The Common Bear Grass of this Ecgio and its Adaptability for Textile

There is many a product of this region that has heretofore received but little attention, which is capable of being developed into importance. Our attention has been called to one of these little appreciated natural products, by Mrs. Wm. Beard, who is here in the interest of the International Colonization Company. The product referred to is the yucca, commonly designated as "bear the exclusive use and occup grass" with which all are familiar and Bar and officers of the Court. which, though not generally known, is a

Superior Court. WEDNESDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

State vs. E. D. Galleon, special pension examiner, charged with slander by a colored woman because in the course of his duties he made investigation as to whether she was the mother of an illegitimate child, which if true would debar her from receiving a pension. The case was continued from yesterday. It did not take the jury very long to say "Not Guilty." During the trial a number of our good citizens voluntarily went forward and testified to Mr. Galleon's good character. He has been in the city a number of times. His trips here reach back to sev-

"Eight years ago the now widely and fevorably known firm of Sharp & Bryan was formed as the successors to the old firm of W. H. Calhoun & Co., Messrs. W, N. Sharp and Charles S. Bryan compos-ing the new partnership. Since that time they have steadily increased their already large clientage until to-day they rank among the highest in the volume and ex-tent of their business as dealers in stocks, onds and investment securities.

The value of such a firm to investor

The value of such a firm to investors depends to a large extent upon its exchange facilities. Sharp & Bryan last week extended their facilities in this direction by Mr. Bryan's purchase of a seat in the New York Cotton Exchange. As the Exchange member of the firm be bad already occupied a seat in the New York Stock Exchange."—Trade Review and Banking Journal.

As the majority of our readers know, the Mr. Bryan spoken of above is a native of this city, the son of Mr. Jas. A. Bryan, President of the National Bank and chairman of the Board of County Commissioners. What adds importance to the above excellent notice is the character of the publication that makes it. ### The Serious Situation Between the

an thorougly acquainted with the part played recently by this government and Great Britain to Nicaragua to be serious in the extreme. It is probably due to this seriousness that the State Department officials decline to say anything on the snbject. The eriousness of the situation ties in this. The United States government has recognized the Nicar guan sule in the Mosquito territory. It is therefore this government's duty rule is not molested by any European power. Great Britain having notified Nicaragua that she does not recognize the poultry of all kinds. R loubtly devolve upon the British min ster in that country to demand that any British subjects which may have been or may be arrested for violation of Nicaraguan laws, be released, and that an explanation be made by the Nrcaraguan government for the arrest Should the Nicaraguan government de e to release such prisoners, the armed orce of Great Britain may then be brought into play to compel obedience to the British minister's demands. This will be the time for the United States government to call on Great Britain to balt. on the international chess board. A man with no experience in diplomatic affairs can rendily see the seriousness of such a situation. Therefore, it is not surprising that the State Department officials regard the news from Managon as decidedly

On the other hand, serious complications might arise from two sources. First, the dispute over the attempt the Nicaraguan government to collect tax-State vs. Jno. McRay, col. ALL DEPENDS UPON BRITISH INSTRUC TIONS.

It is not believed that the commander of the British warship said to have been ordered to Bluefields has any instructions other than to protect British interests. If this is so, there is little reason to fear any armed conflict between this country and Great Britian immediately.

Should the contrary be true, however, and the Britian commander have een given orders to forciby prevent the Nicaraguan government from compelling obedience to its law, there is no doubt that so soon as the telegraph could bring news of any forcible action on Great Brit-ain's part to Washington and carry or-ders back from this government to the commander of the United States naval forces in those waters, the British would find themselves confronted with the op-position of a force of blue jackets under the Stars and Stripes.

MANEUVERING FOR THE CANAL. The real object of Great Britain's re-fusal to recognize the Nicaraguan rule is not for one moment to be considered due Neither can it be conceded that her action is due to any uice regard for the obligations imposed on her by the Managua treaty. Great Britain is not disposed to depart from old and cherished customs, and international history shows her regard for treaty obligations with puny nations to be anything but nice.

Therefore there must be some other reasons for her action, else she would not ave delayed so long after the overthrow f Chief Clarence in notifying Nicaragua hat her rule in the Mosquito territory could not be recognized. That other seson is believed to he in the Nicaragua is well known in the diplomatic that ever since the birth of that it Great Britain has been maneuverget control of it. It is true that is a treaty which supposedly pre Great Britain securing such control, aties have been broken before by ountry when a land-grabbing enden in view. It is strongly believed ne officials of the State Department trut Britain has made several sub-res with a view to getting a fosten the territory near the canal.
