True and Well Said.

Talking about the next nominee for Governor, the Wilmington Messenger says:

"There is one important part of North Carolina that the makers of Governors never design to consider. All the territory lying from Wilson around by New Berne and Onslow to Wilmington and along the Cape Fear and from Fayetteville towards Wilson is never thought to produce Governors and United States Senators. A most palpable mistake as to the right man, and a systematic deliberation overlooking of a very important section for the success of Democracy.

"No Senator and no Governor has been given to all this section fertile enough in men of ability and in Democratic voters since the war. We can name a dozen who would make Governors above the Democratic average and Senators who would not bring reproach upon the State. Some might be named who by reason of knowledge, learning, general ability, character, sound Democracy, would adorn the Senate and uphold the principles they profess to cherish."

They Acted Instead of Talking.

The Henderson cotton mill Co., which was organized last Thursday evening is to build a $100,000 factory and spin the finest yarn's made. Eighty thousand dollars of the capital stock was taken at once. The mill will be built at once and start with eight thousand spindles.

When a town no larger than Henderson can act so promptly and successfully, what can we think of a place the size of New Berne, talking much and often but doing nothing else in the cotton manufacturing line for years?

Elder Frost to Accept a Call to New Berne.

Elder W. H. Frost went up to Kinston yesterday to assist in the services this week.

Mr. Frost has just been elected to fill the vacancy created in the pastorate of the Free Will Baptist church here by the resignation of Elder Wilson Lupton which went into effect Sunday.

During Mr. Lupton's pastorate the church membership has increased from about a dozen to forty-nine. A good result for a short period of about a year and a half.

Mr. Frost is quite a young man, but is energetic in his work and gives aggressive sermons and fervid exhortations which have their due effect upon the hearers. We look to see the church continue to increase under his ministry.

Lost--A Voice.

Mr. E. B. Burkholder, of the Atlantic Steam Fire Engine company, lost his voice while at New Berne, and is sorely distressed about it. At Saturday's festivities the loss was kindly supplied by the engineer, who blew the engine whistle "Burky" wanted to cheer. A New Berne lady has promised to find it for him.--Wilmington Dispatch.

The Scotland Neck Democrat says: "The tobacco industry is growing around Scotland Neck. One who has not been out from town would be astonished to see how many farmers have cultivated tobacco this year. Already a number of fine cures have been made and the farmers are quite hopeful of good returns from the crop."

TWO BURGLARS CAPTURED

For Breaking into a Wilmington Residence--Sergeant Green With the Assistance of New Berne Officers Did the Work.

Sergeant Robt. Green, of Wilmington came up yesterday on the track of two negro burglars. They broke into and robbed the residence of Mr. Turcentine in Wilmington several nights ago, and getting on the track of them here, New Berne came up Tuesday morning to make the arrest. Not getting up with this "game" readily he made a list of returning, going off on the freight train but he came immediately back on the regular passenger train and last night, with the assistance of Policeman Joseph Gaskill the arrests of both burglars was effected. Their names are Babe Evans and Ben Brown.

A portion of the stolen property has been recovered, some of it here and some of it in Wilmington.

As the place they robbed is a residence they both stand a good chance of getting their necks broken, this offense being a capital one.

Mr. Green tells us that he has been following this kind of work for twenty years but that he has never before experienced such a readiness to help, such friendly cooperation and such efficient service as he got as he did from the New Berne officers on this occasion.

CURIOUS BUT PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Mr. John King Reached from a Moving Train for a Paper and Received a Wound to the Bone.

Mr. John King, baggage and expressman, met a pretty bad accident in a curious manner yesterday, as the train was passing Hampstead coming to New Berne.

There was no occasion to stop at this station and the train went by at quite a rapid rate, probably at 25 miles per hour, but the accident at the station, Mr. J. J. Mallard, tried to hand him a paper to him which Mr. King supposed was a telegram and he tried to take it, but missed in reaching out and the result was Mr. Mallard's hand, presumably the end of his fingers, pointed towards the coming train struck Mr. King's hand and tore the flesh between his thumb and fore finger to the bone.

Mr. Mallard was evidently hurt also, though to what extent is not known. Mr. King looked back and saw him striking his fingers around lively. He says that although his own arm was paining him to the shoulder, he could not help laughing to see the way Mr. Mallard was moving.

PEACHES AND FEARS.

Abundant Yield and Very Fine Fruit.

We have from time to time called attention to the fine results realized by peach culture especially, and other fruit raising also in this region. They are such as to show that large attention should be given to the business. A correspondent who has just taken a trip in the New River section of Onslow county, writes us a letter from which we take the following, as another proof of what we have true and again shown on this line. He says:

"The farms all around looked well and fruit was plentiful.

"Some of the finest peaches we ever saw were at Mr. E. W. Farnell's on New River. They were of the Keller or Lacombe kinds. Some of his trees were loaded down; he had to tie up the limbs to keep them from breaking. We counted on a limb of one tree 64 peaches, and on one sprout or short limb 18 inches long 27 full matured Lacombe peaches. We think on that tree there were not less than fifteen bushels of peaches.

Mr. William Bell, near Hubert P. O., has a pear tree, the fruit of which is now just ripe, of the rotten-core variety which beats anything we have seen of that kind. We think there were at least ten bushels of fine pears on the tree, and they are about as fine flavored as we ever tasted. Mr. Bell is selling them now for $1.00 per bushel. Those at Farnell's are not yet ripe.

"Mr. A. F. Farnell, Sr., has the finest peaches and plenty of them. They are improved varieties, some of them as large as your fist and as red as blood, and entirely free from worms.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

The Durham Recorder announces a rumor that Col. J. S. Carr will shortly build a cotton factory on his Oronokee farm in addition to the one which Messrs. Webb and Ruffin have projected for Hillsboro.

The fire loss of the United States amounts to one-fifth of the net profits of all the industries of the country. The insurance money paid in America is about one-half of the total throughout the world. This is chiefly pure waste and no reasonable excuse can be found for it.

In proportion to population, Germany raises nearly ten times as many potatoes as the United States, and finds them a profitable crop. As this country is importing between 3,000,000 and 3,000,000 bushels of potatoes a year, our farmers should take the hint, and need have no fear of overproduction.

The Aurora correspondent of the Washington Gazette says that "A sure cure for blight in pear trees is to take a teaspoonful each of common salt and flour of sulphur and mix, then bore a hole in the trunk of the tree standing down. Press the mixture in this hole and plug up, cutting off the plug even with the tree."

Bud Wuntz in the Asheville News tells that in the little league named by the road to Blinmore and the Swannanoa river, 1,100 bushels of Irish potatoes were raised on one acre. He seems to think that such results might be obtained from almost any of the land around there.

The Philadelphia Record tells of Thomas Nogle an enthusiastic amateur farmer gathering four tomatoes that averaged ten pounds each in weight; the heaviest weighed twelve pounds and nine ounces. We showed the item to growers, who has counted himself pretty good on tomato raising, but he won't give it up so best; his explanation of the item is that the extraordinary amateur farmer made a mistake and gathered pumpkins for tomatoes.

RALLY TO THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The Desirability of Having One Institution of Commanding Influence.

Rather Than a Number of Small Ones Not Heard of Outside the City and Which Prevents the Attainment of Heights that Might Otherwise be Reached--What is Necessary?

Editor JOURNAL--Dear New Berne: I desire a good school. Do the citizens support the Collegiate Institute as they should? Is not a mistake for the citizens to send their children to the little private schools in New Berne in preference to the High School?

We have in our midst a school worthy of every particular support of the city. The school can not exist without patronage.

There should be at least 250 or 300 pupils in this school the coming scholastic year.

Last year the enrollment increased somewhat over the previous year but it should be the aim of New Berne to make this school larger than it has ever been. The school has now and had the very best of teachers and teachers. The private schools in New Berne take the support that should be given to the High School.

A small number in each school, say from 20 to 25 and there being 6 or 8 of these schools in New Berne will take from 120 to 175 from the High School which otherwise would go. North Carolina has fewer smaller than New Berne has schools--more than 600 to 800 with 100 pupils each.

The few good trained college experienced and well qualified teachers and keep up the school to the very best of the school in New Berne. It is not a mistake for the citizens to send their children to the little private schools in New Berne in preference to the High School.

They will most surely see the very life of the school if they are maintained because they are increasing in number from year to year and the High School is consequently suffering from the same.

May the reputation of our city as the "Athens of North Carolina" be maintained by every citizen in New Berne who is interested in the most vital issue--education; support our institution of learning. If every person who can take pupils through the three R's and who has some friends in New Berne is to be supported as a school teacher, then good-bye to the educational interests of our fair and cultivated city. Who is that that can not start a small school in New Berne? I suspect the principal himself could start up a private school he would pay him better than the one he is so faithfully striving to maintain, especially would he if his pupils were all to be of a high grade, say in the academic department of the High School which pay $4.50 per month. Suppose he had from 25 to 30 pupils of this grade. He would not want to pay him much better than for him to be compelled to employ first class teachers and pay them from 240 to 450 per month and have to supply him with a full staff of books.

One person an easily taught 25 of them all of a class without any assistance. But the majority of the pupils are primary and intermediate who pay from $1.25, $2.00, $3.50 and $5.00 per month. There is no reason why the Collegiate Institute should not be supported. The faculty is good. The building is well arranged for school. The campus is more beautiful than that of some of the colleges and no expense has been spared to make everything attractive for the school.

The school will not be supported from a distance if the home of the school does not support it. Let us all join our forces to make one school in New Berne such that we can point to with pride.

The question is, shall New Berne occupy the foremost ranks among our educational centers as she once did, or will she continue to see the palms worn by others? Shall she have a high school in the true sense of the word, one to which we all can point with pride, or shall she be content to support a half dozen insignificant private schools, which never add to the reputation of a place. Let our citizens be alive to the reputation of our town and ally to the support of our high school.

SULPHUR WATER AT BEAUFORT.

An Artesian Well of That Famous Mineral in That Town.

"Perhaps many of our people will be surprised to learn that the artesian well at the old Gibbs Canning Factory is sulphur water and is the finest quality of that all healing mineral water in the State.

"The well, we are informed, is 150 feet deep and was bored in 1890 and was used by the factory people in packing oysters, it having a peculiar preserving effect. The water has been examined and it now comes to light that it is a very fine quality and has great healing properties.

"Day by day the water shoots from its bed 150 feet below the surface and runs down to the river bank and out with the tide.--Beaufort Herald.

WHAT OUR MILLS ARE DOING.

Sawing and Shipping Lumber Lively--Several Schooners at the Various Mills, Besides Rail Shipments.

Considerable lumber is being shipped from here now by water in addition to what the railroads handle.

The steam barge McCabe cleared yesterday with a cargo divided between the Pine Lumber Co's and the Congdon mill. The former mill did a rapid piece of loading on the McCabe. They put on 89,000 feet during Monday forenoon, and five more hundred ft. all.

The same mill is now loading the Hephahamock with 225,000 feet for Philadelphia, and they shipped a cargo last week also. During the month of July they sent off 500,000 feet and expect this month's shipments to be as large.

The Congdon mill is now loading the schooner Wm. T. Parker with 200,000 feet for Boston, and also loading the Hilda for Baltimore.

The Stinson Lumber Company are loading the schooner Elza R. Hill and they have just off a large with 76,000 feet, and last week they sent off a quarter of a million feet on the Lila L. Morse. They are now expecting the Lizzie S. James in addition to the vessels they are loading.

The schooner Edwin J. Marvel is now loading for Baltimore at the Clark Lumber Co's Here Branch mill. She will take 100,000 feet. The same company have just shipped from their mill in the city 200,000 feet to Philadelphia on the barge F. B. Brown. There are also three or four barges loading at the Giles mill and a schooner at the Sullivan mill.

The Moody mill sent off a large load week with 140,000 feet and are now looking for two more schooners.

The above gives some idea of the activity which prevails in the lumber business here.
