COTTON SALES.

Wednesday--80 bales, 5 @ 5.35.

Edith's Burglar, a four act Comedy Drama, will be rendered at the opera house Tuesday next.

Mrs. J. T. Wetherington of Cove arrived to visit her daughter Mrs. J. W. Stewart.

Miss Fannie Wooten of Fort Barnwell, has opened a boarding house in the Cohen building, corner of Hancock and Pollock street.

The Progressive Age has come out strongly in advocacy of the formation of a new county out of the Aurora section of Beaufort county to be known as Richmond.

Mr. G. D. Bowden has moved back on Broad street. He is now located in the store adjoining Dr. Leinster Duffy's office. Mr. W. E. Snelling fitted it up with shelves adapted to Mr. Bowden's business and will now continue with him as clerk.

Mr. W. L. Guillardet, auditor of the O. D. S. S. company and Col. A. C. Hudgins, and Messrs. M. K. King and J. E. LaMoine, general officers of the Norfolk and Southern R. R., were in the city yesterday.

Messrs. C. Barnum Seeley, W. Marshall, A. Marshall and A. G. Hamilton of N. Y., a party of wealthy gentlemen on their private steam yacht "Thyra" are in the city for a few days on their way further South and were registered at The Albert yesterday.

A two and a half year old child of Christopher Hill, col., who lives eight miles from the city, was kicked on the forehead by a mule yesterday and injured so he had to be brought to the city for attendance. The wound is not dangerous however.

Mr. Jno. S. Simpson of Powell's Point, Currituck county, came in from Wilmington last night en route to his home. He has been on various vessels in many parts of the world and is just off the British steamer S. S. Gruff. This is his first visit home in seven years.

A large dog with a tin can in which were bits of rattling metal was seen flying over the streets yesterday with yelps of terror at almost every jump. We know not how far he ran before getting rid of the can or finding out that it was wasted effort to run from it--he was still going when last heard from. The punishment was not inflicted upon the dog as a joke, but as a means of making him keep away from a butcher stall.

Excursion to Kingston.

Those who desire to take in the excursion to Kingston tomorrow should purchase tickets at once as only a few tickets will be sold. Mr. Chas. J. McSorley is the only one from whom tickets can be obtained. The train leaves at 3 p. m. and reaches New Bern Friday night at 1:30. Price of tickets only $1. A number of married ladies will chaperone the crowd.

Hotel Chateaux Arrivals.

L. Finlayson, N. C.; J. W. Mason, N. C.; H. S. Owsen, Baltimore; C. K. Hancock, city; G. E. Crabtree, New York; Kelley E. Terry, Stella; J. W. Martens, Wilmington, N. C.; H. M. Groves, city; A. B. Wetmore, New York; Polk Miller, Virginia; S. S. Beaton, N. Y.; C. M. Mills, New York; W. L. Guillardet, New York; J. E. LaMoine, Norfolk; Sol Bear, Wilmington, N. C.

Polk Miller last night.

Polk Miller, the well-known Virginian, gave one of his noted lectures last night at the opera house. The entertainment was by no means a burlesque of the negro race but a fine literary effort. He pictured the old-time "fore-de-war" darkey graphically--both pathetically and humorously and not only described but gave apt anecdotes illustrative of the various phases of his character.

The lecture was an hour and three quarters in length and the audience only wished it had been longer.

Two Hundred or More New Berne Views.

The Covet Photographing company, of Chicago, five members of which have been working in the city for about a week have taken about two hundred views around the city. Among the last taken were the two public schools, the Collegiate Institute and the Graded school. These were taken in several pictures. The scholars were taken in one set of pictures by rooms and the entire school was also taken together.

The company does work for Northern publications but the work here is simply for what can be gotten out of the pictures from those interested in them.

NOVEMBER.

THOS. C. MADHAM, EDENTON, N. C. Written for THE JOURNAL.

I bring rich colors of russet and gold, From the fronts to the trembling leaves-- I redder berries by first touch of cold, And scatter splendors as over of old, Which the beautiful wood-nymph weaves.

I teach her to lay her fair little hand On drooping branch of the willow-- And binding each bough with a golden band, Linked to the ferns that cover the land, And the wood-moss as her pillow.

She weaves her web over the forest green, As swift as the Athosian sea-- And the reddening leaves by sunlight seen, With their purple shades and the cold between.

Excels a glorious dawning, And it stands, this beautiful forest of old, As deep as the Athosian sea-- With its russet plumes and borders of gold, And its tangled brush and wonders untold As a world in itself to me.

THE HEBREW FESTIVAL.

A Perfect Success--Will be Repeated To-Night.

The Hebrew festival last night was a gratifying success, both in the number attending, pleasantness and financial results. Grab-bag, United States post office, and other things to entertain were in sufficient variety.

The ornamentation of the room was beautiful, the refreshments varied and of fine quality.

So marked was the success, that heeding the solicitations of numerous visitors, the ladies in charge have concluded to hold it again tonight, commencing at 6 o'clock.

Being for such a worthy purpose as aiding in the erection of their house of worship, we hope to see the liberal patronage repeated.

THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER.

Taken as the Representative of the Locality in Which it was Published--Its Effect More Wide Reaching than Many Suppose.

"There is nothing that reflects the energy and enterprise of a people or community to the same degree as does the local newspaper. Persons who wish information concerning a strange locality are very apt to request a copy of the local paper, and are guided in a degree by the impressions formed by the home journal. Hardly a week passes but we receive requests for specimen copies of the Age from different sections of the country, one just received from Westport, in the far off state of Oregon, and there is hardly a state north or west but we have received such requests, in addition to the many requests from the different parts of this state seeking information that would be beneficial to those seeking investments or a home in our midst. These are only instances of many that prove the importance of giving your home journal all the support and encouragement that is in your power; in so doing you are improving your own business, building up the community in which you live, and you aid in improving the educational advantages of the country of which you are a citizen."

The above paragraph is taken from the Aurora Progressive Age. It puts in a plain light, the effect and benefit of the local paper upon the town or village and the section in general in which it is published. It is undeniably the fact that people do very largely look to the newspapers of their locality for their impressions of that place. If one of our own citizens desired for any cause to become better informed in reference to any place of which he knew but little, one of his first moves would be to get the local paper and every line of it would be examined carefully. What is true in reference to what a New Bernean would do about getting information of another locality is true of citizens in other localities seeking information about New Berne. This is one reason why every advertisement in a newspaper is not only a benefit to the advertiser but to the community at large.

There is no telling where or when an advertisement is going to bring forth results. We have more than once been shown letters to business men of the city who were making improvements to their stores from parties in other states--some times quite distant ones, seeking to sell their material. These applications were brought about by notices in THE JOURNAL of what they were doing.

Again our readers, no doubt, will remember the many applications for seed with which Mr. Chas. W. Bray was surprised when we told this summer of his boat loads of 40 and 75 pound water. The applications came from the western western portions of the United States as well as from Northern and Southern States.

Again, New Berne fancy poultry is coming into appreciative notice in all parts of the country, even in the noted fancy poultry regions. This has partly been accomplished by the views which delighted and ably critical visitors have had of the poultry at the several exhibitions of the East and West. It has also partly been accomplished by the views which have been done by the breeders in the regular poultry journals of the country, but let the dealers have bred with all the degree of excellence they chose, the industry would still have not come to the front if it had but for the prominence given to it in the local columns of THE JOURNAL. So we might go on and enumerate other things, but these will suffice to emphasize what we have always maintained, the importance of making the home paper a good paper, the paper as an almost certain rule is indicative of the place in which it is published and is so accepted by the outside world.

SYRIAN LECTURER.

Rev. L. Moghabghab will Lecture in the Presbyterian Lecture Room To-Night and Exhibit in Y. M. C. A. Hall for the Benefit of his Church To-Morrow.

At the Presbyterian lecture room to-night Rev. Faddoul Moghabghab, a native lecturer from the Holy Land and who is a graduate of the college at Beyrout, will deliver a lecture on "Life Among the Arabs." This is a rare opportunity to hear an educated Syrian speak to us of his country. He comes highly recommended by friends of the pastor some of whom Mr. Moghabghab knew while studying at Beyrout. He urges his people and cordially invites others to be present at 7:30 this p. m. and hear this first lecture. He will lecture upon those interesting people, the Arabs, and tell of their history, origin, civilization, customs and manners.

To-morrow he will give an exhibition from the World's Fair in the Y. M. C. A. Hall from 10 o'clock in the morning to ten o'clock at night. The exhibition consists of a fine panorama by French artists and also genuine Eastern weapons and costumes, also curiosities and novelties of the land both ancient and modern for this the small sum of ten cents will be charged. The object is to raise money for the church in his native land which is not yet self-sustaining. He came over to the World's Fair with missionaries from his native country and by their advice remained for this purpose.

Mr. Moghabghab informs us that the Christian church in his country is not divided into denominations--they scarcely know of the existence of them.

A CURE FOR DIPHTHERIA.

An Easily Used Remedy. Tried and Found Successful.

Nine years ago the JOURNAL published a diphtheria cure. One of our citizens preserved the recipe and when occasion required used it and found that it worked to perfection. The remedy is simple, easily prepared and easily used and he thinks it should be more generally known. It is simply the vapors arising from burning equal parts of turpentine and turpentine in the room in which the patient is. The original item is a desperate case in which it had been successfully used and we re-publish the account of it:

"I had Lockwood, a nine-year-old child, become violently ill with diphtheria. His case was so weak that it was almost dangerous to try tracheotomy, or cutting open the windpipe. A day or two before the doctor was called he received a copy of the Paris Figaro, which contained a report made to the French Academy of Medicine by Dr. Delteil, Dr. Delteil said that the vapors of liquid tar and turpentine would dissolve the fibrous excretions which choke up the throat in croup and diphtheria. Dr. Delteil's process was described. He pours equal parts of turpentine and a liquid tar into a tin pan or cup and sets fire to the mixture. A dense, resinous smoke arises, which obscures the air of the room. "The patient," Dr. Delteil says, immediately seems to experience relief; the choking and rattling stops; the patient falls into a slumber and seems to inhale the smoke with pleasure. The fibrous membrane soon becomes detached, and the patient coughs up micrococci. These, when caught in a glass, may be seen to dissolve in the smoke. In the course of three days afterwards the patient entirely recovers."

"The doctor tried this experiment successfully with little Ruth Lockwood. She was lying gasping for breath when she visited her. First pouring about two tablespoonfuls of liquid tar on an iron pan set on fire. The rich, resinous smoke which rose to the ceiling was by no means unpleasant. As it filled the room the child's breathing became natural, and as the smoke grew dense she fell asleep."

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Democrats Preparing to Fight Each Other Again--Will They Force an Extra Session of Congress? Personal--Ex-Speaker Reed Has Opposition--Income Tax--Civil Service Extension.

So soon as Congress meets, a war "to the knife" will be begun on the Administration's financial and tariff policy unless a compromise is effected before that time. Senators Harris, Voorhees, Jones, the "pop-gun" bills. Other senators are averse to further tariff legislation. It is needless to dwell on the advantages this discord will give the opposite party. Democratic unity is what every patriot should at once attempt to promote. Unless the democrats are more harmonious, the Republicans and Popocrats will force an extra session on the country and organize both Senate and House. From the present outlook, it seems scarcely probable that the majority of the appropriation bills will receive any consideration before the coming short session closes. Senator Platt who is here on his way from a visit to New Berne, North Carolina says this will be the result.

Judge Advocate General Lemly, U. S. X., has returned from a visit to his native city, Salem, N. C.

Opposition from unexpected sources has developed to "Czar" Reed's recent speakership boom. Perhaps some of Tom Reed's compatriots with presidential aspirations do not wish to see him put in a position where he can wield so much power.

Commissioner Miller of the internal revenue bureau is quietly perfecting his arrangements for the execution of the Income Tax provisions of the tariff law, but a secret is made of the belief that another enforcement of the law will be in practice without a large increase in the service. It is understood that Secretary Cardie will ask Congress for an immediate appropriation of $500,000 for the employment of an additional deputy collectors, for the purpose of putting the machinery for the collection of the income tax into practical operation. The law takes effect January 1 next, but all the machinery for its enforcement must be prepared in advance of that date.

It is understood that the President today issued an order placing additional post office and state department employees under the Civil Service Regulations. Up to a late hour this afternoon the order had not been received of the departments or the officers of the Commission.

COVE CORRESPONDENCE.

Unpublishable News--Church Services and Personal Mention.

Madam Rumor, keeps telling us that marriages are near at hand, but that is not publishable news until they are over.

Sunday was rather gloomy, but we had service in the Baptist church conducted by the pastor Rev. J. W. Rose, Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. At the last named service the church celebrated the Lord's Supper.

Miss Hattie White and Miss Vick Arnold, of Trenton High School, spent Sunday visiting their parents. They are bright girls, and are likely to be bright.

Mr. M. A. Waters of Dover, spent Sunday visiting her sister, S. R. Charlton; Monday she left to visit her daughter near Winter Green.

Mrs. Lou Taylor, of Trenton, was visiting her Bro. Mr. J. E. Waters Sunday.

Mr. L. F. Taylor made a flying business trip to New Bern Tuesday.

Rev. J. W. Rose, went up to Kingston Wednesday to aid Rev. A. L. Stough in the organization of a Baptist church about four miles from Kingston.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

The most horrible features of that Armenian massacre seem to have happened in the columns of the newspapers.

The prizefighter appears to be more dangerous on the stage than in the ring, if it be fair to judge from the murder of Con Riordan by Bob Fitzsimmons.

As soon as the other fellows get the offices Tammany will begin to preach reform. No better recipe for making a political reformer has ever been found than turning an office holder out.

Ida Wells continues to preach against lynching in the South, despite the fact that nearly all of the recent lynchings have occurred in Ohio; Indiana, Kansas, and Iowa.

A great many new Congressmen are engaged in telling their constituents what they will do when they reach Washington. When they are finally sworn in and formally placed under the direction of Mr. Reed these same gentlemen will be very much surprised over the numerous things they will find to accomplish.

"Abandon all hope ye who enter here." --DANTE.

This should be the motto of some Clothing Shops. When you enter some you "abandon all hope" of getting your money's worth, or if you are not fitted or dissatisfied you can "abandon all hope" of getting them exchanged or of getting your money back. We don't do business that way. Our plan is to try and give you your dollar's worth and any garment that is not satisfactory can be exchanged or the money refunded if brought back within a reasonable time. Only at HOWARD'S.
