NEW BERNE, N. C. WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 26, 1896.

ESTABLISHED 1852.

HE WILL NOT.

Judge Russell Will Join the Canvass Only Upon Order of His Committee.

RALPHON, N. C., August 25—Just as was expected, Chairman Holton declines to allow Judge Russell to engage in a joint canvass.

He today writes a letter to Chairman Manly and Ayer saying: "I desire to call your attention to the resolution unanimously adopted by my committee, a copy of which I enclose. I shall adhere to this policy until otherwise ordered by my committee."

Both of the chairmen doubtless expected exactly just such an answer.

Bryan's Movements.

ALBANY, N. Y., August 25—Circuit Judge Bryan arrived here at four o'clock this afternoon, he was met by a committee which escorted him to the Hill Hotel.

Hill was present at tonight's ratification. A salute of 21 guns was fired in honor of the reception party.

Bryan left for Syracuse at 8 p. m.

Corn Breaks Its Record.

St. Louis, Mo., August 25—Cash corn made a new record, today, dropping to 19 cents, against 30 cents, four years ago.

$2,000,000 GOLD FOR IMPORT.

New York Bankers Say Import is Due to Natural Causes.

New York, August 25—Two millions of gold were engaged for import, today. Bankers here, today, deny the report that the syndicate has engaged to import twenty millions of gold.

They say the import is due to natural causes, and is not artificial. No demand has been made by the New York Clearing House for certificates.

Fusion in Michigan.

Bay City, Mich., August 25—The Democratic silver and Populist conventions in session here, will all join issues and support Bryan.

The Republicans have been trying to break up the proposed fusion, but their efforts were unsuccessful.

AGREED ON ELECTION LAW.

Chairmen of Political Parties Agree on Construction of New Election Law, Registration of Voters.

RALPHON, N. C., August 25—The three State chairmen have agreed in the construction of the new election law, that the registration of voters shall begin Saturday, September 26, and continue three more Saturdays, Oct. 3, 10, and 17.

That Oct. 31, shall be the challenge day; that Oct. 31 is the day when the registration books are to close, at 4 p. m., save in the cities and in the towns, where they are to remain open until 9 p. m.

Uxorecide and Suicide.

Lowell, Mich., August 25—Charles Church, Jr., member of the private banking house of C. J. Church & Co. shot and fatally wounded his wife, then committed suicide, this morning.

His bank was closed yesterday.

Rising Employes.

WILLIAMSTON, Ky., August 25—The Louisville and Nashville railroad employes are rioting at Eagle Tunnel, near Elliston.

One was killed and several wounded. Assistance has been asked for.

A Burnt Town.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., August 25—Reports are received here that the town of Oshkoshon, in Upper Michigan, is burning and the inhabitants are fleeing for their lives.

Receivers and Judges.

RALPHON, N. C., August 25—Chairman Manly says he has sent out to all counties, a complete list both of receivers of election and judges.

The Philippine Conspiracy.

Madrid—A special commission has been appointed by the government to inquire into the matter of the conspiracy aiding at the separation of the Philippine islands from the Kingdom of Spain, which was recently discovered in Manila, and is believed to have been organized by a body of Philippine refugees in Hongkong, laying relations with the Cuban rebels.

Room to Be Free.

London—It is learned by the South Sea Associated Press upon official authority that Dr. Gallagher, the Irish-American, who, with Daly, Whitehead and others, constituted a syndicate, has been confined in the House of Commons, and will be released in the course of the next ten days, and will go to the United States without delay. The United States Government, through Mr. J. B. Russell, secretary of the United States embassy, will pay the expenses of Dr. Gallagher and the physicians attending him in New York.

WILL SUPPLY GOLD.

Feeling of Greater Confidence. Increased Government Revenues Expected.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 25—The success of recent arrangements in maintaining the gold reserve of the Treasury, and the knowledge that the banks of the country will advance more gold if it is needed, is causing a feeling of confidence at the Department. The gold reserve is getting down again close to $100,000,000 but the losses have been comparatively small of late, and it is believed that they will be still smaller, now that gold imports have set in.

The action of the banks and the foreign exchange houses in protecting the gold reserve is regarded by some of the officials as much more efficient than the mere placement of a popular loan. This view is based upon the fact that the losses of gold to the Treasury have reached a net amount of $95,594,400, since the advertisement for bids for the last loan. The gold reserve at that time stood at $61,531,626, and the proceeds of the bond sale were $111,106,232, making a total of $173,627,858. The contribution of $27,000,000 by the banks raised the gold holdings, and receipts of the Treasury since the advertisement for the last bond bid to $199,000,000.

The present reserve being about $103,000,000, the losses during the last eight months have reached about $96,000,000. The Treasury has substantially no gold receipts of any use for strengthening the reserve during this entire period, except the proceeds of the bond sale and the contributions of the banks.

Gold is received for public dues on the Pacific coast, but has to be paid out again so that there is no substantial net gain to the Treasury. The loss of $96,000,000 in gold, therefore, indicates that only about $15,000,000 of the big proceeds of the popular loan still remain in the Treasury in gold. Gold was steadily drawn during the term allowed for payment for the bonds, so that the reserve never rose much above $128,400,000.

The importation of gold at New York may prove only an isolated event, but the state of the foreign trade of the country during the past year justifies the hope that gold will come to this country in considerable amounts unless there is a strong disposition to withdraw foreign capital. The excess of exports of American merchandise for the seven months ending with July was $90,743,609; the excess of gold exports for the same period was $28,809,642, and the excess of silver exports was $18,695,192. This balance in favor of the United States, amounting to $136,000,000 in seven months, is more than enough to settle our usual interest payments abroad and leave a margin in our favor. This history of the past three years has been very similar, and it is believed that in the absence of political disasters the serious process of liquidation which the country has been going through will soon be at an end. The readiness of the banks to furnish gold, if needed to maintain the Treasury reserve, is counted upon to prevent any new break of confidence and to keep the foreign exchanges in a normal condition.

Even the opponents of the legal tender system are hopeful that renewed activity in business will make a place for the mass of paper money now in circulation and remove the greenbacks as a disturbing factor from the market. The problem of Government revenue depends to some extent upon the state of business and it is still hoped that revenue will materially increase when business confidence returns. The receipts of the Government during July were better than for many months, and those for August have been better than the receipts during the spring, but will yet equal the receipts for August 1895.

There will be a considerable deficit for August, but it will be due to special causes rather than the excess of ordinary expenditures.

The increase in the receipts for July and August over the spring months has been mainly in internal revenue. The customs receipts have shown a tendency to fall off, owing to diminished importations. The internal revenue receipts are not likely again to fall backward, while there is no prospect of change in the law, and the customs receipts are expected to feel the touch of improving business as soon as the calibrating political uncertainty is at an end.

It is still expected that Congress will be summoned in extra session, either to provide revenue or to consider a general revision of the tariff. The necessity for revenue may be felt, without regard to the party which triumphs at the polls in November. The prospect of general tariff revision, even with an extra session, is less bright than it appeared in the spring, when the Republicans believed that they had everything their own way. They are likely to find it difficult to pass a general revenue bill, even if they elect the President and a majority of the House of Representatives, in view of the States in which the Legislatures are likely to slip from their hands into those of the Silver fusionists.

The several sources of revenue which have been suggested, without excluding the part of the general tariff revision, are sugar, tea, coffee, wool and beer. The proposition in regard to sugar would probably be to change the present advalorem duty to a specific one, based upon two cents per pound for refined sugar, which would afford an increase of about $30,000,000.

Tillman's Proposition Denied.

CHICAGO, August 25—Senator Jones, Chairman Democratic Committee, denies that Ben Tillman offered Tom Watson a Cabinet position if he withdrew from the vice presidential race.

A FOOL VOYAGE.

The How Boat Fox Crosses the Atlantic Ocean. 3000 Miles in 55 Days.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 25—Dr. Chancellor, the American consul at Havre, has sent the State Department an elaborate report upon the successful voyage of the rowboat Fox across the Atlantic, illustrated by photographs of the two seamen, Harbo and Samuelson, as they arrived and several days later the characteristic scenes of their greeting in Havre. The consul says they accomplished the voyage from New York to Sicily, nearly 3,000 miles, in fifty five days, "thus establishing a record in daring seamanship and human endurance hitherto unknown to the world. The success of the enterprise will at least serve to inspire confidence and hope in those who, from one cause or another, may hereafter be forced to resort to open boats on the open sea." The consul describes the approach of the Fox, which was signalled some hours before her arrival at Havre, and as she entered the dock opposite the consulate, "the Stars and Stripes defaced and tattered, but glorious even in rags, floated proudly at the stern as if rejoicing in this new and hard won victory on the sea." As they were destitute the consul gave them food and clothes out of the fund for destitute American seamen in foreign ports.
