THE MESSAGE.

THE JOURNAL is giving its readers the President's message in installments. Few papers in the land can afford to print the whole document, nor indeed is it at all necessary. It is a long, dull mostly of material derived from the session 28 days, from Dec. 1st 1893 to The part devoted to foreign sion of failure, except the reference rect statement of all compensation audited to the Bluefields incident which is an indirect claim of triumpb. The part of the message that is of most interest to the people is that concerning the currency; and 19 days attendance @ 82.00 per of this there is every variety of Signing Vouchers 7 months, opinion. In Democratic circles, Superintending Court House and Senator Brice calls it "a dream." Senator Gorman says the President does not seem to comprehend the logic of facts. Among Republicans 21 days attendance @ $2.00 per it is criticised as visionary, impracticable, nonsensical. Looking at the message in the light in which Supervising Court House 2 mos. it is presented by the friends and the opponents of the Alministra- Services rendered in laying off tion, we revert; to our original position, that little or nothing will be done in the remaining months of the fifty-third Congress, to reform the currency or farther amend the tariff. On both questions the day attendance @ 82,00 per Democratic party is hopelessly di- Supervising Bridger. vided.

The free coinage of silver, so earnestly contended for by the 20 days attendance @ $2.00 per Democracy of North Carolina and the South generally, has not the Supervising work at Nelson's ghost of a chance; and State banks, Ferry. if they come at all, will be State Supervising County Bridges banks in name only.

So much for the utterfailure of the Democratic party to agree on questions of public policy.

Had the Administration been thoroughly Democratic from the beginning to the end-taking no council of Republicans, but giving its honors and its confidence to Democrats and Democrats onlythe condition of public affairs would have been vastly better.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENTS. If the winds are generally adverse, they are bringing some ships into port.

Many a bright fellow makes his living as a newspaper correspondent, and the assembling of Congress is the occasion of his highest glee and most abundant prosperity.

Washington Newspaper Correspondents are now in the bright morning of their hay-day. On ten cents a column to five dollars a word, according to the writer's ability, or his employers liberality or business sense, he makes life tol. erable, moderate or abundant and hilarious as the case may be.

We are newspaper men ourselves and we want all the craft to flourish, but a modest regard for our obligations to the public induces us to put the too credulous on their guard. Very little reliance is to be put upon the statements of the average Washington Correspondent, but our correspondent-be she a man, or be he a woman-is strictly reliable.

Take the Washington letters to the Metropolitan press, and you will find that all Ocean's waters do not contain such endless varieties of living creatures as are to be found in Washington. The same indi-vidual is presented by different papers in exactly opposite aspects. papers in exactly opposite aspects.

See pictures of Mr. Cleveland, for example. A Republican paper represents him as more voraclous than the whale that swallowed Jonah. Not content with specialty, one biped, he guips down a whole le, and then complains that his people, and then complains that his belly is not full. A Democratic paper, as in honor bound, presents and virtue of Jefferson, Madison, Jackson and all the Apostles, but unfortunately surrounded by a rebellious and unregenerate Con- Monday night.
