Mr. W. T. Mayo has taken the position of postmaster at Mesic's.

Mr. F. E. Hege is now connecting his residence and office by a regular bell telephone and will make connection with the city, most probably at Mr. John Dunn's store.

Mr. E. T. Ippock, secretary, sends us a notice of a basket party that will be held at Asbury church on Thursday night Dec. 20th. Every body is invited to be present and take part.

A white man had a drunken fit at the market yesterday so severe that those who saw it thought it would surely kill. However, he rallied after a while and went on his way. It is said this act is his first one and yet he will not let the drink alone.

The Italians who have been "trying fortunes" with a cage of trained parakeets, and selling paper flowers on the streets departed yesterday on the steamer Neva.

A disturbance in which some shooting was done is reported to have occurred in one of the small buildings near the junction of Broad and Queen streets Sunday, but the participants managed to hush it up so that those engaged have not been discovered.

Mr. T. J. Hawkins of Dover, and Miss Narcissa Wetherington of Cove, were married on the 5th inst., in the Methodist church at Cove station. Rev. J. W. Rose, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating. Six couples were in attendance and after the ceremony an elegant supper was held at the bride's old home.

The lands of Bishop Petty, col., and his father-in-law, E. R. Dudley, on the macadamized road are offered for rent to the highest bidder by Mr. P. H. Pelletier, who was at the last term of Superior court appointed receiver. They are valuable truck tracts on account of their nearness to the city.

Prof. W. L. Smith started last night on the second two weeks course of his writing school. The instruction he is giving is not a repetition of the first two weeks, neither is it something not suited to new pupils. Those who took the first course and those who now enter for the first time will fill the present course alike adapted to benefit them.

A difficulty occurred Sunday about six o'clock at the home of Sam'l Beebe, col., between him and a colored man named Wm Crossley. The latter threw a piece of iron at the former with such force as to fracture his skull so a portion of it had to be removed. Drs. Primrose and Benton performed the operation. Crossley has escaped.

Seats for the Swedish Concert at the Y. M. C. A. Hall Wednesday night are now on sale at Nunn & McSorley's. Though nearly one hundred seats have already been secured, as the hall is a large one, there are desirable ones remaining. Some of the ladies and gentlemen of the city have kindly offered to decorate the stage with plants, which will add greatly to its appearance.

The grand lodge of free and accepted masons, col., Solicitor George H. White, Grand Master, will meet to-day at the Odd Fellows Hall at half past two o'clock. Fifty or seventy delegates arrived last night. Wednesday night the quartecentennial will be held at the court house at which exercises will be given to which the white people are cordially invited.

Miss Carrie May Cox of Kinston was married Dec. 5th to Mr. Edgar Boothe Marston, of Saluda, Va. The bride was one of Kinston's prettiest and most lovely young ladies, the daughter of Mr. E. F. Cox, one of the most prominent merchants of that place. The presents were many and costly, and came from widely-distant portions of the United States. The couple left soon after the ceremony for a northern tour before going to their home in Virginia.

Leonor Officers Fall to Bond.
The Populist candidates for county officers in Leonor county failed to give bond last week though the county commissioners gave them good opportunity to do so. The clerk holds out hope of giving bond this week but the other county officers will surely be Democratic.

When Democrats keep off the lands of those against whom they vote the latter do not stand much chance of success and Democrats all over the State are realizing this and acting accordingly.

Coming and Going.
Mrs. J. A. Richardson left yesterday morning to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Manning of Durham. Her daughter, Mrs. S. C. Bragan, who has been visiting her, left returning to her home in St. Louis; her son, Mr. C. H. Richardson, left for Durham last week.

Mr. B. G. Credle, Mrs. J. A. Meadows and Mrs. L. H. Outler returned last night from Conference. Mr. Jas. M. Benson and wife of Hyde county arrived en route from Conference to their home.

Miss Nannie Melrose, who went down to Wilmington Welcome Week and has since then been visiting friends there returned home last night.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

For the Year 1895 by the Atlantic N. F. E. Co. No. 1. at their Annual Meeting Held Last Night—After Meeting, Officers.

The Atlantic S. F. E. Company held their Annual meeting last night. Pretty much the same officers were re-elected.

The following are the officers elect for the ensuing year:
Engineer—Chas. J. McSorley.
Foreman—Walter D. Harrington.
Asst. Foreman—Jacob L. Hartfield.
Capt. of Hose—Geo. C. Jones.
Secretary—Geo. D. Roberts.
Treasurer—Herbert B. Smith.
Practical Engineer—John C. Green.
Representatives—Herbert W. Simpson, Tom. C. Daniels.

After the meeting adjourned, the most of the company, by invitation of the officers-elect, proceeded to Mesic's restaurant where they got away with an excellent oyster supper.

CONFERENCE APPOINTMENTS.

Rev. J. T. Lyon Goes to Rockingham—
Revs. L. L. Nash and A. D. Betts to Come to New Berne.

Rev. J. T. Lyon, who for the past year has filled the pastorate of Centenary M. E. church, this city, is sent by Conference this year to Rockingham. There are many sincere expressions of regret at this news. Mr. Lyon has endeavored himself to our citizens generally. He is greatly beloved by his congregation and the church asked for his return, but Conference, in its wisdom, no doubt concluded that on account of ill health it would be better for him to serve a church with a smaller membership and hence made the change.

Rev. L. L. Nash takes Mr. Lyons place as pastor of Centenary church. He is the oldest minister in the Conference. In him the church will have not only an able but a zealous, faithful and warm hearted pastor.

Rev. A. D. Betts takes the place of Rev. G. H. Harley at Hancock Street church. Mr. Betts is a good consecrated old minister who is loved by all who know him.

There is a strong feeling of satisfaction at this appointment. Mr. Betts has served near New Berne before and is known personally to many of our citizens and by reputation to many others. We believe both churches have cause for congratulation in the pastors that have been sent them.

DURHAM CORRESPONDENCE.

Conference—Political Notes—Planning to Come to the East—Carolina Fair.

The Methodist ministers and laymen from all eastern and central North Carolina, together with their wives, Antoinette &c., have been here since Tuesday to the number of over three hundred, and Durham has opened its doors, its arms, and its purses to give them a pleasant time, both in a spiritual and corporal sense. The butchers, fowl vendors and fish dealers have procured the best to be had for the preachers, whose appetites are proverbially of the best for good vittles.

Business meetings of the different committees are held during the day, with Bishop Wilson presiding, and at night the lay men of the conference preach in the different churches some most excellent and evocative sermons to crowded houses.

Brother Jarney, of big potato fame in your section, is here, as much at home as if he were on his boat that carries the U. S. mail from Morehead to Beaufort. Dempsey Wood, of Falling Creek, is on the programme but has not put in his appearance at this office, as he would have done had he been in the city.

The news in the JOURNAL about the failure of the Craven county officers-elect to give bond is matter of considerable comment by the few New Bernians here.

Cleveland's message has also been dissected and criticized by leaders of all parties here, the consensus of the opinions being that he has attempted to lock the stable door after the horse had been stolen. For my own part, I am disposed to give him credit for having verified the axiom that "the mountain labored and brought forth a mouse." Neither am I surprised that the labor of such a production gave him the gout.

Among the most interesting news in the last JOURNAL, I note that the Epworth League of the M. E. Church at your place propose to sell a fine lot of old mails at auction. Both Postmaster W. T. Blackwell and myself regret exceedingly we did not hear of this in time to attend. However, we have wired Mr. C. R. Thomas to represent us and forward purchases C. O. D.

Sheriff Lane has many friends in this section who knew him during the war who hope he will "hold over" and continue as sheriff of Craven county for another term.

I have met many people the past two weeks who have never attended a New Berne Fair, who propose being on hand at the next. To these highlanders the fish display alone will be a revelation.

Bishop Wilson preached at Trinity church yesterday morning to a packed house.

The biggest sermon ever preached in Durham is credited to President Kilgo's effort on Wednesday night last.

The appointments are being read out this morning.

A. HATCRETT.

To-morrow Night.
The Swedish Quartet Concert Company opened the Y. M. C. A. course at the Exchange Lyceum last night. The program was of a popular character, and thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by the large and refined audience. It was one of the best concert companies that have visited New Berne in a long time, and every member of the program was enjoyed. The quartet singing and vocal solos were enthusiastically received.

Miss Lamkin's recitations are marked by an unusual refinement and simplicity. She feels what she recites, but produces the truth that is in the poem the recites with freedom and grace. Her attributes are unconsciously graceful and her tones of voice are rich and sweet. She has exceptional ability.—Burdorf Pa. Record.

A MODEL ESTABLISHMENT.

Riverside Poultry Yards and Dog Kennels.

The Admirable Fancy and Pet-Stock Business of F. E. Hege and Co.—The Most Complete of its Kind in the Whole South—Their Unparalleled Prize Winning at the State Fair—The Success in Sales Attending Them.

The firm of Messrs. F. E. Hege & Co., the senior member of which moved here from Salem quite recently and opened an enlarged scale in the fancy poultry and pet stock business in partnership with our townsman, Mr. Wm. Dunn, is making a fine start in the business. Since the beginning of the present month, the time at which they were practically ready for business in their new quarters they have repeatedly sent off good shipments over a very wide territory—in fact their business reaches from one extreme of the United States to the other. To give an idea of the business they are doing we give below a list of one day's shipments, those of yesterday.

Two trios, one of Hamburgs and one of Indian Games, to Lancaster, Cal.; one pair Indian Games to Bloomington, Ill.; one pair German Hares to Umatilla, Fla.; one pair guinea pigs to Evinston, Fla.; one pair lop-eared rabbits, to Atlanta, Ga.; and one pair white Leghorns to Southern Pines, N. C. The enterprising proprietors have every reason to be gratified with such a showing.

Mr. Hege's record at the State Fair was a most remarkable one. He exhibited 57 cocks and took 127 premiums. There was not a coop in the lot but what took at least one premium, and a number of the cocks took several each. The highest scoring bird out of the whole 1,700 on the grounds belonged to Mr. Hege. It was a Brown Leghorn hen that scored 94.

While at the fair he sold Col. Julian S. Carr, the President, a pen of Indian Games for $50 and he also sold to Mr. Carr every I. P. game he had, about ninety.

To give some idea of the advance that Messrs. Hege & Co. are making in the business we will state that the fine catalogue which Mr. Hege issued for 1894 was an attractive 6x9 pamphlet of forty pages, and twenty-two illustrations; the one for 1895 will contain 60 pages 10x10 and about forty illustrations.

The firm does not publish electotypes of ideal birds and animals, but photographs of those actually in the yards.

These yards being within easy reach, only just outside the city, are a favorite resort of our citizens; one day recently Mr. Hege said it looked as if half of New Berne came out to them.

It is a feat of unusual measure to visit so large and orderly arranged and managed a place of this description. There are fifty chicken breeding yards, eight pheasant yards, seven dog yards and one hundred and twenty-eight breeding pens for rabbits, and five more dog yards to be added at once.

Every yard on the place has running water in it, it is kept constantly flowing by means of a wind mill and shade is provided for by about 127 peach trees, which were standing before the construction of the place into a poultry yard and in addition to those already there 200 more peach trees and 50 cabbages have just been set out.

Every yard is commodious and the house in the centre of each is constructed after the most improved plans.

Messrs. Hege & Co. breed but two varieties of dogs, the massive and easy natured St. Bernards and the favorite little pets, English pugs. Mr. Hege sold the noble animal, Victor Bruce, of the former breed which he exhibited at the 1st. East Carolina Fair in New Berne to Mr. Eugene Vaughn of Winston for $250. He was then twelve months old.

Twenty varieties of poultry are bred in these yards—the list is as follows: Brahma, light and dark; Cochins, buff, white and black; Plymouth Rocks, barred and white; Blue Langshans, Indian games, Black Minorcas; Leg horns, brown and white; Wyandottes, silver and black; Houdans; Bantams, black breasted red game and buff Cochins; and Polish, white breasted black and red caps. Among these chickens are a number which could not be purchased for less than fifty dollars each.

The proprietors claim that their establishment is the largest and most complete of its kind in the South and we do not believe the claim will be successfully disputed. Visitors from other states have declared that a view of the inmates of the numerous yards is about equal to a visit to a regular poultry show, and yet all visitors are cordially welcomed free of charge.

Four varieties of pheasants are kept. These are the golden, silver, Lady Amherst and Mongolian. Those who have not viewed these bright birds have but little idea of how beautiful and attractive they are.

The pet stock embraces Angora Himalayan, Lop-eared, Dutch and English rabbits; German Hares; Angora, Abyssinian, and common guinea pigs; white and spotted rats and mice, and fancy pigeons in varieties.

The incubators arrived Saturday and will be put into operation next week. The bull frog farm will also now soon be in operation. Mr. Hege had not studied up on frog culture before coming to New Berne but having a suitable place for the purpose just back of his poultry yards and dog kennels, he has investigated the business until he is becoming an enthusiastic over that branch of his business as over any other part of it.

One of his latest acquisitions on frog literature is an extended newspaper account of a frog farm in California on which the frogs are raised by the million, the largest of which bring nine dollars a dozen and from that down to one dollar a dozen. Messrs. Hege & Co. will stock their pond with some of those California frogs.

These Riverside Poultry Yards, Dog Kennels and Pet Stock farm make one of the most interesting enterprises in the State. Not only the proprietors but our people generally are justly proud of them. We confidently look for their fame and success to increase with each passing year.

DEATH-DEALING EXPLOSION.

Steam Saw Mill Blows up in Our Neighboring Town, Washington—E. M. Short, the Proprietor, and Five Other Men Killed.

The shocking news of the blowing up of the large steam saw mill plant at Washington yesterday by wire. The dispatch was from Mr. W. S. Hancock to his father, Mr. Robert Hancock of this city.

Only the brief facts could be gotten that the explosion took place yesterday in Washington and the owner, Mr. E. M. Short, and five other men were killed. Mr. Short was an uncle of Mrs. Seymour Hancock, and his wife was a cousin of Mr. Robert Hancock.

COUNTY COM. PROCEEDINGS.

Beginning of a New Official Term—
Organization of the Board.

Liquor Licenses Granted—New County Officers—Some Vacancies Created by Failure to Give Bond—The Places Filled—Sheriff-Elect Granted More Time—Other Matters.

On motion the poor house and county poor were placed under the care and supervision of Commissioner Smallwood.

On motion it was ordered that the bridges of the county be placed under the supervision of Commissioner W. C. Brewer.

On motion it was ordered that Commissioners J. A. Meadows and E. W. Smallwood be appointed a committee to settle with the sheriff and to meet with the county treasurer at such day as such treasurer may appoint within the first ten days of January, 1895, and other county officers required by law to be present and account for all sums received or disbursed for the county and audit the same and make their report to this Board.

John W. Bowlen tendered his official bond as wood inspector of the city of New Berne for the ensuing term, beginning on the first Monday in December, 1894, and the Board of Commissioners having carefully examined the same and the sureties thereon and the said bond being deemed sufficient in the security thereof, it was upon motion ordered and adjudged that the said bond be and the same is hereby approved and received.

On motion it was ordered, that Thos. Daniels be and he hereby is appointed to fill the vacancy this day declared to exist in the office of treasurer of Craven county, said vacancy having occurred by reason of the disapproval and rejection of the official bond tendered by Mayer Hahn. It is further ordered that he be notified to come before the Board at his next meeting as required by law.

On motion it was ordered that Dr. N. H. Street be and he hereby appointed corner to fill the vacancy declared to exist in the office of coroner of Craven county, said vacancy having occurred by reason of the disapproval and rejection of the official bond tendered for said office by William L. Lassiter.

It was further ordered that he be notified to come before the Board at his next meeting and give bond as required by law.

The committee appointed to audit the report of W. M. Watson, C. S. C., report that they have examined the same and found it correct, and the said report is approved and ordered to be registered in the book of official reports and published as required by chapter five, acts of 1891.

Geo. D. Bowden having been notified of the acceptance of his bond, appeared before the Board and qualified by taking the oath of office as the law directs.
