PLAN OF INLAND WATERWAY NOW GIVEN THOUGHT

Revival of The Plan to Deepen Tar River Being Talked.

SMALL IN STATEMENT

Greenville Could Now Operate Boats Direct to New York But Is Not Doing It—Experts Give Opinion.

For sometime much talk has been current in this section relative to deepening the Tar river for navigation from Greenville to Tarboro, thus making it possible to have a waterway route from Tarboro straight to New York, or any other East Atlantic seaport town.

Concerning the inland waterway proposition, Congressman Small, who is regarded as an authority on these matters, and who may well be regarded as the father of the waterway plan, yesterday said:

"I welcome the privilege of a brief expression regarding intercoast waterway and the development of our transportation. This intercoast waterway proposition is an inside route from Boston to Florida. The section from New York to Florida has already been approved by the army engineers. While this embraces a total length of eighteen hundred miles, it must not be supposed that it consists entirely of canals. As a matter of fact, it is only necessary to connect the numerous interior sounds and bays along the Atlantic seaboard and will only require canalizing distance of about one hundred and thirty-one miles. The total cost of the improvement will be a little less than forty-eight million dollars. The mere contemplation of such an inside and safe route demonstrates this great value, but when you consider that this waterway will intersect the mouths of a number of rivers having a total navigable length of more than five thousand miles, its value is greatly enhanced. To put it another way, its construction will open up the great trunk line for water transportation of eighteen hundred miles with branches of more than five thousand miles. I must be content with this general statement as to the scope and purpose of this intercoastal waterway."

Greenville already has the opportunity of using her waterway to great advantage. Experts on the matter say that the transportation facilities from Greenville by water are fine, but owing to the fact that cheaper rates, or quicker transportation can be had by way of the rail roads, there is practically no river craft that come to Greenville.

NEGRO BOUND OVER TO RECORDER'S COURT

Barly Little, the negro who shot Ed. Moore in the leg sometime ago, and who was caught yesterday, was this morning tried before a magistrate and placed in jail in default of a $200 bond to await trial in the Recorder's court next Monday.

Mr. W. J. Turnage has been confined to his home for several days sickness.

M. E. H. Evans went to Ayden today.

BLOW FROM CLUB CRUSHES IN NEGRO'S SKULL

Owing to some dispute Roland Johnson, colored, of Farmville, last night struck Fred Barrett, colored, on the head with a club and crushed his skull in. It could not be learned what the row was about. The Barrett negro is considered to be in a precarious condition and may not live. Johnson was brought here this morning by the chief of police of Farmville and placed in the county jail to await trial next week in the Recorder's court.

FROM THE REFLECTOR 20 YEARS AGO

The Home Merchant. The home merchant is entitled to your trade and ought to have it, as against the itinerant dealer or merchant of some distant city. He spends his money here. He builds a home which enhances the value of all property. He helped pay for the church you worship in, and the school to which you send your children. He can not afford to misrepresent his goods or swindle you. Self interest alone would prevent this. He stays with you in sunshine and storm, in times of prosperity and in times of adversity. He bears his share of the burden of good government. When a subscription paper is passed, he is the first approached. These are a few of the reasons why you should patronize the home merchants. And if he keeps the goods you want, sells them at the right price, and lets the fact be known by means of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR he will be very apt to get his share of the trade.

MAN TO SLEEP FOR TWENTY FOUR HOURS

Fayssoux Coming to Whites Will Put a Man to Sleep in Carr and Atkins's Window Tonight at Seven O'clock.

A number of people passing the hardware store of Carr and Atkins today have wondered why that store has prepared a nice soft bed in the window.

It's simple. Fayssoux, who is to begin an engagement at White's theatre, will put a man to sleep in that window tonight at seven o'clock by means of his hypnotic powers, and the man will sleep until tomorrow night at seven, when he will be awakened.

Sounds funny doesn't it? Well, just watch developments tonight and see the man doze off for a little matter of a twenty-four hour sleep.

Sheriff Joseph McLawhorn went to Ayden today on business.

Mr. Paul Solomon left on the noon train for Ayden.

John Doe, No. 104, Now Heir To Gould Millions.

John Doe, No. 104, abandoned child, aged four, whose parents, it is believed, live in Philadelphia, has become an heir to millions, because Mrs. Finley J. Sheppard, who was Miss Helen Gould, worth perhaps $10,000,000 from the fortune left by her famous father, has adopted him. The Shepards have no children. John Doe was found on the back steps of St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York by a policeman about a year ago. He gave his name so far as he could be understood as Austin McLeary. He talked of Broad street and mumbled about a ride on a train, a "big boat," and a "railroad in the air." So it was thought he had been taken from Philadelphia. However, no trace of his parents was found there. He was sent to St. Christopher's Home at Dobbs Ferry, near the home of the Shepards, and Mrs. Sheppard adopted him. Now he is Finley J. Sheppard, Jr. He has found not only a father and mother, but a fortune and social position.

TEUTONIC ALLIES ADMINISTER A DEFEAT ON SERBS AND RUSSIANS

BERLIN, NOV. 2.—Via London.—Craek, an important railroad junction point in Serbia, about thirty miles to the southwest of Kragoyevatz, has been occupied by the Teutonic forces engaged in the Serbian invasion. It was officially announced today.

The German advance on Riga from the west has made further progress. In the Dvinsk region fierce fighting is under way. The Russian undertaking a strong offensive movement, were repulsed with heavy losses.

The announcement follows: "Army group of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, south of the Tukum-Riga railway our attack made further progress on both sides of the river.

Before Dvinsk fierce fighting continued yesterday. Strong Russian attacks were repulsed with severe losses. The battles between Iscenton and Hosen lakes are still proceeding. Five hundred prisoners fell into our hands.

"Army group of Prince Leopold: The Russians attempted to halt our advance west of Czartorysk by a counter-attack on a wide front with dense masses of troops. They were driven back with heavy losses. Our attack continues. At Stenikowce the Russians succeeded in temporarily penetrating positions held by the troops of General von Bothmer. We re-captured our trenches by a counter-attack, and took more than six hundred prisoners. The village of Stenikowce itself was for the greater part re-captured by storm early this morning, after bitter fighting during the night, and 2,000 more prisoners were taken.

SMALL BOY LET OFF WITH PAYMENT OF ALL THE COSTS

William Crandall, the small negro boy who was tried yesterday in the Recorder's court on a charge of assaulting Hubert Warren, a white boy, was found guilty, but had judgment suspended upon the payment of the costs in the action.

VIENNA, NOV. 2.—Via London, Nov. 2.—The general Italian offensive which has been in progress for a fortnight, has been met successfully by the Austrians, the war office announces, and is beginning to decline. The announcement follows:

"The third Italian attack against our coastal front which began on October 18 and was renewed with fresh troops on October 28 begins to fail.

"The enemy advanced on Sunday against the northern edge of the lofty Dobberdo plateau with strong forces, which, however, were weak at several points. The attack was in vain, and no longer general. Though the battle may again flame up the attempted offensive on the main front, with at least twenty-five infantry divisions (500,000 men) which the Italian command announced with brave words, has collapsed on the unshakable wall of our victorious troops.

"On the Isonzo front the battle of a fortnight's duration represents a gain for our arms. Our front is unchanged. Likewise the defenders of the Tyrol and Carinthian fronts retained firmly the positions they have heroically held since the beginning of the war.

"Through these successes our army has proved again how idle and untenable are all the claims of our erstwhile ally to the southwest frontier territory which he thought he was able to conquer by a treacherous attack in the rear.

"In the battles of the second half of October the enemy lost at least 150,000 more men."

SMALL GIRL IS RUN DOWN BY A STREET CAR

(By Eastern Press) NEW BERN, NOV. 3.—Virginia Hagood, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Hagood of this place, stumbled against a street car in front of her home today, was knocked down and the rear wheels passed over her body, killing her instantly.

$2214.64 RECEIPTS FOR POST OFFICE IN OCTOBER

The receipts for the Greenville post office for the month of October were the largest that have ever been reached in any one month. The amount was $2,214.64, with a net remittance to the government of $1,379.76.

The number of money orders issued during the month were 1,772 and the number of parcel post packages handled reached nearly six thousand. An average of about thirteen hundred pounds of mail is being handled each day in the office.

This is indeed a large amount of work for an office in a town the size of Greenville, and as there is need felt for additional help in the office, it would seem to the average person that the government could well afford to give the local office additional help, which the postmaster has been trying hard to get. The present force is handling nearly twice the amount of mail that the same number of employees handled four years ago, and they are greatly overcrowded with work.

In view of the impetus forward that Greenville is now taking, it is sure that the amount of mail handled will increase right on, and the office here will not be able to serve the patrons as quick as it would like to unless it is given more clerical aid.

FLORIDA MAN GIVES REFLECTOR A FINE BOOST

Mr. S. J. Corey Says Greenville Has The Newspaper And Now Needs A Live Chamber of Commerce to Help.

Bradenton, Fla., November 1st. Editor, The Daily Reflector. Permit me to say a few words in behalf of my home town and "The Daily Reflector", my home paper. All Greenville needs is a newspaper of interest and an up-and-doing Chamber of Commerce. It already has the paper and now is the time to establish the Chamber of Commerce, and it is my most earnest desire to see Greenville, on my next visit there, with the much needed organization going the work and boosting "Our Greenville—Yours if you come."

I take pleasure in saying that "The Reflector" has made steady improvement for the past few months, and keeps me informed as to what is being done in and around my home town in a most interesting and complete manner.

Very sincerely yours, S. JASPER COREY.

Woman Suffrage Defeated

In the election yesterday, Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts defeated woman's suffrage by large majorities. In Massachusetts the race between Walsh, Democrat, and McCall, Republican is close, according to incomplete returns. The Kentucky election is also close with Republicans apparently gaining.

Construction Work Going On

The construction work on the many new buildings in and around Greenville is progressing rapidly. Contractors are working hard so that the cold weather of the winter will not overtake them and hinder operations.

CAROLINA CLUB TO GET GREENVILLE IN SPOTLIGHT

Plan On Foot For Carnegie Library and Greenville Directory Too.

MET LAST NIGHT

In Future Will Be Business Organization As Well As A Social One—New Members Rapidly Coming Into It Now.

An enthusiastic meeting of the members of the Carolina Club was held in the club rooms last night at which time many added improvements for the club were discussed.

The members of the club feel that they are hampered with the bad facilities now being furnished, and are planning to give the rooms a thorough remodeling, and at the same time to introduce many new features into the business of the club.

For sometime the club has been working in only a social line, but in view of the fact that a large number of progressive business men have sent in their application for membership, it is thought that the club will take its place as an active factor in the up-building of the town.

Last night's meeting was devoted, generally, to a discussion for the future plans by which the club is hoping to become an active business organization as well as a social affair.

The suggestion yesterday in THE REFLECTOR, and the information that Greenville could have a Carnegie library if it cared to, was given discussion last night.

President Wright of the Training School, and a member of the local library committee was present, and gave his views on the subject. It was decided by the members present that this should be attended to at once, and all possible efforts made to secure a Carnegie library.

Another plan that the club is to work on at once is the getting out of a Greenville directory. This will be placed all over the country, and will be a great means of advertisement.

As to the remodeling of the club rooms, a committee has been appointed to determine the cost of such work, and is expected to make its report at the next meeting of the club, at which time several new members will be passed upon. When the club has been reorganized, and its carefully laid plans begin to mature, it will be one of the finest institutions of its kind in North Carolina, and it is towards making it effective in every way that each present member of the club is seeking new members' applications.

The officers of the club have already intimated that if the business men of the town will rally to their support, that they will make it answer the work of a Chamber of Commerce, and with the rapidity with which the business men are lining up, it is evident that this will be done.

At the next meeting of the club, many additional plans are to be brought up for consideration, and then the work will be commenced in earnest.
