousand shares mark and people are yet taking shares in it. So far only one series has shown a larger number of shares than this. It is the best indication of the prosperity of the association and the great good it is accomplishing for the community.

Old Sol is certainly putting forth his rays today.

Attend the ward primaries Friday night and elect your man, but be sure he is a good one.

Beware, girls, a young lady in Hills was recently killed yesterday while resisting a kiss from her sweet heart.

New Barn starts her Home Coming Celebration today, and Saturday the great commander, William Jennings Bryan will be their guest.

As the old adage reads "The sure way to get right, then go ahead." That is what we should do before any selection is made for aldermen for the district wards of the city.

Zanata she is a not a hand, it appears from the account of those 21 years ago the whole bunch of them are still worse than that, probably hand translated in Mexican language to a comical person.

One day reports from the mediating conference looks hopeful for peace, then probably the following day it appears different. It is doubtful if the mediators know what they are doing themselves.

Some of our merchants are advising mail boxes. Be sure you get yours immediately, or we may miss our free delivery of mails, because the government will not make another movement for its establishment until they are notified by the local postmaster that you are ready to be served.

What are the citizens of Greenville waiting for? Not even a whisper of the swimming pool and play grounds, or as much as the removing of a xylophone sign for clearing up work. Don't let us wait until an occurrence takes place similar to that of two weeks ago, or probably one third of our population is wiped out with typhoid fever or some other dreadfully deadly.

We should piece out the fire hose or extend the water system. While the citizens on the edge of the corporate limits are contributing their portion to the upkeep of the town they have no protection in time of fire. The blaze in the southern part of the city yesterday that wiped out the four buildings may be a warning.

If we remember correctly it will only be a short while now before that new fire alarm system will be installed.

Put on your thinking cap. Next Friday night is the time when the ward primaries will be held to select aldermen for the election on the first Monday in June. Now that you have the day on, keep it on until after the primaries. While our present Board have served us well in many respects, there is room for improvement.

"Sparrows attend church" reads a headline in an exchange. This proves that the birds of the air are looking for the best things of this life which could be a lesson to many that are too busy with the things of this world to ever stop to consider eternity.

When it comes to a contest between the I. W. W. and John Rockefeller, which side are we good people on? Now is the time for Villa to employ an expert Biographer.

The Rambler

...and their being more in our way of looking at things than in usual ways. Several members of a certain family found it extremely hard to get a breakfast early enough to have family prayers over the breakfast was over, being separating for the day, the morning the head of the house quietly set the clock two or three minutes fast and called the others at what seemed to be the accustomed hour. They were again and fifteen minutes or so later in dressing for breakfast than they needed to be, but all were quite surprised to find after breakfast was over they still had time for prayers when the clocks were found, and nobody was a bit worse for it. It had proved just as easy for them to be on time when they did not know it, as to be late the only difference was in their way of looking at the thing. We cannot fool ourselves into duty, doing as they were fooled into it, but we can sensibly recognize that the chief difficulty in duty doing is our own imagining and then go ahead and do what we ought to do. We are likely to find our hardships as unexpectedly easy as did the late fliers.

The eye turned inward upon self is often the reason for that unrestful spirit in which too many spend their lives. We want more larger things to look upon than self can give. The search for mere endowment of our lives with gifts can never long content us. The world is a smaller thing than the heart of God's child. Whatever we seek whether it be wealth or power or pleasure, or even the thoughts and affections of the heart we come soon to the limits of content. The child of God can only find rest in the heart of God. All literature is full of heart monies to this inadequacy of earth to satisfy a human soul and put to sleep its longings. Such a poem as Tennyson's "Palace of Arts" takes for the theme the efforts to find satisfaction in the highest beauties and gifts in the creative imagination. The treasures are collected but the dissatisfaction is not stilled. The so-called heart is not at rest. It must turn to God as instruments of help for others to find it can enjoy what man or God has made in fullest measure.

To stretch my hand and touch him, Though he be far away,
To raise my eyes and see him,
Through darkness and through day,
To lift my voice and call him,
This is to pray,
To feel a hand extended,
By one who standeth near,
To view the love that shineth,
In eyes serene and clear,
To know that he is calling,
That is to hear.

The grace enfolds all because it takes account of each, whilst it is love for a sinful world, every soul of us may say, "He loves me, and therefore gave himself for me."

I spoke a kind word almost thoughtlessly and a long time afterwards one thanked me for it with tears in his eyes. Then I thought since kindness costs so little and helps so much, why am I not always kind?

God will dwell in your heart and where he reigns all is peace. But if you should fail and commit some of your old faults do not be disheartened but rise up and go on again as though you had not fallen.

Nothing tells for good like truth that has lived.

Too many people are always ready to sell their souls to the devil for spot cash.

The more love we have in our hearts the more good we shall be able to see in the world.

The man who does better work to day than he did yesterday will do still better tomorrow.

The man who cannot learn to say "No" will some day be unable to say "Yes."

Every ounce of effort we put into our religion comes back to us, sooner or later in power.

There was never a job so small that the right kind of a man couldn't make it a stepping stone to a better one.

Life is not long,
Joy hath an ending ever,
Brief is the sweetest song;
But love flows on forever,
Till its clear waters join the mystic sea,
Unfathomed, boundless of Eternity.

Here's hoping the mediators can settle the Mexican trouble.

General Coxey has talked, but that was all there was to it.

Spring is too much in earnest to become discouraged.

Colorado's shameful war is enough to make Pikes Peak blush.

Somehow, it seems as though the mediation class had got as far as "A

WINTERVILLE, May 29.—Miss Blanche Cox, who has been attending Meredith College, returned home Friday.

These days are long, hot and dry, and to have something at all times, see A. W. Ange and Co., for one of these handsome water coolers. Then you can drink when you get thirsty.

Mr. Fountain W. Carroll and sister Mrs. R. M. Squires of Wake Forest arrived here Saturday evening.

Mr. Carroll is a student of Wake Forest College and will spend the summer at his home here. Mrs. Squires will spend a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Carroll.

After working these long days you need, not rest. See Harrington Barber and Co., for one of those nice ten mattresses. After spending the night on one of them your tired feeling is all gone.

If you want comfort, service and for the Hunt Club shoe. It is so good to home.

Mr. Hubert Worthington, who has been at school at the University of North Carolina is at home for the summer.

It don't make any difference who you are or where you are going, the railroad company will have no more in your baggage; so you better get a trunk or a suit case that will stand to be thrown around. A. W. Ange and Co., have them and the best is always the cheapest.

For sale! two nice pair of mules. O. K. Lumber and Manufacturing Company.

Mrs. Heber Stokes and two little daughters, Clyde and Alice, of Stokes, are visiting Mrs. R. G. Chapman.

For your summer pants see Harrington, Barber and Co.

If it is a real bargain in a shirt that you want go to B. D. Forrest and Company.

Wednesday morning two colored preachers, Ben May and Geo. Brown, got in a dispute over an oil cup on the engine at Mr. William May's saw mill near here. May asked Brown to wait until he could get his gun, which he did, then Brown started at May with an axe. May then fired at Brown hitting him in the shoulder. This did not turn the angry man so he fired the second time hitting Brown on the jaw, this was too much for Brown so he stopped. May was arrested before Magistrate R. Crook, found guilty and placed under a $100 bond for his appearance at court.

Last Friday night was Woodmen's night here. They had a fine bunch of candidates to initiate and District Manager S. O. Bryant of Norfolk was here to help do the work and to instruct them in the mysteries of the fraternity. The local camp was honored with the presence of a number of visiting Sovereigns. After the session of the camp had closed, all were escorted down to the cream parlor of J. R. Cox where refreshments were served.

Words of Praise For May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy

"How thankful we are to you for getting a hold of your Wonderful Stomach Remedy. My wife could not have had but short time to live if she had not taken your Wonderful Remedy when she shed. One more of those paroxysms pains she was having would have killed her without a doubt. Now she is free from all pain. Free from heart trouble and free from that disturbing Neuralgia—all the results of five treatments—and she has forgotten the usual symptoms of Stomach Remedy. I would order death for so doing and could not see at all how she could have done it. I will all night long. T. A. Neill, Roanoke, Texas."

The above letter should convince you more than anything we could say in behalf of May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. Sufferers should know that they can be restored to health. May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is caused by the presence of the intestinal tract with mucous and watery secretions allowing poisonous fluids to enter the stomach and otherwise deranging the digestive system. May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy promptly and completely removes these secretions without a surgical operation and puts an end to all the usual symptoms of Stomach Remedy and Intestinal Ailments. Ask your druggist for May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy or send to Geo. H. May, Mfg. Chemist, 1161 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free booklet on Stomach Ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored.
