NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. N. Whitford--Pork Sausages, etc. Joseph Cohen--To the Public. Nunn & McSorley--New goods. Sam'l Cohn & Son--Mountain Beef. Jos. Nelson--Fancy and plain cards. COTTON SALES. Friday--215 bales, 5.174 highest price. Will Williamson, pep down like populist Sutton did when "Boss Butler" commanded him to? Just see if he does. Good meetings were held at the Methodist church yesterday evening and last night. Several sent forward to the altar and there was one or more conversions. Will the Populists who nominated Chas. Sutton for the house, vote for Republican Williams as "Boss Butler" tells them to do? Hardly. Remember the low fare to and from Maysville to-day to hear Senator Jarvis speak, 50 cents from New Berne and 25 cents from Pollocksville. The Sciubert Symphony Company will give one of their elegant concerts and recitals here on the 13th, and will be in Kingston on the 12th. Over 80 reserved seats have already been sold in Kingston. Senator Jarvis spoke at Kingston yesterday beginning at 1 o'clock and spoke for over two hours. He made a speech of which one of his hearers said: "I do not see how any man after hearing that speech can vote either the Republican or Populist ticket." Perry's oyster cannery factory at Beaufort, the smaller one at that place is to open and run this season, so a letter to a Beaufort citizen says. Why don't home capitalists take hold of the canning business and run the factories this year, taking the products in their season--oysters, vegetables and fruits. Capt. Swift Galloway and Dr. Fred A. Whitaker, the two Democratic candidates for the State Senate in this (the 8th) district, have repeatedly made public announcements that in the election of a U. S. Senator they will (if they are elected) vote the sentiment and will of a majority of their Democratic constituents. This is all that any fair-minded Democrat can ask. Mr. Chas. Babbitt called at THE JOURNAL office yesterday and requested us to state that he knew nothing whatever of the posted circular at Truitt's school house whereon it was stated that he and others, including Jno. W. Babbitt, a Democrat, would make Populist speeches there. Mr. Babbitt further says that he does not even know where Truitt's school house is. THE JOURNAL gave the statement as it was furnished us, and it is still evident that a forgery has been committed somewhere. It is to be hoped that good men will refrain from such dirty work. There is no excuse for it, even if it is just on the eve of election. Coming and Going. Mrs. F. L. Hunter who has been visiting her parents in the city left for her home in Henderson. Mrs. B. C. Gorham, left returning to Fayetteville. Mr. Stanly Oaksmith, of Hollywood, Carteret county, passed through enroute to Jacksonville on business. Mr. Willie B. Creeds left on the steamer Neuse for Baltimore on a business trip. Miss Bilde Hill of Goldsboro, came in last night and today will go down to Thurman where she is to take charge of a school. Among the arrivals at the Albert were Miss Lucy Taylor of Catharine Lake, to visit Miss Mebane; Mr. H. R. Cully, special agent of the Atlantic Coast Line; Dr. F. A. Whitaker, Democratic candidate for the State Senate; Messrs. J. N. Jacobs and J. H. Mallard, representative business men of Wilmington, and Mr. J. M. Spencer, one of Washington's well known business men. Rev. B. W. Spillman, who recently filled the pulpit of the Baptist church of this city for a month while the pastor was off for his summer vacation, passed through en route to Beaufort to spend a few days with Rev. Daniel Moore. Mr. Jas. Kay and wife of New York, left on the steamer Neuse returning home. They have been taking a Southern pleasure trip and while in the city visiting at Mr. G. E. Slover's. They express themselves well pleased with all they have seen of the South. Other passengers who left on the steamer Neuse were: Mr. R. L. Way and wife, who have been visiting at Mr. J. F. Clark's, returning to their home at Haall; Mrs. Edward Bull to make a protracted visit to relatives in Westbrook, Conn; Mr. W. T. McKinney of Hyde county, en route to Johns Hopkins hospital to receive treatment for a spinal trouble, and Miss Carrie White of Elizabeth City, returning home from a visit to Mrs. J. B. Neal of South Creek. Hotel Chateaufort Arrivals. James Williams, Wilmington, N. C.; J. W. Aiken, Baltimore, Md.; T. L. Lomax, Richmond, Va.; S. B. Street, city; Sammie Street, city; R. P. Broadbent, city; Wm. Richardson, Richmond, Va.; O. Shumate, N. Y.; F. A. Ernstmann, N. Y.; Miss Fannie Wooten, Fort Bamwell; M. D. D. Moore, N. Y.; S. T. Redman, St. Louis; A. Moore, N. C.; J. G. Clough, Norfolk, Va.; J. J. Disoway, city. Expecting to Attend Wilmington's Welcome Week. The Messenger has a letter from Morehead saying that Wilmington's Welcome Week in that section is the coming event of the season, and that quite a crowd of the merchants and others are going down, and expressing a wish that Mr. J. W. Warren, general freight and passenger agent of the W. N. & N. R. R., will close round trip rates. We are satisfied the transportation facilities will be all right. The railroad is very clever in giving low rates for all such occasions and close connection between the morning trains of the two roads. To the Public! If you want to purchase GOODS CHEAP go to Joseph Cohen's, on the corner of South Front and Middle Sts. There you will find an honest man and one who will not let you down. Nov. 4, 1894.

SENATOR JARVIS LAST NIGHT.

He Addresses a Very Large Crowd Both White and Colored. And Does Good Work for the Cause of Democracy--Will Speak at Maysville To-day. The court house was filled last night with our citizens who wanted to hear Senator Jarvis, a good number of colored people being among them. A number of ladies of the city graced the occasion with their presence. The Senator spoke two hours, discussing the issues well. Senator Jarvis discussed the tariff at some length. After explaining its principles he showed how it had been managed so as to pile up enormous wealth in one section of the country and leave another section with very little money. He showed how a protective tariff caused little streams of money to flow from the pockets of the people into the coffers of the protected manufacturers and showed that a battle had been waged for years between the Democrat and the Republican parties, the former, holding the position that the government had no right to tax anybody except for revenue only; the Republican party contending that the government had the right to levy taxes for the protection of certain classes, to tax the agriculturists for the benefit of the manufacturers. To show what the Democrats had done for the relief of the people he told his hearers not to take his word, or the word of either Democrats or Republicans for it, but just go to any store, let the proprietor belong to what party he would, just as he was an honest man, and get him to spread his wares of every kind before them and price them, and then ask what the price would have been in 1892 under the Republican tariff and he thought they would find that what would have cost $30 in '92, would now cost $20, the ten dollars being saved to the people. He told them to examine for themselves and see, and if they found this so to vote for the candidates of the Democratic party. He explained how the Democrats had taken the business off the people and put them upon accumulated wealth by taxing the incomes of those who are so fortunate as to have incomes in excess of $4,000--who is as able to pay taxes towards the support of the government as those who have great fortune. He told of how trusts and monopolies, thing never known before, had grown up by the fostering hand of protection, and reminded the farmers how the jute bagging trust had attempted in 1889 to double the price of jute bagging, as the cotton crop was being gathered, which scheme of robbery was destroyed at the time by the determined united action of the farmers, and how the tax had now been taken off of bagging and it put on the free list so that this crime against the farmer could not again be repeated and that every democrat voted for the measure and every Republican against it. He showed how that the working people of the country are the chief sufferers when the government is bad and appealed to all to uphold the good government given by the Democratic party and not to do anything to cause danger of a return to misrule, the danger of which is known by past experience. He told of the interest and enthusiasm in the Western part of the State and how it would be found on election day firm in the Democratic column. He told on the contrary of some lukewarmness he found in the eastern part where the people have much more to dread from a change than the western counties. He urged them likewise to present an unbroken front to the common enemy; in this plea he urged upon colored people also their interest in the present Democratic government which is doing more for the education and uplifting than the Republican party ever thought of doing. The speech was well received by all and congratulations were showered upon him. The Senator goes to Maysville today and no doubt a tremendous gathering of the people will greet him. THE STIMSON LUMBER MILL. Six Million Feet of Lumber to Saw Between Now and March--Good Work at the Mill. Mr. D. H. Hazett who recently moved here to take the position of saw filer at the Stimson Lumber company's mill, has now taken full charge of the mill getting out the lumber by the thousand for the owners. He has increased the capacity of the mill ten thousand and made improvements at the dry kilns by which they are giving much more satisfactory service. In fact he seems to understand his business at every point and is moving everything along smoothly. He has plenty of work ahead, as the mill under its sales contracts has got to deliver six million feet of lumber between now and March. Mr. Hazett receives the logs in the pound, takes charge of it at that point, through all the operations which it undergoes and turns over the finished product in good shape on the wharf for shipment. He assumed charge Monday morning and Mr. D. J. Kallanbaug, formerly of Memphis, Tenn., takes the place he formerly held. The new dry kiln at this mill is doing so well and is liked by all who see it that some of the other mill men are contemplating putting up similar ones in connection with their mills. NEWS IN BRIEF. Harvard's variety crew has begun practice for the great race with Yale next year. Mrs. Lucinda Perry, of Tipton, Mo., has married a widower with nineteen children. The Chinese god of war has 3,000 names, but all of them seem to be of the Doom variety. Quite a noted old lady in London is Mary Elizabeth Kye, who is 104 years old and who computes that she passed 20,000 nights under one roof. The cautious man does his jollifying before the election. In case of success he can rejoice. "All stuff," declares the average New Yorker in discussing Chicago's heavy registration.

ANOTHER POPULIST TRICK.

Boss Butler is Now After Candidate Williamson's Political Scamp. Marion Butler, with a few other leaders, as is well known, have arrogated to themselves the privilege of undoing the work of the political conventions, and saying to one candidate after another, "come down" and to the people who nominated him, "now vote for this candidate." Butler has now got out a man, a Populist lawyer, against W. R. Williamson, col., the Republican candidate for Solicitor of this district. A telegram from James H. Poy, Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee tells the story. It was read at the court house last night. The telegram says: "Butler is now printing tickets in the 2d district for Malvern H. Palmer, of Warren, for Solicitor instead of Williamson." Now, will Williamson "come down" like Populist Sutton, or will he keep his sails "full mast" and "ride it out" like Republican Spears who said "NO" decidedly, and says he wants the Republican to vote for him whether he is dead or alive. ANNUAL THANKSGIVING DAY. President Cleveland Appoints Thursday, Nov. 29, as the Time and Calls Upon All American Citizens to Observe it in the Letter and in the True Spirit. Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, has issued his official proclamation appointing Thursday, Nov. 29, to be observed and kept by all the American people as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer. The President says: "On that day let our ordinary work and business be suspended and let us meet in our accustomed places of worship and give thanks to Almighty God for our preservation as a nation, for our immunity from disease and pestilence, for the harvests that have rewarded our husbandry, for a renewal of a national prosperity and for every advance in virtue and intelligence that have marked our growth as a people. "And with our thanksgiving let us pray that these blessings may be multiplied upon us that our national conscience may be quickened to a better recognition of the power and goodness of God and that in our national life we may clearer see and closer follow the path of righteousness. "An in our places of worship and praise as well as in the happy reunions of kindred and friends on that day let us invoke divine approval by generously remembering the poor and needy. "He who has given us our country and plenty will look upon our relief of the destitute and our ministrations of charity as the work of hearts truly grateful and as proofs of the sincerity of our thanksgiving. "If people have abundant cause for thankfulness and they should heartily enter into the spirit of this National Thanksgiving day that we enjoy as a country and as individuals. THEY ARE HISS-RIDDEN INDEED. Butler Says to a Pop "Pop Out" and Out he Pops--He is Boss Instead of the Nominating Conventions of the Party. The Goldsboro Argus has an article showing well how thoroughly writing a portion at least of Marion Butler's followers are to have no will of their own and to let him over-ride the nominating conventions and order them how to cast their ballots as if they belonged to him, son and body. How many freemen are willing to let him toss aside the men they choose in convention for their candidates and let himself for whom they shall cast their ballots. This is what the Argus says: "The old fable of the thief who being detected and chased with a great hue and cry and who fled in the chase and the cry and this escaped apprehension finds a sequel in the cry raised by Butler against the 'machine' Democracy of the State, while he himself is the greatest political 'boss' and 'machine' manipulator that ever trod the soil of North Carolina. The instances of Butler's 'bossism' over the 'confusion' Rep-Pop combine in the present political contest are legion and glaring; but nevertheless when the bearded chieftain cracks his whip his craven followers cover this bidding and like slaves obey his behests; he having constituted himself above political conventions of the people--State and district, and enthroned himself supreme dictator--general 'boss'." "Come we now to the latest edict of the Boss abroad. Down in Craven county--one of the strongest Republican counties in the State, and which always elects Republican legislators, the Republicans are running 'Dick' Williams for the lower House and the Pops are running one Sutton, Butler (it will be observed he always goes for 'downing' the Republicans) caused Williams, with certain election before him, to be ordered to step down and give place to Sutton, but Williams said NO. Then Butler made another deal and in exchange therefor he ordered Sutton 'down and out' and ordered the Pops to support Williams; and Sutton, being a faithful little Pop, adulating his Boss, and not daring to think or act for himself, thus announces his withdrawal in language the subservience of which is sincere--and told in simple truth, on the 'stump' at Vanceboro last Saturday: "I was taught when a boy to obey my boss. If a man was put over me at my work I was told to obey him, because he was supposed to know best. My political boss has ordered me to withdraw from this contest and carry my friends to Mr. Williams; therefore, in obedience to my boss's commands, I am down and out, and am no longer a candidate, but as to carrying my friends with me I cannot promise. I shall vote for Mr. Williams myself and hope my friends will also." Now, where is "Boss" Butler's grounds for crying "machine" at the honest, untreading Democracy of the State, that has never leagued with Republicans for the overthrow of any party and that has given to North Carolina the best government on earth? The issue in the last Congressional election was the knocking out of McKinley, and this issue in this is keeping it out. POPULIST CORRUPTION FUND.

A Man Without Money of His Own Offering to Buy Spears Off. WHERE WOULD THE CASH COME FROM? A Republican Claims That Thompson Has Pledged Himself to Vote With Them. JACKSONVILLE, N. C., Nov. 2, 1894. (Communicated.) J. L. Hoyt, ex-postmaster and a prominent Republican of this place, at a meeting of the negroes here on Monday night, said in a speech to them: "Thompson is our candidate; he has pledged himself to vote with the Republicans if he went to Congress. Spears is running on the Republican ticket but he is not a true man and we are not going to support him. I thought he would be withdrawn before to-day, but he is not, but I am sure he will be before the day of election." Mr. J. B. Kellum and Maj. E. Morton swear to the above quotation. On last Wednesday, said J. L. Hoyt told Spears that if he would withdraw as a candidate for Congress that he (Hoyt) would pay his expenses up to date out of his own pocket. Spears said: "No, I am not for sale--I am in the race to win." Spears said further that his expenses were over three hundred dollars. Hoyt admitted the truth of the above statements in the presence of E. M. Koonce, B. M. Henderson, T. E. Gilman and others; and he further said that he did write a letter to Spears telling him he would do all he could to secure his nomination for Congress, and did do so. Now Mr. Hoyt is a pronounced Fusionist and ardently supports Thompson for Congress. Mr. Hoyt has no money of his own to pay Spears expenses, as his whole taxable amount is $271.00, and only $20.00 in cash on 1st day of last June and he has done nothing since to make $300.00. Mr. Hoyt has no money now; who is furnishing this corruption fund? The logical conclusion is that Mr. Hoyt is using Populist money. Has been bought and paid for himself and is now endeavoring to carry out what he was bought for. This is no "Democratic Lie." The proof is on file with Mr. Gilman, Chairman Democratic Executive Committee of Onslow county. "TRUTH."
