Some Shooting in Wilson

WILSON, July 28—Peppered with two hundred bird-shot by Swindell Bridgers, Ben Carroll, a big burly black, sits on his front porch wondering "how come and why." Sunday morning Carroll and Bridgers got into a war of words about an "oman" when Bridgers went home, took down from over the door a double-barreled-breech-loader and "set" from Carroll who, when he passed Bridgers' house was fired on by Bridgers who ran and made a clean getaway.

Sunday morning early Wm. Hines a cook on a construction train, was robbed of a graphophone and a grip full of records—all valued at $45 Paul Pryor and two colored girls are accused of the theft. Paul was bound over to Superior court for the part he took in the "musical program" while the girls got away with the booty. People who lives in the community of where Hines kept the instrument are of the opinion that instead of punishing the prisoner for the larceny of the instrument he should be rewarded for the removal of the "disturber."

Two other Sunday shootings are reported here this morning in as many "crap" games—one near Wilbanks the other near the "Coon" Farmer plantation. One of the victims is nursing his wound in a local hospital.

There was an error in the name of the suicide here last night. Instead of Joe "Dunn" was Joe Bunn. His remains were shipped to Snow Hill this afternoon.

LETTER SENT THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH FROM DR WASHBURN, HEALTH OFFICER OF NASH COUNTY:

"My anti-typhoid campaign is about to get the best of me. People are coming in from all sides, and the work has been heavy. The biggest day I have had was last week at Spring Hope. 337 were vaccinated and probably 250 more turned away because the vaccine gave out. I never had a hookworm campaign in which so much interest was shown."

Administering the vaccine is practically painless. It does not hurt nearly so much as being stuck with a needle or pin. No open or running sore results as in the case of small-pox vaccine. A slight swelling usually occurs, and some soreness and tenderness, but these begin to subside after twelve or fifteen hours and disappear in from thirty-six to forty-eight hours. Moderate headache occurs in about one person out of twenty, and in rare instances, one per cent or less, this symptom is quite severe. No serious results have ever occurred either in this state or in the hundreds of thousands of cases in the army or navy. Three applications about a week or ten days apart are necessary to produce immunity.

As to efficiency, it may be said that in the army where statistics are available anti-typhoid vaccination has reduced the typhoid case rate to less than one per cent of what it was prior to vaccination, and the typhoid death rate was entirely abolished last year.

The length of immunity conferred by the vaccine is not known, but it is thought to be at least four years. At least it is well worth one's trouble to be vaccinated when we recall that 1,200 North Carolinians died of typhoid last year and about 15,000 were sick for several weeks with heavy loss from doctors' bills and other expenses.

LAKE GENEVA, Wis., July 29—The fourth summer conference of the Laymen's Missionary Movement opened here today with every indication of eclipsing its predecessors in the size of the attendance and the prominence of the leading participants. The sessions will continue five days and will be participated in by distinguished lay and clerical leaders of numerous denominations.

SNOW HILL CITIZEN SENDS BULLET THROUGH HIS HEAD AT WILSON

WILSON, July 26—Within 15 minutes after his arrival here of six o'clock tonight Joe Dunn, a white man of Snow Hill, was a suicide in a questionable resort and no cause can be assigned for the deed.

Alighting from the train from Snow Hill, Dunn went immediately to the house of Cora Judy, a white woman of bad reputation. He was received into the house and immediately took up his position on the lid of a small trunk. He appeared in a case, nervous and excited. In a few moments he requested a room on the second floor, then he asked for a glass of water, and while she was down stairs for the water she heard a pistol shot. Another inmate of the house rushed into the room and found Dunn entirely nude, stretched out on the bed, with his hand tightly clutched a revolver lying across his chest, and a gaping bullet hole in his forehead.

Search of his clothes failed to reveal any cause of the rash act. A dozen cigarettes were found in the pockets, four revolver cartridges, seventy cents in cash, an blank check of Dixon, Hicks & Company, merchants of Snow Hill. The body was at once prepared for burial.

Editor Reflector:

I have read with interest the recent contributions to your columns telling of the fine crops certain farmers in Farmville township have this year, and also the note coming through Sheriff Dudley of the thousand acres in corn he saw near Pantego from which he thinks the yield will average fifteen barrels to the acre. Of course that is good corn, and makes glad the hearts of the farmers when they see such a harvest in prospect.

I believe in farming, and rejoice with the farmers when a bountiful yield comes to reward his labors. It is more than gratifying to contemplate the great agricultural progress Pitt County has made in the last few years. The farmers through institutes and education have been awakened more than ever before to the possibilities and opportunities of their farms, and have determined to take advantage of these opportunities. They are no longer satisfied to go on in the old way of making about five barrels of corn, or one-fourth of a bale of cotton to the acre. With the changes that have come in improved methods and machinery, more intensive cultivation, and the application of business ideas and principals in farm management, they are seeing the yield of their farms doubled time and again, and such things as crop failures are becoming unknown.

I love to read of what the farmers are doing, and wish more of them in various parts of the county would write The Reflector about their own and their neighbors crops, when they have something worth talking about. This will prove a stimulus to others to improve their farms and make better crops.

I have in mind to say something of the magnificent crops now growing on the farm of Mr. O. L. Joyner, his home place, two-and-a-half miles above Greenville. Not only are these crops admired by all of us that pass that way, but people from town drive out to look at them. Along the road are thirty acres in tobacco as fine as any one can wish to see. It will almost hide a tall man in walking through it, and will average 5 feet. It is being topped 20 to 24 leaves high, and when you consider that ordinarily 14 to 15 leaves high is a good crop, you get an idea of how fine this is.

As to other crops on this same farm Mr. Joyner has thirty acres in peanuts that are luxurious in growth, forty-five acres in corn from which he expects to gather not less than five hundred barrels, and about a hundred acres in alfalfa, crimson clover, peas, and other forage crops. He expects to cut a crop of peavine hay by the first of August and will follow it with three other cuttings ten days apart, having planted with that view. His extensive forage crops are because of his stock farm which is his chief pride. In one pasture he has a large drove of sheep, and in two others 175 head of hogs, most of them red Duroc breed, while his cattle pasture and dairy barns together contain about 75 head of fine cattle.

By a thorough system of tiling and constant improvement Mr. Joyner has brought this farm to a high state of cultivation. Just now he is installing a ram with pipe lines from a flowing spring reservoir to large tanks in the pastures to keep his stock supplied with an abundance of running water.

I regard Mr. Joyner as a model, scientific farmer who is setting a good example, and Pitt county would be much better off to have a large number like him.

Unable to Supply the Demands

The State Laboratory of Hygiene is up to its neck with orders for anti-typhoid vaccine. Everybody seems to want to be immunized against typhoid. The laboratory people haven't time just now to even count up the number of treatments sent out, but they estimate that it averages about 9,000 doses a week, or enough to immunize about 3,000 people every week. Within another week they hope to catch up with their orders, and after that they will be able to fill all requests the same day or the day after they are received.

The vaccine is sent out free of charge. The only condition being that people who want to be immunized have their family physician or health officer order the vaccine. The laboratory will not send the vaccine to a layman, because it has to be injected under the skin and the layman has no means of administering it.

While requests for vaccine pour in from every part of the State, there appears to be record breaking demands for it in counties having whole time health officers. These men are using it in hundred lots. Here is a part of
