The news to get through
And the Kaiser insists in sending his "peace" paper.

Old Jonah didn't have a thing on some of the present day simulators.

The sweetest thing to a Holston's excels a tree lunch counter.

Sam Parabee thinks Cowan never took the beam too nearly. Let Sam have it Sam. No one else would.

No. The Washington Daily News does not disturb our slumbers. Let it come on, old man.

The headlines in the Wilson Times remind us of the confused stories we used to read in the papers.

Just on the edge of the limbo we discovered the following word in the press dispatches yesterday: "Phar-salant."

Watching in the trenches may produce sport for some fellows, but it grows on the farmers to grow thick of such a thing.

We wonder sometimes that old Y. H. Brown is pretty well satisfied where he is, especially as those Mexican agents across the border are howling for his blood.

Before you some fellow will invent an instrument that will tell a man's thoughts. We hate to have that hooked on a few people we happen to know.

Editor Braxton got called over the coals by the solicitor because he (Braxton) thought the lines were a little heavy. The moral is, of course, let solicitors and their fines strictly alone.

The Henderson Gold Leaf remarks that a man in Richmond ought to be proud of anything he can get to drink. Well, wagner that the man in Henderson would be a lot prouder if they had something to drink.

Some people yell for disease prevention and yet cheer for war. means the Wilmington Dispatch, and that reminds us some people pray to die but as soon as they contract a slight headache, they send for a doctor.

What means the silence that prevails at Oyster Bay. Has the Colonel been attacked by the tse-tse fly again? Well, say, friend, did you ever hear an Oyster Bay?

Commenting on an editorial in the Reflector a few days ago wherein the people were asked to be courteous to telephone girls, the News and Observer puts the finishing touches on it by saying that it should always be before the eyes of the telephone users.

THE REPLY TO GERMANY

Work has been commenced drafting the reply to the German note received a few days ago, and in drafting the reply, the United States will do well to embody those principles in the note that we have been trying to get to the attention of the German government. There must be no half-handed business about the answer we are to give to the foreign office of the Imperial government, and if we are ever to reach a settlement of the difficulties between the two governments, we must do it now. This country has made a valiant attempt to show the German government where it was mistreating the good will of the United States, but it seems from each successive note that all our pleadings and demands are of no avail. The course to be pursued now, is one entirely different from what we have been following hitherto, and is one that is apt to cause a delicate situation.

Any person, with average intelligence, outside of the German sympathizers, can very plainly see that every question we have asked, and which we have tried to have answered by the German government, has been evaded and some other question which has no bearing on the matter, has been brought up and submitted to us. The main plea of the German government, as we see it, is to gain time, though we cannot argue out why the German government should care to gain time.

The note that is now being prepared should call to the attention of the German government that we are not going to stand for any more delays, and that we must have a definite answer to our demands, which we have made, by a specified date and that unless we do not get a definite answer by that date, we are going to sever diplomatic relations.

We think that that course is about all there is left to pursue.

NEWS IS NEWS

Recently we had some complaint from a citizen of Greenville because we printed a news story that the citizen thought should not have been printed. We look upon news as being news, and always try to print the account of any and everything that happens, which we think will be of interest to our readers. We believe by doing this, that we are doing the right thing.

A newspaper has many functions, chief of which, is to boost. But the boosting part of a newspaper is not all there is to it. When something exists, whether it is good or bad, the people should be informed of it, and that thing should not be covered up. However, we will agree that there are some things that are not to be printed. We have covered up some of those stories that we felt like should not be given publicity, but when we find something that the people should know we are going to use our own judgment about printing it.

PASS IT THROUGH

Tomorrow night is the time set for the board of town aldermen to meet and decide whether or not Greenville is to put her name on the list for permanent sanitation as regards the lavatories. We are sure that every citizen of Greenville, who values his life and the life of his neighbor, will want this form of sanitation. There is a way that each and every man of Greenville can help the aldermen, and that is by going to the alderman of your ward, personally, and tell him that you want the ordinance providing sanitary lavatories, passed through. By doing this you will let your alderman know that you want that ordinance passed, and chances are that your voice in the matter will have some weight.

TOO MANY GUNS

There are entirely too many worthless negroes roaming around the country with a gun in their pocket. They are a menace to law abiding citizens, and every effort possible should be made to exterminate them. Every judge that gets a negro up before him for carrying a pistol, would impose about five years on the chap, and the number of negroes who pad jail cells, would undoubtedly be reduced.

SAY FUNDS INADEQUATE

Now the state board of health hands out the startling word of caution for the counties to go slow in using the typhoid vaccine. The state board of health, in case its funds are running low, should make provision to get some more money in order to give the vaccine to all the people who want to take it. The people are just beginning to take hold of the vaccine, and they should not be kept from taking it if there is any possible way around it.

THE HUMAN BUG

There are several diseases that are caused by a tiny bug getting into the system of a person. The bug eats up the cells of the body, and puts one out of commission. There is another bug that is called the human bug. Instead of working on the vitality of man, it works on the pocket. The human bug is always present. He paints glorious stories to you. He tells you how to make a fortune—if you only come across with a few dollars to further the project. That's his game. Sucks you for the cool cash, and then he's gone. The main question now before the American public is how to get around these human parasites, or bugs. The best way to do it, for they can't be exterminated, is to shun them whenever a man runs across one. Be on your guard.

A. Y. M. C. A. FOR GREENVILLE

"Have you a Y. M. C. A. in Greenville?"

That is the question that is usually asked when we meet up with a business man from another city. We have to tell him no. Then he asks why we haven't one here.

That is the question the Reflector is asking the citizens of Greenville. We are large enough for a Y. M. C. A., and there is no excuse for not getting one immediately. Other towns in this vicinity are far ahead of us. Rocky Mount, for instance, has a splendid Y. M. C. A., and our neighboring town of Washington is striving hard to get one. Are we to lag behind the race? Is Greenville, with its magnificent National Bank Building, its handsome government building, its splendid court house and various other buildings, going to lag behind a Y. M. C. A.

CARRANZA—THE TROUBLEOUS

It is being rumored in the press dispatches that Carranza, the notorious chieftain of Mexico, who has probably caused the death of more people than any other man in Mexico, is looking for peace. We think that the time is ripe for Carranza to look for something other than blood shed and riot, and if he cannot there is room for some other man to come into Mexico and try his hand at restoring peace and order. The bunch now on the mound have shown that they are woefully lacking in the peace accomplishments, and the United States anxiously waits for some man to step into the lime light that can restore order.

DEVELOP ITS RESOURCES

North Carolina is a state of great opportunities. Not even the most fanciful can imagine the truly wonderful possibilities we have right here before our eyes. But there is a world of work to be done. Everywhere there is a chance for improvement. The roads all over the eastern part of North Carolina need attention. The farms can be improved. The cities can be improved. The work of developing the whole state is just beginning to take hold among the citizens, and we predict for the next ten years, a wonderful revelation. Everyone will become enthused about making progress, and the way the wheels of development will spin around, are sure to awaken the interest of the sleepiest.

Squibs From Other Squibbers

Well, Wager, Very Little (Columbia State)

What will the President of the South Carolina Press Association say to the President of the North Carolina Press Association when they meet here in November for the annual gathering of the immortal Paraphraser's Union?

Sounds Good (Raleigh Times)

North Carolina, according to the census, at last is producing enough wheat to make flour for every man, woman and child in her borders. A wealth, and those farmers who have helped in making the total not only deserve the good prices they will receive for their excess wheat, but the thanks of the whole people.

TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed bids will be received by the County Commissioners of Pitt county at their office in Greenville, N. C. until 12 o'clock noon, Monday August 2nd, and then opened, for the construction of a reinforced bridge across "Caledon Creek," 2 miles west of Grimesland, N. C. Plans and specifications can be had by depositing $2.00 with Brascoe Bell, clerk of the Board for returning of plans. Certified check of $250.00 must accompany bid.

MOST PERFECT OF PLANTS

Working of the Human Body Makes Any Invention of Man Seem Like Plaything.

The most complicated manufacturing plant that ever existed is the human body as controlled under the scientific management of the brain and nervous system. No factory ever boasted a more efficient producer plant for converting fuel into energy. No plant ever had so well-designed a pumping system, nor one so perfect for the disposal of waste and sewage. Talk of up-to-date heating and ventilating or inter-department telephone! The best that our modern science can put into our shops is crude indeed as compared with that furnished by the Great Designer. Suppose that you want to a pump manufacturer with the following specifications:

Wanted, a pump with capacity of one-quarter gallon a minute, to handle warm salty fluid, to work for seventy years night and day without a shut-down, at the rate of seventy strokes per minute. Must be guaranteed to operate for the full period of time without repairs or adjustments, to require no attention, must have automatic control and contain its own motive power, and must have a duty per million foot-pounds superior to the best triple-expansion high-duty unit ever made.

Do you think the manufacturer would bid for the job? If he were a timid man he would probably agree with you and tell you to come around next week, meanwhile edging you toward the door before your insanity took a violent form. Or if he were not afraid of lunatics he would say: "You poor bug, such a pump as you speak of never existed nor ever will except in the brain of a perpetual-motion freak such as I see before me!" Which shows how much he knows about it, for both you and he carry just such a pump around with you, and each of you thinks too much of your possession to sell it for any money.—John H. Van Deventer, in the Engineering Magazine.

KING CREDITED WITH VIOLIN

Monarch Who Ruled in Ceylon Believed to Have Invented Famous Musical Instrument.

Ravana, king of Ceylon, is believed to have invented the violin, 5000 B. C. The instrument was called the ravanastrom. A similar instrument was introduced into Great Britain by the Anglo-Saxons under the name of fithel, from which the modern word "fiddle" is derived. The violin in its present form was first made in the fifteenth or sixteenth century. The earliest violin maker was Gaspard di Salo of Lombardy, Italy. It is thought that the Italian school of violin making was founded by him at Brescia. Violins were the principal bowed instruments from the end of the fifteenth to the end of the seventeenth centuries, but they were gradually replaced by violins of Brescian make. The school of Cremona so perfected the art of violin making that the Cremona violin became the most famous of all musical instruments. Modern makers have never been able to improve on the Cremona violins. Andrea Amati founded the Cremona school. The greatest of all violin makers was Antonio Stradivari. His best work was done from 1700 to 1720. This is known as his "golden period."

Cement From Beets.

It is now reported that a French firm is making an excellent cement from a by-product in the process of making beet sugar. The scum that forms when the beets are boiled, and which has heretofore been thrown away, consists largely of carbonate of lime and water, and from 70,000 tons of beet treated 4,000 tons of carbonate of lime are obtained; to this 1,100 tons of clay are added, the resulting product being 3,162 tons of excellent cement.

The scum is pumped into large tanks, where it is allowed to dry partially; finely-divided clay is then mixed with it; the mixture is thoroughly amalgamated by beaters for an hour and burned in a rotary kiln, much in the same way as Portland cement. The clinker is then removed and pulverized into cement.

Cottage Cheese.

A young lady, student of the Colorado Agricultural college says: "My home is on a small farm two miles from town. I have found a practical way of increasing my none too plentiful income. We keep several cows and so have large quantities of sour milk which we formerly fed to the pigs. Now with very little effort and time I make this sour milk up into cottage cheese and sell it in town. It is made in pound cakes which sell at ten cents a brick. Customers were hard to obtain at first, but as soon as people learned about my cheese, I had all the customers I could supply. I make the cheese twice a week and deliver it the day it is made. In this way the cheese is fresh when it gets to the customer."

Relief for Ivy Poison.

Tincture of grindella diluted with three parts of water and applied with soft cloths to poison ivy will give relief. If you apply this before the pustules appear it will check the irritation. If the pustules have formed they will run their course, but this remedy will prevent others coming and check the spread of the disease from the affected parts. If you cannot get the grindella, sugar of lead, diluted to the same strength, is equally good.

CERTAIN RESULTS

Many a Greenville Citizen Knows How Sure They Are.

Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Greenville. There is plenty of positive proof of this in the testimony of citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical doubter. Read the following statement:

Mrs. Laura M. White, 414 Latham St., Greenville, says: "I had a dull aching pain across my back, which worried me. I also had a dizzy headache which lasted for days at a time. The kidney secretions were too frequent and scanty in passage. There were other symptoms of kidney trouble. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured some at the Warren Drug Co., and they gave me relief, strengthening my back and relieving the headaches. The other symptoms of the complaint left. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a very good remedy for kidney complaint."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. White had. Foster-Milburn Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

HIGH PRICE FOR SONGBIRD

Five Thousand Dollars Is Asked for the Canary Bullfinch Called the "White Rose."

The recent international bird show has provided some astonishing facts and figures regarding the value of songbirds. There are nearly one hundred classes of canaries. That they can be Norwich or Lancashire, Border or Yorkshire, variegated, lizzard, unlighted, clear, cross-bred, crested, self or foul, conveys very little to the average mind, but leaves one marveling at the variety of chirping little creatures whose feathers are every conceivable shade of yellow.

One marvels at the variety of birds that could be kept as pets. Finches, linnets, redpoles, tomtits, robins, wrens, stonechats, babblers, redstarts, and long-tailed, short-tailed, wag-tailed, and crested varieties of all of them in every size, from the minute humming bird to the plump scarlet cockatoo, ally for popularity which up to the present has been the monopoly of the canary.

And these little birds are all quite cheap. A few dollars will buy most of them, but on the other hand $2,500 would be asked for a gorgeous crimson bird of paradise, or $5,000 for the canary-bullfinch "White Rose," the most expensive songbird in the world.
