COWAN, A SUICIDE.

CHIEF CLERK AT HEADQUARTERS SHOTS HIMSELF.

Want No Joint Convass. Murderer Caught. Will Not Endorse Shafers. State Fair. Political Campaign. A. & M. College.

JOURNAL BUREAU.
RALEIGH, N. C., August 29.
Henry M. Cowan, chief clerk in the Democratic State headquarters here, committed suicide at 9:30 this morning by shooting himself through the brain with a revolver. He had been drinking for a day or two and his mind was unsettled. A few minutes before the shooting he spoke to some gentlemen on the floor below his room and his language was almost incoherent. The shot was heard and persons ran to the room, Cowan was lying across the bed, with an open razor beside him and the fatal revolver at his feet. Both temples were pierced and much blood had extruded. He lived an hour. His sister Mrs. C. B. Dixon and his niece were with him in his last moments. He never spoke a word. His brother, R. H. Cowan of Durham, was telephoned for. "The dead man was widely known as a tanner. He was for twelve years in the State treasury, part of the time as chief clerk. He was a zealous Democrat. His age was almost 40.

The Republicans announce as their policy that their speakers shall not participate in any joint convasses. Their officials say they believe they can have better results by speaking alone. Democrats ridicule them greatly about this, the Populists have very little to say. Governor Carr paid a reward of $200, today, to D. A. Grantham of Moore county, for the capture of Nat. Moore, a white man who cut his wife's throat in the presence of two other white men. It is said now that the Republicans will not endorse A. C. Shuford, Populist nominee for Congress in the 7th district, but will put up a man of their own. Shuford is alleged to have said he hopes a Democrat would succeed him and this has aroused Republican wrath.

The faction between the Russell and Dockery faction of the Republicans has by no means died out, despite allegations to the contrary by officials at that party's headquarters. It is said that whenever Russell visits a Dockery man he gives the latter's name to his "Man Friday," and says "put him on the black list; we want to remember his name."

Democratic State Chairman Manly says he thinks electoral fusion with the Populists will be arranged in 10 days. Populists do not say so. The fact is there is a revolt against fusion and it is in the ranks of both parties. There is plenty of plain talking being done.

On the 8th of June J. R. Place of Illinois was elected by a vote of 3 to 2 of the directors, superintendent of the institutions for blind and deaf-mutes here. There are two institutions. In one are the white blind; in the other colored deaf-mutes and blind. The acts of 1887 require that a superintendent shall have 2 years experience as a teacher of deaf-mutes and blind. He is a very able instructor of blind, but has had no experience with deaf-mutes. There was a storm of objections at his election and the summary displacement of superintendent W. J. Young. Last evening the directors met and received from Governor Carr, a letter for the attorney general giving as his official opinion that Place was ineligible. Place accordingly tendered his resignation which was at once accepted. It was thought he would make a fight, as he had committed himself. He says he believes he is eligible and that no court would accept the evidence on which the attorney general bases his opinion. The trustees say that during his brief term his management was excellent.

Students are arriving to attend the State Agricultural and Mechanical College. It is said some work has been done to increase the attendance, which last term was quite small. It is expected that T. W. Armstrong, of Kentucky, will establish extensive horse training stables here at the State Fair grounds.

The purses offered at the approaching State Fair for racing, amounting to $2,000, are expected to attract some speedy horses. Col. Benahan Cameron says that as the fair here is just one week later than the one at Richmond it will prove particularly convenient for exhibitors to come to this city.

There are many Democrats who say they want the "Gold Democrats" to vote outright for McKinley and align themselves on that side. The Republicans are thought to have advised tending to make them feel certain that the Populist-Republicans will return to their old party—that is the Republican who in 1894 voted the Populist ticket and will return to the mother party.

It is stated that some Populists have expressed themselves as "desirous of getting out of the hands of the Republicans." There is a current rumor that the Populists will refuse to endorse the Populist Congressional nominees in the ninth district.

AGAINST THE TURK.

Many Killed by the Bioters. The Armed Mob Caused a Reign of Terror.

BEHLIN.—A dispatch from Constantinople says that an attempt was made to start a revolution. A body of Armenians made an attack upon the banks and a number of houses in Galata and Constantinople, slaughtering the inhabitants of the dwellings and occupants of the shops and throwing their bodies into the streets. The police and military made no attempt to interfere with the mob. It is expected, the dispatch says, that French troops will be landed in Galata.

LONDON.—Dispatches from Constantinople telling of the revolutionary movement say that a party of forty men, armed with revolvers and bombs, forced their way into the Ottoman Bank, killing the guardsmen who were guarding the doors. The clerks fled and took refuge in the office of the Tobacco Regie, which is next door to the bank. The attacking party posted themselves at the windows and upon the roof of the bank and kept up a lively exchange of shots with the police. Riotous outbreaks also took place in various parts of Galata, the largest suburb of Constantinople, a number of shops being sacked and many persons killed and wounded.

Up to a late hour the Ottoman Bank was still in possession of the band which had seized it. A bomb was exploded near the guard house in Constantinople, killing several soldiers and wounding a number of others. The British war ship Dryad and the French and Italian Guardships have steamed up to Galata. There is no doubt that the rioting is the work of the Armenian Revolutionary Society.

PARIS.—The directors of the Ottoman Bank, in Galata, the business centre of Constantinople, have wired the manager of the bank's Paris office that the disturbances which occurred there are ended, and that everything is well with the bank and quiet in the city, thanks to the energetic intervention of the Sultan.

Professor Grosvenor in his work on Constantinople describes Galata as "a Western city stranded in the East; a European metropolis, making part and parcel of the Mussulman capital." Solid Italian structures erected six centuries ago suggest Italy rather than the East. Though French is more often heard in Galata today, the common language until a generation ago was Italian. The place has borne this name ever since the third century before Christ. It is said that many of the priests of that place still believe it was to this city that St. Paul addressed his Epistle to the Galatians.

The commercial spirit dominates Galata today. Its Exchange is the assembling place daily of many traders. The inhabitants are largely European Christians. There are besides the banks and business houses a number of churches in the place. The Armenians, who are said to have lived in the disturbances at the Ottoman Bank, are very numerous in Galata, and the oldest Armenian church in Istanbul is situated in this business suburb. The Armenians also have several schools and a college there, and a number of benevolent institutions.

Telegraphic Items.

Outbreaks of violence have occurred at Ontonagon, Mich., over the distribution of food and other supplies to the burned out people of that place. The Sheriff is reported to have asked the Governor for troops.

Eight persons were injured in a run away on the race track at Rushville, Ind. A horse ran away and dashed into a crowd of 2,000 people, causing a stampede. Many were knocked down, but not seriously hurt.

George Washington, the attorney for Walling, has filed a petition with the clerk of the Court of Appeals, at Frankfort, Ky., for the extension of sixty days' time for filing a transcript. The time expires September 3. Judge Hazelrigg will probably grant the extension.

A memorandum filed by Justice Depue, of the Supreme Court of New Orleans, declares constitutional the law of March 28, 1896, whereby some sixty odd lay judges of the Court of Common Pleas for different counties of the State were legislated out of office on April 1 last.

The boilers furnishing the motive power for Lovell & Smith's mills, at English, Ind., exploded, instantly killing Tolbert Dooty, engineer, and Samuel Dooty, Sawyer. William Cummings, fireman, was badly scalded about the body and face. Low water caused the explosion.

At an early hour yesterday morning the statue Republic, which stood at the head of the grand basin, in Jackson Park during the Columbian Exposition, was burned by order of the South Side Park Commissioners. The figure cost about $25,000, and was sixty feet high, standing on a pedestal forty feet in height.

The United States Guide and Information Company, with an authorized capital of $1,000,000, has been filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State New Jersey. The company is formed for the purpose of furnishing the public with a uniform corps of guides at different rail road and steamboat stations and for other purposes.

WILMINGTON LETTER.

THE CAMPAIGN TO OPEN WITH JARVIS.

Cotton Arriving. Fine Car Service. The Cruiser Raleigh to Come. Wilmingtonian Honored. Cycling on the Beach.

JOURNAL BUREAU.
WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 29.
The campaign to be opened here on Thursday next, with ex-Governor Thos. J. Jarvis, as the speaker.

After this meeting it is hoped to have many noted speakers, before the election takes place. Wilmingtonians are anxiously waiting enlightenment on the great issues of the day, and Jarvis will have a large audience. Cotton is coming in, in sufficient quantities, to make some stir. The Champion Compress, was was at work one day this week, preparing cotton for shipment by New York steamer.

For a place of this size, we have a street car system that is a credit to any city. The cars run on a ten minute schedule, and make the time. One day's travel lately counted up fifty five hundred people, and no accidents occurred.

After a great amount of letter writing back and forth, in regard to the cruiser Raleigh coming to Southport, to receive her testimonial, the matter is at last settled. Capt. Miller commanding the Raleigh, in whose hands was left the decision of his ship crossing our bar, has written the Chamber of Commerce, stating his ship will come to Southport sometime in October to receive the testimonial. The punch bowl, which is North Carolina's gift to the Raleigh is at last completed. It will be in Wilmington in a few weeks, and will be displayed to the public.

Mr. Thos D. Meares, of the Seaboard Air Line, and a prominent Knight of Pythias member, received quite an honor at the meeting of the supreme Lodge at Cleveland, Ohio. He was elected supreme master of the Exchequer.

As we have no bicycle track, the racers when desirous of holding competitions of speed, go down to Ocean View Beach, and hold the races on the hard sand, provided the tide does not interfere.

The Wilmington base ball team is awaiting patiently the arrival of the train from your town, and confidently expects to down them, or at least make a hard fight. There seems to be a general settling down to business, as September approaches, and some good substantial buildings, are being built to be occupied as offices. The Fall is always the busy season with us, and the early shipments of cotton, has hastened the improvement in commercial life.

An Indian mound was discovered in Brunswick county this week, by the graders, on the Southport and Wilmington railroad. Several skeletons, and a number of arrow heads, and other relics, were unearthed.

Mr. Wm. Candler is Wilmington's delegate to the sound money convention at Indianapolis to be held next Wednesday. He left today for the convention.

To Succeed Place.

RALEIGH, N. C., August 29.—John E. Ray for years instructor in the deaf, mute and blind institution here, is elected principal to succeed Place.

He is now principal of the colored Ohio State institution, where his salary is $2500, but it is believed he will come here.

Cattle Plague Near Charlotte.

RALEIGH, N. C., August 29.—Gov. Carr is notified that twenty cattle have died at the dairy near Charlotte, of a disease believed to be anthrax, and that local veterinarians are unable to stop the disease. The Governor requests Dr. Salmon, Chief of the U. S. Bureau of animal industry to send an expert there immediately.

WANTS INDEMNITY.

The Reason for Cruiser Bancroft's Trip to Bosphorus.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 29.—In spite of the denials of the Navy Department, it is firmly believed that the secret voyage of the little cruiser Bancroft is for the Bosphorus. It is stated that the hastening of the cruiser from this port was due to Secretary Olney's impatience at the delay in paying the small indemnity due for American's mission property which was destroyed.

AGAINST REPUBLICANISM.

Dockery Declares for Bryan and Watson. Will Not Accept Republican Nomination.

WADSWORTH, N. C., August 29.—W. A. Guthrie and O. H. Dockery spoke to a large crowd here, today. O. H. Dockery felt as well at the beginning of his speech but warmed up and made a powerful and significant address. He declared against Wm. McKinley, and declared for Bryan and Watson, and said though the Republicans might keep him from the Republican State ticket, it would be a late day before he accepted their nomination.

WILL OUST DOCKERY.

The Ex-Republican's Speech at Wadsworth Disgusts His Old Confederates.

RALEIGH, N. C., 29.—Republicans here declare, to-night, that they will drop O. H. Dockery from their State ticket and nominate a straight-out Republican in his stead.

Gold Coming Over.

LONDON, August 29.—Today's export of gold was nearly one million dollars. This was withdrawn because it was feared that the rate would rise. It is estimated that ten million dollars will be exported to America next week.
