WASHINGTON LETTER.

"ALL MEN ARE LIARS," POLITICALLY CONSIDERED.

Butler Silent as to Watson. Postal Tell-Tales May Stump for Palmer and Buckner. Where Does Hill Stand?

JOURNAL BUREAU, WASHINGTON, D. C., Sep. 7th.

One who tries to ascertain the true status of the political situation by comparing what is given out at the Bryan headquarters with what is given out at McKinley headquarters is apt to think with the oft-decided man who exclaimed "All men are liars!" It is a part of the game of politics to claim everything, in order to induce those who are on the fence to get down on your side. But the private utterances of the politicians are often directly opposite to what they say for publication, and as a rule they represent pretty nearly their real opinion. From their public talk, you suppose that the gold men and the silver men are equally confident, but their conversation in private tells a different story. The past week has made heavy inroads upon the stock of confidence at Bryan headquarters, and has largely increased that at McKinley headquarters. It has become plain to the most enthusiastic silverite that Bryan need expect nothing from the East and the Indianapolis ticket may throw some of the Southern States for McKinley. Bryan's managers are also being hampered by a lack of money to carry on the campaign which they have mapped out, while the McKinley managers are flooding the doubtful States with literature and filling them with stump-speakers. And to add to the difficulties, the complaints against the way in which the Bryan managers are running things are increasing.

Senator Butler, Chairman of the Populist National Committee, will not talk about the conference he had with Tom Watson several days ago, further than to say that Watson is cheerful, and that he thinks the cause of silver would be greatly benefited by the withdrawal of Sewall. Mr. Sewall has added to the difficulties of the situation by his positive statement that he does not intend to withdraw, which is thought to be intended as a hard slap at those who were scheming to get him off the ticket.

While everybody wishes to see the Postal Service of the country brought to the highest possible efficiency, there are few people who believe that making the employes spies upon each other will help things along in that direction. However, among the few who do believe in the spy system are the Post Office Department officials, who have just issued a circular to the Railway Mail Service Clerks, calling their attention to the general order issued last winter, requiring employes to report cases of irregularity and misconduct of any employes which come to their knowledge to the clerks of divisions to be forwarded to Washington, and warning them of punishment to come if they do not obey those orders. Remembering the scores with which school children treated the "tell-tale" of the school and that men are but grown up school children, it is not surprising that this order has been quietly ignored in the past, nor with it is surprising if it continues to be ignored, notwithstanding these threats.

While I do not assert that he will do so, nobody need be surprised if Secretary Carlisle should go to Kentucky and take the stump for Palmer and Buckner. It is known that he feels very sore over the slings which Bryan and other stump speakers have made at his management of the Treasury and that he would like to see Kentucky carried by McKinley; also that he has said that he believed it possible for Palmer and Buckner to get 40,000 votes in Kentucky. If they could get half that number, McKinley would be certain to carry the state. Secretary Carlisle has a strong personal following in Kentucky and the Bryan managers would dislike very much to see him take the stump in that state. The three states in which the Indianapolis ticket is expected to get votes enough to be a factor in the result are Kentucky, Illinois and Indiana. In many of the other states there will be no Palmer and Buckner electors voted for.

Senator Hill is being very carefully watched by both silver Democrats and gold Democrats. Both sides are intimating that he will shortly come out for their ticket, but it is easy to see that neither side knows just where Hill stands. His actions and words at Chicago convention would seem to make it very easy for him to come out against Bryan and for the Indianapolis ticket. On the other hand, many believe that when he entertained Mr. Bryan at his New York home he made a bargain to come out for Bryan at the coming Democratic State Convention. It is altogether probable that Senator Hill, who is nothing if not a shrewd politician, will be largely governed by the local conditions in New York in choosing the position he will occupy, although there are reports which say that the local conditions, manipulated by Hill's Democratic opponents, are forcing him into a position willy nilly.

A RUMOR.

That Democratic Congressional Nominees Will Withdraw in Favor of Populists. Pou to Come Down to Save His Party.

SPECIAL. RALEIGH, N. C., September 7.—There was a rumor here to-day, which was quickly caught up at Republican headquarters, that Democratic state Chairman Manly, had requested four Democratic congressional nominees to withdraw in favor of Populists.

This was promptly denied at Democratic headquarters. It was said, however, at those headquarters, that if E. W. Pou, Democratic nominee in this district, would withdraw in favor of Strowd, Populist, it would settle all friction in the state, and that Pou's not withdrawing was holding off Electoral Fusion. That it would also settle the election of Kitchin, Democrat in the 5th district and cause the withdrawal of Fowler, Populist, in the 3rd district.

This matter of Pou's withdrawal is discussed all over the state by Democrats. The positive statement was made that Loner, Republican, in the 8th district had been endorsed by a mere clique of Populists, and that the Populists would not vote for him, and that in the 9th district the Populists will vote for Adams, Democrat, and against Pearson, Republican.

BURIED UNDER A WALL.

Firemen Lose Their Lives at Benton Harbor, Mich.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich.—Eleven firemen lost their lives in a brave attempt to stay a fire that was consuming Yore's Opera House. They were crushed by a falling wall, and the city is horror-stricken. Five of the victims met instant death, but the others, after being removed from the ruins, survived several hours in greatest agony.

The fire started about midnight and raged furiously for over two hours. Intense excitement prevailed, as the destruction of a vast amount of property was threatened pending the arrival of additional fire fighting apparatus and men.

During the evening the play "A Factory Girl" had been given by local talent, and had closed but a half hour before the fire was discovered. The building first filled from the basement to the fourth story with a suffocating smoke. Soon it burst into a sheet of flame throughout the entire audience room. Some time elapsed before the fire department responded with a single stream of water, there being some confusion at the outset owing to the lack of hook and ladder facilities, although the local fire companies had that day closed a two day's tournament, exhibiting much skill in quick work. St. Joseph was called on for assistance at the outset. Their firemen approached the building through an alley, unloading ladders in the rear of the building, and while hoisting them the upper walls fell over without a second's warning, covering the men.

ELECTORAL FUSION.

Uncertainty Still Prevails Regarding It in North Carolina. What the Chairman Say.

SPECIAL. RALEIGH, N. C., September 7.—This afternoon Populist chairman Ayer was asked what was going to be done as to electoral fusion.

He replied, "We will certainly not fuse with the Republicans. As to fusion with Democrats I am not ready to express an opinion."

Chairman Manly when told of the Populist demand for four Congressmen, and asked if it would be considered replied: "I have nothing to say at present. I think it is a matter very much for the consideration of each Congressional district, and I do not yet know what they will say about this. I have no called our State Committee to meet nor have I any idea of calling it at any definite time."

SIMMONS SAYS.

Democrats and Populists All Over the State Want Electoral Fusion. Sewall to Stick.

SPECIAL. RALEIGH, N. C., September 7.—Ex-Democratic State Chairman F. M. Simmons, who has come in from campaign, said this evening: "I tell you the Populists and Democrats in this State are for electoral fusion, whenever I have been, and I hear no dissent from this view. Nothing which Democratic and Populist speakers discuss, meets with so much favor as arguments in support of electoral fusion."

Simmons was asked if there was anything in the talk that Candidate Sewall would be taken down in North Carolina, and he replied "No such idea was ever entertained for a moment."

Killed in a Polish Church Row.

SCRANTON, Pa.—The troubles in the Polish Catholic Church here broke out again and as a consequence one of the Poles, John Juneski, is dying and many more, including a number of policemen, are more or less injured. The trouble began at a meeting of the faction, opposing Father Aust. It was decided if Bishop O'Hara did not remove him he would not be permitted to enter the church. An attempt was made, but the police, with drawn clubs, drove them away. Eleven arrests were made, three of them women.

THE COTTON MARKETS.

September 7th. The New York Exchange and Chicago Board of Trade have both been closed today on account of Labor Day. The Liverpool Cotton Market has advanced 3.64 to 4.64d equal to say 12 points in our money.

There is more inquiry at Eastern points for dry goods and a few of the mills are starting up. The speculation is getting broad, and violent fluctuations will likely occur.

The New Berne market has been quiet with small sales at 7.45 to 7.55. J. E. LATHAM.
