CAROLINA CLUB IS TO BEGIN WORK IN EARNEST

Long Idle Organization Is To Make Another Start.

REDUCE THE PRICES

Every Business Man of Greenville Is to Read His Will in Making Greenville a Better Place.

At a call meeting of the Board of Governors of the Carolina Club held on the night of the 28th inst. the following resolutions were adopted: "We are to make many improvements in the club. Among the principal ones will be the buying of a fine African with a large and varied selection of the best records, including all of the principal dance records, and the purchase of a fine gramophone by the leading artists that are now singing exclusively for the Victor. This will enable every member to have exactly what he wishes, even to the most discriminating taste. A nice selection of sacred music will be bought and it is rumored that a sacred concert will be given each Sunday afternoon by the club members. This will be quite an addition to the club and doubtless will be most enjoyable to those who are fortunate enough to be members. In addition to the Victrola all of the car rooms will be refurnished, rearranged and there is some talk of adding one or more rooms to the present quarters. After all of the improvements are completed, the members will have one of the best fitted clubs in the State.

Not only in a social way are improvements to be made, but it must be remembered that the Carolina Club is as well a business organization and special efforts will be made to interest the business people of Greenville in the club and get them to lend their cooperation and influence. Every business man in Greenville should be a member, it is the business organ of the town, has promoted and brought to Greenville many notable enterprises. The building of the Hotel Proctor owes its origin to Carolina Club, the management for Good Roads for Greenville Township was launched by members of the club, the Greenville Cotton Mills and other enterprises, which space forbids going into details were begun by the club. A great many things are now on foot in Greenville and Pitt county are now in the midst of a great era of progress. Probably nowhere in North Carolina are conditions so good as in Greenville and Pitt county. Ideal climate, ideal farm lands, ideal schools, ideal location for any kind of business or manufacturing establishment, all waiting to be lauded to the outside world. What is needed is the financial cooperation and influence of the business and professional interests of the town. Without this no business organization can possibly live with this. Greenville can be known as the "Live Wire Town" of the State if not of the entire south. Mr. Business Man, Mr. Professional Man, Mr. Property Owner, Mr. Church Member and every other living white being in the town of Greenville, who is interested in the town's future, regardless of what your beliefs are, the town needs your help to shape its future. A few dollars each year is a paltry sum to consider when you think of the vast amount of

FARMERS MEET IN DURHAM

Many Fine Speakers Have Been Secured To Address Farmers On Highly Interesting Topics—Expect Meeting To Have a Very Large Attendance.

DURHAM, Oct. 28. Former Judge James B. Moore of the North Carolina Supreme Court, ex-attorney John H. Bell, ex-attorney with chambers in Raleigh, N. C., and of the law state bar, Charles H. Boyd, of the law school of the University of North Carolina, and other speakers will address the farmers of the county on the 29th inst. The meeting will be held at the Commercial Hotel. The union first meets on the morning of Tuesday, November 16 with addresses of welcome by Mayor B. S. Skinner and James H. Southgate, president of the chamber of commerce. For the union T. B. DeLoache responds. Executive sessions are held during each day but the addresses are public and social features will take place as often as such a busy congress will permit. Automobile trips given by citizens of Durham to Chapel Hill to allow a visit to the University, to Trinity college and to the great tobacco factories, cotton mills and hosiery manufacturers, will be parts of this great convention in Durham.

good that can be done through a live, bustling business organization. In another part of this paper, you will notice that special inducement is being offered to all of the citizens of the town to join the club and help in rebuilding of the town. If you have been a member before, a special concession is made whereby you can now join again for the small sum of $5.00, if you have never been a member the entrance fee is only $7.50. The monthly dues are only $1.00, therefore the maximum cost to you can only be $12.50 per year. Can't you afford to contribute this amount toward the rebuilding of the town.

Pitt Street Residents Worried
Residents of Pitt street between Fourth and Dickinson avenues are now worried that something has not been done to the sidewalks of that section of the street.

The sidewalk on the right side, facing towards the railway stations, is almost impassable. Some of the residents of that section say that it is particularly dangerous to attempt to walk the street at night.

It does not look as if it has had attention in several years.

Work Began On School Building

CZAR FEARED GRAND DUKE

Firm Belief Is Established In France That Is Why Grand Duke Was Banished—Had He Won a Great Victory He Might Have Meant Serious Trouble.

PARIS, OCT. 29.—Perhaps high diplomatic circles know just what happened to the grand duke in Russia, French circles certainly do not. More than a week is required for the transmission of mail from Petrograd to Paris, and nothing but the oiliness of compliment has been permitted to pass over the wires. But people here who know Russia have made a guess.

"The Jews and the Czar," they say, "have combined to get rid of the grand duke."

Whoever were parties to the combination and however the combination was arranged, it was most effectively carried out. The grand duke—no one ever refers to him by name; in effect there is today but one grand duke—had been made the great figure of Russia. The Czar had almost been forgotten by the world. The names of generals, who worked with the grand duke were rarely mentioned.

"Yes, and I do too, Mrs. Fletcher. If I do forget and start to dress with you on my head, I send it back to one of the children."

"Mrs. Jones, it is strange why all women are not so beautiful as you and I."

"Oh, well, Mrs. Highlyer, all women haven't as dear husbands as we have."

SEARCH FOR THE GERMAN PLOTTING

NEW YORK, OCT. 29.—Chief of Federal prosecutors and secret service agents here were directed today to an investigation of the financial backing of the leaders of the conspiracy to blow up war munition plants and ships of which Lieutenant Robert Fay, of the German army, is alleged to be the head.

William J. Flynn, chief of the United States secret service, was quoted today as saying: "I believe we are going to get the financiers of this plot. Fay says he had and spent only $4,000. Paul Siebs says that Fay told him he had $7,500 when he started for this country. We believe Fay spent $30,000."
