IT NEEDS YOUR PRESENCE.

The New Berne Academy which has begun so successfully its opening term and year, if this city, is a home enterprise which is worthy of thoughtful consideration, and hearty support of the people of New Berne.

Everything connected with the Academy shows that its management is giving the school its careful attention. The grounds and buildings have been made attractive, and the teachers of the Academy have the confidence and respect of the scholars.

But while the Academy management have done so much to give the citizens of New Berne and this section a school worthy of a full patronage, and while many of the people of New Berne have shown their appreciation of having a first class school established in this city, by sending their children to the Academy, there is one thing which the friends and patrons of the New Berne Academy should not fail to do, and that is show a personal interest in the Academy by visiting it, and becoming acquainted with its teachers, and seeing for themselves the way the school is being conducted, and the methods employed in teaching.

There is nothing like a personal examination of a school for its success. It puts the teacher and parent in perfect touch and accord, and it gives an encouragement to those engaged in the management of the school, which cannot be over estimated.

The New Berne Academy should be visited by every parent in this city, for it is important from every point of view that parents should be familiar with their children's school life and surroundings.

The New Berne Academy will be better in every way from visits of its friends and patrons, and equally will the visitors feel better for having become acquainted with their home institution of learning.

STATE PRESS ON FUSION.

It is no easy matter for us, and many good Democrats who think with us, to speak conservatively of the electoral fusion which has been effected by the Democratic and Populist committees. We have great respect for the gentlemen who compose the Democratic committee, but we have all the while felt and declared that a combination and co-operation with the people, who two years ago combined with the Republican party and helped to write upon the pages of the history of the State some of the most disgraceful chapters ever recorded in its annals, and who have now trafficked with that same party to barter away the entire control of our State government, ought not and could not be entered into by the Democratic party in North Carolina. Nevertheless the committee has so decreed, and the program which they have arranged for us is Republican and Populist administration of our domestic affairs with Democratic and Populist combination on the national ticket. The voters of the State have yet to be heard from.—Raleigh Press Visitor.

The action of the Democratic State Executive Committee Monday night will stand the severest test that may be put to any action. It was right; it was expedient; it was common sense.
It is almost needless to tell those hard-headed North Carolinians who are sincerely—not merely professedly—for Bryan, that three parties having nominated him should have the privilege of putting the vote of each party together into one victory instead of pulling that vote apart into a three-sided defeat. That's the common sense of it, or, perhaps, a better word is "gumption."
It is expedient because it will win, and it is the only thing, as far as human calculation may go, that can win.

It is right, because the Silver party having, of its own accord, nominated Mr. Bryan, has a right to participate in his election; the Populist party, with the Democratic party, has the same right. The principle they tie to is not only a common one, but that principle is, moreover, happily embodied in the person of one man.

There are doubtless some Democrats who have said they do not care to vote for Watson Electors and some Populist there may be who feel similarly towards the Democrats. But the number is almost trifling. There should be none. Bryan men should take a stronger grasp than this of the situation.—Raleigh News and Observer.

After the trade at Raleigh between the unauthorized Democratic State committee with the Populists all Democratic newspapers in North Carolina are hereafter forbidden and debarred from writing or thinking even against radical-Populist fusion. It is as censurable in Democrats to trade with bolters and enemies as it is for the Russell gang and the Butler gang to swap off as to the State ticket and so on, Democrats of the right stripe do not like to trade off. It is an ad blow to the character of the party that has so fiercely, so pertinaciously damned the Radicals and Pops for fusing, combining, conspiring. The Messenger stands by all it has said against combines—sticks to its contentions and utterances in the past, and deplors a trade the final outcome of which no man can now see.—Wilmington Messenger.

Advertising Tip.
"To discontinue an advertisement," says Postmaster-General Wansmaker, one of the largest advertisers in the world, and naturally enough one of the most successful business men, "is like taking down your sign. If you want to do business, you must let the people know it. I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising."

Dress - Making DEPARTMENT.
Orders for Fall and Winter Costumes will be accepted by our Dress Making Department on and after September 15th. This date is late enough to enable us to make up with certainty the accepted foreign styles that will be in vogue during the season.
We have just perfected arrangements by which we will be in touch with Paris and Berlin within two weeks of the date of the appearance of any special style or mode. This is quite enterprising for a North Carolina house, and no Dress Making Department in America will turn out more creditable or stylish work than ours. We bespeak your patronage.
Correspondence Solicited.
