LANIER TWIRLS PRETTY GAME TO AULANDER

Then Loses by Fumbling Two Bunts in the Ninth

LOCALS HIT FITZGERALD

Greenville Boys Make Several Rank Errors, While Aulander Pitcher Receives Excellent Support From Teammates.

It is sad indeed that we are called upon to make the announcement that Greenville lost again, but that is what we are forced to do. And the worst part of it is, that this is about the fourth successive time we have had to tell such. But with all that we made it interesting for Aulander from the beginning until the final tally was made, which totalled up the visitors four while we were forced to be satisfied with three.

Conrad Lanier, the sphere handler for the locals pitched one of the best games of his career, in fact twirled winning ball through out the nine innings, and still he has no one to blame for his defeat but himself. In the ninth the score standing three and three he fumbled two bunts in succession that was laid down in the pitchers path. This of course helped fill the bases, this was followed by one of the best hitters who smacked a safe one through second, bringing in a runner and ending the game. With all this he pulled himself out of some bad holes, and in the fifth inning with one man down and the bases full he fanned the next two batsmen.

Fitzgerald for Aulander received some pretty hard knocks and especially in the fourth and sixth, but he too worked himself out of some bad places when things looked critical for Aulander.

Time of game 1 hour and fifty minutes. Umpire Smith.

Following is how it was done by innings:

EXAMINATION OF TEACHERS IN THE COURTHOUSE WILL BE HELD JULY 9 AND 10TH.

Applicants for certificates to teach in the public schools of Pitt County will be examined according to law on the second Thursday and Friday in July, at the courthouse. It is expected however, that only a very few take this examination, as there will be another examination before the close of the summer session of the East Carolina Teachers' Training School, and still another in October. The July examination is to be given simply to comply with the law, and to afford an opportunity for those who have previously made their plans to take the examination at this time.

The County Board of Education will meet in regular session at ten o'clock on Monday, July 6, in the office of the Board.

SECRETARY DANIELS POINTS OUT ECONOMY IN THE NAVY

WASHINGTON, June 30.—President Wilson's signature to the naval appropriation bill today authorized the construction of two superdreadnaughts and fourteen auxiliary war vessels and the building of a third huge battleship with the proceeds from the sale of the Idaho and Mississippi.

Secretary Daniels tonight pointed out that the bill carried half a million dollars less than last year's appropriation, said retrenchments had been accomplished "through economies and instances of competition."

The 1913 building program consisted of only one superdreadnaught, six destroyers, four submarines, one transport and one supply ship.

"The navy is a straggling institution and strict adherence to the principle that expenditures ashore should be subordinated to expenditures afloat has given us these advantages in new building," said Secretary Daniels. "Yet while the fleet is greatly strengthened generous provision is made for expenditures ashore that are urgently required for efficiency and economy."

Dr. Fitts, the Osteopath will be at the Hotel Bertha, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday morning from $30 to $20.

Mediators Takes Recess For An Indefinite Time

Banking Hours Next Saturday

For Meeting of Huerta and Constitutionalists Representatives

TO DISCUSS MEXICAN AFFAIRS

Carranza Agents Told to Picture The Possibility Which Might Follow Intervention in Mexico By United States.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—With the Niagara Falls mediation conference on the eve of a recess pending a proposed meeting of representatives of General Huerta and the Constitutionalists to discuss Mexican international affairs, General V. Carranza, first chief of the Constitutionalists, tonight telegraphed his Washington agents that he had not heard from his associate leaders with regards to participation in such a conference.

Carranza's representatives who earlier in the day had expected that some definite reply might be received by night, announced later that night would be served until tomorrow at the earliest. The usual belief here was that it would be some time before any action was taken.

In the event the Constitutionalists finally refuse to negotiate with Huerta's delegates over the international affairs of Mexico, it is said a proposal between the United States and Mexico to settle international problems will be completed, but while some form of provisional government may be agreed to, it hardly could be effective so long as the internal revolution continues.

Considerable apprehension was created in official quarters over an unofficial report that general Huerta had sent two of his children toward Puerto Mexico. This led to reports that he was preparing to flee to save himself and family from falling into the hands of the Constitutionalists.

Responsibility on Carranzists

Whatever may be the present expectations of the Washington government as to the effect of recess in mediation as was assured that this government would continue efforts to influence the Constitutionalists to confer with Huerta's delegates towards reaching an understanding as to some form of provisional government. It was learned tonight that urgent arguments have been sent Carranza through his agents here setting forth the Constitutionalists' case to the state of their country.

Picture of Intervention

Carranza agents here have been told to picture the possibility which might follow intervention in Mexico by the United States. They have been reminded, it is said, of the dreams of thousands of Americans for one solid nation from the Canadian border to the Pacific Ocean and urged to appreciate how public opinion might force the American flag to wave for years at least over Mexico should it once be hoisted in the capital.

Silliman to Return.

In view of the strong influence that has been and still is being exerted to bring about peace in Mexico, there are those who believe Carranza yet will yield to a conference. But even those who believe this, dwell on the difficulty of making Mexicans admit the United States really is a factor in the internal affairs of their country.

Today starts the new municipal fiscal year.
