We hereby pledge him the solid Republicanism of Craven county, and assure him that his efforts to rescue our District, meet with our hearty support and approval.

An American, now serving in the Chinese army, writes that China will yet come out victorious. If he can see any prospect in that line, all we have to say is that the Japanese must have full control in the negotiation of the telegraphic dispatches sent to this country.

$3,000 IN RACE PURSES ALONE

Liberality in Premiums Unparalleled in the History of the State.

Four Days of Racing at the East Carolina Fair—Seven Trotting and Eight Running Races—$400 a Race for Four Races, A Thousand Dollars in One Day.

The Race Premium list of the East Carolina Fish, Oyster, Game and Industrial Association which will hold its next exhibition in the city next February is now completed. Messrs. N. S. Richardson & Son have printed a costly number of copies with banks on the reverse side for entries to send to the owners of fine horses over the country.

The Fair holds six days the races cover four of those days. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, February, 19, 20, 21, and 22, 1895.

There will be eleven races 7 trotting, and four running. Two trotting and one running race each day except the last; that day there will be but two, a consolation trotting race and a running race.

The purses for the first day foot up the splendid sum of $800.

The second day an advance is made, the round sum of $1,000 will be contested for on that day alone.

On Thursday the purses amount to $850 and on Friday to $250.

There is one trotting race for which the purse is $300 each, and four for which the fine sum of $400 will be contested for in each race. This makes the grand total of $2,400 on the trotting races alone.

There is one running race for a purse of $100, two for purses of $150 each, and one race for $200, making a total of $600 for the running races and the magnificent aggregate sum of $3,000 for the purses in the entire number of races. This is a larger sum than has ever been offered in the State before for racing at one time and it cannot fail to bring such an array of the best horses of North Carolina and neighboring States to the Fair as will do every one good to see.

The regular premium list is not ready yet but it is being worked upon. The premiums in it will also be largely increased.

The East Carolina Fair from the very beginning has ever moved forward to higher achievement and is doing so still.

Now that matters are getting in shape for the next exhibition let everybody work with a vim for it and let every visitor rest assured of seeing a Fair of such merit that no matter how many nor how good ones they have attended before they will be both pleased and benefited by having come to this one.

THE METHODIST REVIVAL.

Their Meetings Yesterday—Good Attendance Interest Developing.

Rev. J. T. Lyon, pastor of Centenary M. E. Church conducted the morning prayer meeting yesterday, and talked to Christians upon the subject of Faith. A very large number of requests for prayers, for relatives and friends were offered and those requests of the same nature followed at the afternoon meeting.

The night meeting resulted in several going forward and seeking an interest in the prayers of the church for themselves.

Rev. L. L. Nash conducted the afternoon meeting. He gave a profitable discourse upon "the Lord's Method of making Disciples." It was based upon Andrew's first finding his own brother Simon and bringing him to Christ. The leading thought was that each Christian was to lead those nearest to him or her, to Christ to begin work in the household and then widen it out.

At night, Mr. Swindell preached from the 10th psalm, "Lord if thou wilt, canst thou make me clean." He drew the analogy between the fearful diseases of leprosy and moral and spiritual leprosy, and showed that Christ must heal or none can be saved.

China will get up some kind of a calamity. The latest dispatches give no further Japanese walk-over, but a big flood came with the usual result.

Fashionable young ladies in Japan when they desire to look very attractive fold their lips.

Chas. E. Morris, of Columbus, O., has moved to Canada. The Citizens B. & L. Association of Columbus, $20,000 out.

Mrs. and Miss Stevenson, wife and daughter of the Vice President, are at Asheville.

DRAW BRIDGE BROKEN.

And the Passage of Last Night's Train Prevented Thereby—Port Anchor of a Vessel Causes the Trouble.

As Messrs. Blades Bros' schooner, the Ivy Blade, was being towed through the A. & N. C. R. draw-bridge yesterday afternoon about 8 o'clock, her port anchor caught on a projection of the bridge and broke a sill which held the suspension braces—consequently the draw fell to the platform below.

The accident left the draw so that it could not be put back in position until a new sill was put in and connection made with the suspension braces again. Every body that could be got to work on the bridge was to work on it at once, but with very little hope of getting the bridge so that it could be used before to-day.

The United States Government has ordered that a new and better draw be put in, and as soon as this is done we hope accidents of this character will be a thing of the past.

The time first fixed for the draw to be finished was September 1st but this was afterwards extended to April 1st, 1895.

ENLARGING THEIR BUSINESS.

Messrs. M. Hahn & Co. to Erect a Brick Building for Their Livery Business—Other Improvements.

Messrs. M. Hahn & Co's, stables will soon present an entire different and greatly improved appearance from what they are now. The wooden buildings that front the street are to be torn away and replaced by a handsome two-story brick one with the office at the center, two arched drive ways on either side, one arched window over the office, two large square ones on either side of it and a high ornamental finishing piece at the center, which will hold one of the signs of the business. Those who have seen the plans declare the stable will present as fine an appearance as any to be found in the State.

The brick front will extend forty-two feet on the street and run back to a depth of 55 feet. Back of this the wood buildings will be retained—among them is a new shed just added 19x66 feet.

The tearing away of the old building to make way for the new brick one is now in progress and the brick-laying will be carried right forward.

The business of the long established firm has grown and addition been made from time to the buildings until it has now reached a point that the whole large lot is covered with the buildings.

This shows how New Berne business is growing on the lively stable line and on other lines in proportion. We are glad to note the multiplied evidences of its prosperity and growth.

On the 14th of next month, Rev. C. G. Vardell, pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city, will offer prayer on the occasion. The full programme will soon be ready and given to the public.

There will be a banquet for the visitors at the proper time. Appreciation is expressed in advance for the courtesies that are planned to be extended.

OUR STATE NAVAL RESERVES.

Paying Appointments to Look After Its Property Should be Made From Its Ranks.

If no Members Want the Places they Should be Filled by Other North Carolinians—Not by Outsiders as is Proposed.

A letter from the Navy Department has been received at the headquarters of the Naval Battalion stating that three men, are to be detailed from Norfolk as ship keepers of the Nantucket.

These positions are of considerable value and they ought to be assigned to citizens of our State. The members of the Naval Reserve know, if others do not, that the Nantucket was turned over to the State by the Government in a very respectable condition. They know that they have expended large sums to keep her in a serviceable state in order that they might not compare unfavorably with other organizations.

The reports of the Naval Board place the N. C. Naval Battalion in almost all particulars first in efficiency as an organization. They have not only done well (we knew they would) but they have been praised by an extremely critical lot of men. They have done honor to the State as the New Berne Division did it service they would have done better had they been better equipped.

Our community is proud of its organization, and the State is proud of the Battalion. If any member can, through his connection with it find employment, he ought to have it. If he does not wish it, surely it should not be given to another State whose organization is not yet perfected.
