The efforts of the Chairmen of the Democratic and Populist parties to get Judge Russell, Republican ninee for Governor, to engage in a joint canvass, which means a joint political trip with discussions, has proved a failure, the Republican not being anxious to take part in any canvass.

But of what benefit could a joint discussion have been to the Democratic cause, any way ?

A joint canvass of the three gu bernatorial candidates would result in nothing but ill feeling, the discussions might have brought together larger crowds but those same crowds would have come together, not to learn, but to hear the candidates engage in a war of personalities, thereby bringing the candidates into disrepute and lowering themselves before the people of the State.

Candidate C. B. Watson, is good and true enough Democrat to go forth and talk for his party and himself, he needs no Populistic or Republican stimulent at his side to inspire him for the fight. The people will listen to him and be profited, and he can do the Democratic cause infinite good.

Now that the attempted gubernatorial merry-go-rourd has failed, let the Democratic Executive get down to business, and cease trying entiated sex instinct. He saw the for fusion, even a joint canvass fu-

The South African Halfcaste

The social position of the South African halfcaste has been peculiar. He has originated in almost all case not from the union of average indi viduals of the two races uniting under average conditions, but as the result of a sexual union between the most helpless and enslaved females of the dark race and the most recklessly dominant males of the white. He has risen from a sympathy and kinship between man and woman which translates the relation of sex from the sphere of the crudely physical to that of the aesthetic and in telligent lectual, but even that lower utilitarian element was wanting to this union, which exists wherever men and women of the same race and moderately respecting each other, united permanently for the purpose of producing offspring and sharing the material burdens of life The halfcaste came into the world

Edward Fitzgerald, nearly a century later, though he goes so far as to allow "taste to be the feminine of genius," says of a literary lady, She and her sex had better mind the kitchen and their children, and perhaps the poor except in such things as novels, they only devote themselves to .what men do much better, leaving that which men do worse, or not at all." ### Fighting Editors.

In the eighteenth century the edtor of The Daily Courant was deliciously amusing when he wrote: "I will give Lo comments of my own in this paper, as I assume that other people have sense enough to make reflections for themselves!" Henry Pate, the editor of The Morning Post, never picked his words with eare. His savage onslaughts raised smiles in coffee house and club and also brought him face to face with peril. He was composed of stern stuff. He lived up to the motto, "I never appologize. I never re-

Bate was not the only London editor called upon to use sword and pistol as well as pen, and at a latter date an editor in the north, bravely focusing public opinion on the instigators of Classical dastardly trade outrage, sat night after night with a revolver on his desk, prepared for a surprise visit. -Gentleman's Magazine.
