The Royal Arcanum meets to-night at 7:30.

Have you registered? If not you'd better do so; the time is growing short.

Friday fair, cooler in Southern portions Friday morning is the weather prediction for to-day.

A colored vocal club that termed themselves "Queen Esther's Musical Troupe," Thomas H. Griffin, leader, was serenading on the streets last night. It contained some very good voices.

A car load of flour at the intersection of Broad and Hancock streets yesterday came direct from the Valley City Mill Co., of Grand Rapids Mich., making the trip in eleven days. The whole car load was for J. R. Parker, Jr.

Tounghts service will close the Evangelistic meetings that have been in progress in the Presbyterian church. There will be no service except that and a cottage prayer meeting at 10 o'clock this morning at Maj. Demmons's.

Hotel Chattawka Arrivals.
J. E. Latham, city; M. P. Williams, Norfolk; W. A. Osborne, Philadelphia; W. I. Thompson, Nashville, Tenn.; R. L. Woodard, Pamlico; Sam D. Wharton, Montgomery, Ala.; C. D. Little, Philadelphia; H. C. Courtney, N. Y.; Milton Reed, Louisville; H. W. Bonhage, Baltimore, Md.

Coming and Going.
Mrs. John H. Bell of Washington D.C. arrived on the steamer Neuse with one of her children to visit relatives in the city. Miss Emma Henderson met them at Elizabeth City and returned with them.

Mr. Sebastian B. Watson who has been spending some weeks in Boston returned home last night, having been telegraphed for on account of the dangerous illness of his brother John, whom, however, we are glad to say he found improving.

Mr. H. B. Hardy of the News and Observer arrived last night and will spend to-day in the city in the interest of the paper.

Mr. W. L. Kennedy and Dempsey Wood of Falling Creek, passed through on route to Morehead to take a little sport fishing for trout.

Messrs. E. E. Groom and Wm. H. Gannan, of Charleston, steamer inspectors of this district, arrived on official business and are at the Albert.

WILL CLOSE TO-NIGHT.
The Evangelistic Meeting—The Services Yesterday and Good Results—Notices for To-Day.

At the afternoon service in the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon Evangelist Gales gave a good and inspiring address upon "The Shadow of the Cross." He read the first eight verses of the fifty-third chapter of Isaiah in connection with Luke 22:33, and mentioned that the prophecy of the first passage was delivered 700 years before the fulfillment recorded in the second.

He divided the Christians into different classes and spoke with great earnestness to each class especially to all who were following Jesus afar off.

At the night service Mr. Gales preached from the text, "What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ." Matt. 27:24, and made a personal application of the question to the hearers.

The afternoon meeting was an interesting one; quite a number of professions were made.

A free will offering was taken and another will be taken at the meeting to-night for Evangelist Gales. Envelopes will be at the door and each one who chooses can supply himself with one as he enters.

To-night's service ends the series of meetings. There will be no afternoon meeting.

State Fair Study of Improved Roads.
One of the most practical and important features connected with the State fair this year is the admirable opportunity given for the study of road improvement work by reason of the select exhibit of road working machinery which will be there, some of it in operation and the discussions that will take place.

We hope that the opportunity will be fully utilized by the people of East Carolina, especially by those of our own county.

We copy an article this morning, by Prof. J. A. Holmes, State Geologist and Secretary of the State Road Improvement Association upon the road exhibit, which we hope will receive due attention and arouse still further interest in the good road department of the Fair.

NEWS IN BRIEF.
Perhaps the train robbers may finally be overtaken by a case of remorse.

In addition to the chilliness of the President, Senator Hill is encountering snow-storms in Northern New York.

When a Virginia gentleman finds time hanging heavily on his hands he slips out and tags a train robber.

The fight in Halifax county will be a triangular one—all three parties have full tickets.

It is now announced decidedly that Senator Hill's name will head the Grace ticket in New York.

CRAVEN'S DEMOCRATIC RALLY

CAPT. SWIFT GALLOWAY ABLY DINES THE PUBLIC SITUATION.

He Gives Telling Blows to Both the Populist and Republican Parties.

A Democratic rally was held at the court house last night. Capt. Swift Galloway of Greene county, one of our candidates for the State Senate was the orator.

Mr. Jas. A. Bryan presided at the meeting. Capt. Galloway, upon being introduced proceeded to address the assembled, intelligent audience in a plain and practical manner upon the issues involved in the campaign.

He spoke of low taxation in North Carolina—the lowest of any state in the Union under the wise and economical Democratic administration with which we are blessed.

He then proceeded to show the importance of a pure and intelligent judiciary such as Democracy maintains.

He went on to show that the Congress which recently adjourned accomplished more for the relief of the people during the eleven months of its session than any other congress in the history of the country.

He showed at considerable length the benefit that has already come to the people from the chapeing of woolen goods and other articles of common use, by reason of the reduction in the tariff.

He said the "proof of the pudding was chewing the bag"; we have tried the Republican party and know what it has done for us.

He paid attention to the Populists and the results that had followed wherever they had gotten into power—how that both good people and capital are leaving Kansas, Nevada, Colorado and Oregon, and the former State has been almost in a condition of civil war since that party got control.

He showed how Catawba county, this State, had been run into debt by them, a county which never before in its history before or since the war had ever had a debt.

He showed how the fifteen Populists in Congress had introduced bills which would have required appropriation of fifty billions of dollars to pay, when all the money in the whole world, gold silver, paper and the money savages, together amounted to only ten billion one hundred million. What financiers the Third Party people are!

He showed the ridiculousness and danger of several schemes that had been advocated by the Third party.

He closed with a beautiful tribute to the lamented Vance, and delivered the same message which Vance, almost upon his dying bed, sent to his countrymen. Democracy is immortal; it will never die so long as the people are true to themselves.

Capt. Galloway goes to Maysville today and then to Richlands.

He considers the prospect bright wherever he has been and considers the election of the entire Democratic ticket certain.

RALEIGH'S CAR-WHEEL FACTORY.
It Starts on the 20th, With a Capital of 100,000—Southern Material Through-out Will be Used—The Southward Tendency of Manufacture.

The News and Observer gives an item about the new plant the car-wheel factory just established there which gives an indication of the gratifying advance that is being made in manufacturing in the South and especially in our own State which we copy below:

"This car-wheel factory will be rather an extension of the North Carolina Car Factory which has been in operation since 1882.

The whole plant will be situated just beyond the round house on the Raleigh and Gaston road. The twenty-four acres of ground it includes straddle the railroad, there being fourteen acres on one side and ten on the other, thus giving all the transportation facilities desired.

"Some of this ground will later be let to other plants, thus ensuring in the near future a manufacturing suburban town like the little brass-working communities near Waterbury or Hartford.

"Everything fashioned from wood or iron, or from both, will be made there and the material to be used will be Southern coke, Southern iron, Southern coal and Southern operatives.

"The new company starts off auspiciously with a capital of $100,000, and, for the time being, will be in charge of Mr. Robert C. Tolmie, who is the experienced manager of the Lobdell Car Wheel works, of Wilmington, Delaware.

"Mr. Tolmie will be here for several weeks, and will leave men here thoroughly competent to supervise the perfect reproduction of the Lobdell wheel which has been used in the South since before the war.

"Competition is sharper now," continued Mr. Tolmie, "and we find ourselves compelled to get further South in order to hold our old ground, and I know no better State and town than this. Most of our output will be sold in the South, but we can place our stuff successfully as far as the Potomac river."

"Mr. Ashley remarked that the Delaware mother-plant turned out 700 wheels a day, each one weighing 600 pounds, which means a lading of 210 tons of iron a day.

"In the Raleigh works forty wheels will be turned out a day and forty hands employed.

"The iron will come from West Virginia, Alabama and other places south of Mason's and Dixon's line, and the whole establishment will prove that this section can sustain itself, of itself, from mine to manufactory."

Plot of the Vendetta.
"The Vendetta" is a story of love, hate, intrigue and revenge. "Count Victor Ricardo" is accused, tried and convicted of the murder of his father-in-law, which crime was committed by "Marquis Duke De Lorne," who, by the aid of his alleged sister, has caused "Ricardo" to believe his wife untrue to him. "Ricardo" escapes from the galleys, and finally succeeds in clearing his name from the charge of murder; discovers that his wife is true; they become united, and "Ricardo" revenges himself on his enemy.

Will appear at the New Berne theatre to-morrow night.

THAT OHIO LYNCHING.

Some of the Lessons That Law-Makers and Courts Should Learn.

About all the difference we see between that Ohio lynching party told of in another column and a Southern one of this character is that the Southern mob accomplishes what it sets out to do, and the Ohio one didn't—the offence was the same and the desire for swift and just retribution was the same. The desire to protect the purity of wives, mothers and sisters is the same the world over, and he who transgresses in this direction must take the dire consequences, and God and man will approve.

We do not sanction lynch law—we oppose it in every instance—but in order to avert it the law of the land must give that protection which the people demand—for some crimes, nothing less than the criminals life, and that taken speedily, will atone.

The sentence of simply twenty years in the penitentiary against this wretch who, two weeks before outraged a respectable lady at her home on a street, was enough to arouse the frenzy of the mob.

It has only been a few weeks since the same penalty was pronounced for a similar crime in a neighboring State—we think it was West Virginia. Away with such a travesty on justice.

Gov. Carr's way of ordering a special term of court, as was done in the case of the friend Bob Madkins and a speedy execution after the trial is better than either the usual delays of the law or mob law, and it would be still better if provisions were made for speedy attention to such cases whenever the crime is committed.

Other States can look to good old conservative North Carolina and learn some wholesome lessons.

AGAINST GAMBLING AT FAIRS.
A special from Washington C. H. says:

As darkness came on a crowd of 1,500 people surrounded the court house and jail, which are really one building, yelling, "Lynch him, lynch him." Finally some one threw a stone which struck a soldier on the breast. Then Col. Coit, whose anger was aroused, addressed the people in language which was very plain and forcible. He told them not to repeat the offence. The crowd surged closer and closer to the court house steps, becoming bolder as the darkness increased. Col. Coit addressed them, or rather attempted to do so, but they would not listen to him. He shouted that he would have to order the soldiers to fire if they did not fall back, but on they came and finally the order to fire was given. There was a flash and a roar, many were seen to fall and the mob fled like a lot of frightened sheep.

Sheriff Cook, of Fayette county, telegraphed Gen. Howe as follows: "The rumor is correct. Three have been killed and eight or ten wounded."

The crowd secured a battering ram and began to beat down the door. Not a shot was fired by the soldiers until the volley fell in, when the troops fired the volley which resulted so fatally. The first fright following the volley having died away, the mob is becoming more boisterous and bold again. They are gathering about the court house and though still maintaining a respectful distance, are uttering loud

They stated to the committee that they were already acting that way. They even went so far as to say: "We have excluded what we regard as gambling, but if your committee finds on the look of entries anything which you consider gambling we will rescind our action in admitting it." Nothing more could be desired.

The remarkable success attending the East Carolina Fair held every winter in New Berne is due to a similar case on the part of its officials in excluding gambling and fairs. Things of this character do not build up a Fair or Exposition; they have a tendency to break it up. Our Fair has received as warm commendation for this feature as for any connected with it. May the high standard it has chosen ever be maintained.

The ministers and good people generally of North Carolina might well follow the example of the Richmond ministers in entering solemn protest against the admission of gambling concerns to any fair in the State. The practice is recognized as an evil and has been tolerated mainly for the revenue that it yields. It is a shame and a disgrace and should receive the emphatic condemnation of good people everywhere.

TROOPS CALLED OUT TO PROTECT A NEGRO RAPE FIEND.

Several Persons Killed and a Number of Others Wounded by the Militia in Rescuing the Prisoner From a Mob.—The English Committee Will Now Have to Investigate the North Also.

Advices from Washington Court House, Ohio, Oct. 17th are as follows:

"In the Criminal Court to-day, Jasper Dolby, the negro who assaulted Mrs. Mary C. Byrd, of Parrots station, a week ago, confessed the crime and was sentenced to the penitentiary for twenty years.

There was every prospect of a bloody fight to-night as a great mob was in town bent on lynching Dolby, and the sheriff had two companies of State militia there to help him protect the prisoner. A special grand jury was called, Dolby was indicted to-day and his trial and sentence followed promptly. The county officers hoped by this means to quiet the mob and avert a fight.

"A special from Washington Court House to Columbus Ohio, says that the sheriff with three companies of militia started this evening to take Dolby, the negro rape fiend, to the Penitentiary, but at the depot the mob got possession of the prisoner. The militia charged, killing two of the mob and recapturing the prisoner. He was then hurried back to the jail. A call has been made for the First and Fourth regiments.

THE RIOT.
