County Commissioners meet Monday.

Bids for Fair will be awarded next Monday. What privileges are to be awarded to the highest bidder are announced this morning.

News reaches us of the death of Mrs. Jemima Ellis, wife of Mr. J. B. Ellis, of Perfection, after a brief illness--she was sick but four days.

From the Beaufort Herald we learn that ex-State Senator L. A. Potter's family have left to make their abode in Washington City. Mr. Potter preceded them some months ago having procured an appointment there.

We learn that a Pittsburg firm will soon erect a $100,000 plant on North river, Carteret county. It will be a saw mill with manufacturing connected with it.

Hon. Joseph E. Brown, of Atlanta, Ga., died Friday, aged 73 years. He was Georgia's war Governor, was chief of the Supreme court and since U. S. Senator. He had been in feeble health for some time.

To-day is the last day that the E. C. D. and O. D. S. S. companies will have a steamer leaving New Berne on Sunday. Hereafter, until further notice, Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays will be the only sailing days and six p. m. the sailing hour.

This being the last sabbath of Rev. G. G. Harley in New Berne, the Hancock street M. E. congregation will hold love feast this morning at nine o'clock. Mr. Harley, when he leaves New Berne will join the Western N. C. Conference. The regular church services will be held as usual at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school 3 p. m.

The violation of a State Liquor law is in sufficient not only to subject the offender to a refusal of renewing the license to sell but to a revoking of a license already granted and being used. This we think is not generally realized but it is a fact, and the selling of liquor to minors and the selling of it on Sunday are both violations of the State law.

Street Letter Boxes.

Letter Boxes have been placed at the corners of Queen, Broad and Hancock streets. Others will be placed Monday on Middle St. near South Front, and near the A. & N. C. depot.

Postmaster Manly will give notice on Tuesday of the hours when letters will be taken from the boxes, and other regulations concerning the boxes.

The boxes are not to be used until Monday Dec. 3rd, 1894.

End of Welcome Week.

Among the passengers on the W. N. & N. train last night were a few, probably the last, returning from the Welcome Week festivities at Wilmington. All seemed well pleased.

The games, the parades, the sham battle, the fire works, etc., all come in for a share of admiration. The city was well filled with visitors and everything presented a gala appearance. It was a week of great enjoyment.

Three thousand people witnessed the foot ball game at Bilton Park between the A. & M. College and the Wilmingtons. It was the first game of college foot ball ever played in that city. The score was 22 to 13 in favor of the college team. The umpire expressed himself gratified at the Wilmington team, not better experienced than they are holding the college team down as low as this. The game was interesting and admirably fair in every way.

There was a repetition of fire works on Thanksgiving night and also a German complimentary to the young ladies of the city.

Wormwood Day, Monday, Dec. 3, 1894.

We will present to each of our customers, whose purchases amount to One Dollar or more, A handsome engraving 20x24 inches.

ABUSE OF CONFIDENCE.

A Colored Man Run Away With a Hired Horse and Cart and Tries to Sell Them--Where are They Now?

Peter Roberts, col. of James City, came into our office Saturday and told us that on last Monday, he hired a horse and road cart of his to a colored man of New Berne named Geo. Guthrie, just for that day, but that Guthrie has left with them for parts unknown. When last seen he was on the other side of Havelock, and while on the way he tried to sell the whole outfit,--at one place he offered to take twenty-five dollars for both the horse and cart, and at another place, fifteen dollars.

Guthrie is a full-faced yellow man, about 5 1/2 feet high with rather full eyes. The animal is a red sorrel mare, with white blaze in face and wide left hind foot. The vehicle was a yellow road cart.

Roberts is quite anxious for the capture of the thief, but more anxious still to recover his property.

PREPARING FOR THE FAIR.

A VERY BRIGHT OUTLOOK.

Increased Premium List--Large Preparations for Advertising--Look Out for Your Exhibits in Time So as to Have the Best.

Everything is now moving nicely for the rapidly approaching exhibition of the East Carolina Fair in this city, and the advertising arrangements are being perfected in keeping with the lines of advancement.

Doubtless acting somewhat on the principle that the pen is mightier than the sword, one of the novel plans for advertising the fair has adopted this year is the gratuitous distribution of 1,728 lead pencils. These will be placed with proper individuals, book-keepers, editors etc., by Rev. Edward Ball as he makes his annual trip in behalf of the Fair and though small, they will no doubt prove very effective. The pencils are not common ones, but are the very best that the Jos. Dixon Company makes, and are lettered with the Fair dates and the invitation "Come, you will be pleased."

Then there are beautiful calendars to be distributed--all of one style but with different finish as to ornamentation.

The posters to be used are numerous and of many sizes and styles. The largest ones, four by seven feet, and the illustrations on all come the nearest to being good pictures of any that we ever saw used for such a purpose. The posters are by all odds, the best ever used, and are the best that could be found.

The premium list is now in the hands of the printers and will be ready in about two weeks. It has been increased considerably. Those who have friends who would be interested in the Fair to the extent that they would be likely to either some or exhibit, are requested to furnish their names to Mr. Chas. Reizenstein at once and he will promptly supply them with a copy when the lists is ready.

There was never a better outlook for interesting exhibits and for all that makes a fair good than for the coming exhibition.

Again we would urge upon all--especially the farmers--to look out for their exhibits right now. They can secure better crop specimens by making their selections at once, and storing them safely away than they can by putting it off. Prepare in time and don't take chances. Make the Fair advance as it has done with every exhibition yet held.

DIFFICULT BOND GIVING.

Newly Elected Officers in Many Counties Find it no Easy Matter to Get Bonds that Will Stand the Test.

A special dispatch to the Norfolk Virginian says that very many of the newly elected county officers of this State are having trouble in getting up their bonds, the commissioners being very strict in the matter.

We judge the Democrats elsewhere realize as they should in Craven county and everywhere, that a Democrat has no more business to help a Republican into office by going on his bond than he has by giving him his vote--in fact, not as much, for in the majority of cases if the bond is considerably the Republican-elect is hopelessly left, as the proportion of Republicans who have means that will enable them to meet the rigid financial requirements which the law imposes upon those who go on such bonds is small.

ROMAN CATHOLICS IN OFFICE.

Facts which Show That Their Religious Belief Has Never Excluded Them From Places of Trust or Profit in This State.

EDITOR JOURNAL--The letter of your Washington correspondent, in your issue of the 1st, instant, quotes Judge Gudgeon as saying that "It is true that by the Constitution of the State, adopted in 1776, Roman Catholics could not hold public office."

The 32nd clause of that Constitution, to which Judge Gudgeon refers, and which was amended in 1835, was liable to the construction mentioned no doubt, but the facts in the case seem to indicate that either it was not so construed, while it was in force, or that such construction was not enforced, or even regarded. Judge Wm. Gaston was himself a member of the Convention of 1835, and one of the ablest arguments of his life was in contradiction of such a construction, and he was allowed to retain his seat.

Roman Catholics have held office in North Carolina from the earliest days. Judge Gaston was elected to the State Senate by the County of Craven in 1800, when hardly twenty two years old, and declined the position. Francis Xavier Martin, the eminent historian and lawyer, another Roman Catholic, represented New Berne in the House of Commons in 1806 and 1807; Judge Gaston in 1808, 1809, 1824, 1827, 1828, 1831; and Judge M. E. Manly in 1834-35. The town was then entitled to borough representation.

In 1812, 1818 and 1819 Judge Gaston was a member of the State Senate for Craven County, and in 1830 his son, Alex. F. Gaston, represented the County in the House of Commons. Judge Gaston was also elected to the House of Representatives in Congress from this District in 1813 and again in 1815, a momentous period of our history.

The election of Roman Catholics to public position since the adoption of the Constitution of 1835 has, as you have already shown, been very frequent, and altogether it does not appear that their religious belief has at any time, in the State of North Carolina, had the effect of excluding them from any office or place of trust or profit."

GRAHAM DAVES.

A football game Thanksgiving day between a college team against the town men of Kirkwood, Mo. resulted in the serious and possibly fatal injury of Philip Gaues, quarter back of the college men's team. He was the under man in a scrimmage and his physician reports him badly injured internally.

A special from Raleigh to the Richmond Dispatch says that the contest for Congress in the Third District is by Cyrus Thompson (Populist) against John G. Shaw (Democrat). Spears (Republican), who gave notice of contest, is not backed by his committee, which thus treats him because he did not retire in favor of Thompson.

COLONIZATION SCHEME.

Pennsylvania People Purchase Farming Lands in Craven County, N. C.

"One of the largest colonization schemes that has been projected in this vicinity has been organized by an Allegheny firm, with Tomb, Johnson & Co., in charge. With the financial backing they now have, the new colony is expected to prove a success. In this event within the next thirty days more than eighty residents of this city and surrounding towns will leave to take up a permanent residence in North Carolina. Farming lands to the extent of 50,000 acres have been leased and purchased in Craven county, at the junction of the Neuse and Trent rivers. The members of the colony are farmers, gardeners and mechanics.

The above telegram was sent out on Friday from Pittsburg, Pa. About two weeks ago Mr. H. M. Tomb, of the company spoken of, spent a short time in New Berne, made some land investments at that time and this present large scheme is also the result of the visit.

Mr. J. J. Wolfenden represents the colonization scheme at this end of the line, Messrs. Tomb, Johnson & Co., at the other end--they are working together. Mr. Wolfenden has been diligently engaged along this line for about four years and his labors now seem about to yield a rich fruition.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Harvard is now being listed as an easy thing.

"Is football a crime?" seems to be the legitimate successor to "Is suicide a sin?"

The chances are that the late Con Rioridan prolonged his life by sticking to pugilism and having nothing to do with football.

The conference between Republicans and Populists at Raleigh indicates that fusion is to continue two years hence.

Miss Constance Intalls, it is said, will soon start a woman suffrage paper in Aitchison.

The Emperor of China is obliged, by etiquette, to dine alone. His dinner generally consists of eight courses.

The best fish story comes from Boston, where a fish got into the water motor that pumps wind for a church organ and broke up the music of a wedding march.
