AND PINALLY, DEMOCRATS.

The day which has seemed never o come has arrived, and today must decide for a continuation of Democratic rule, or a change to Republi-

There is nothing now to be added to the arguments which have been presented to the people from the platform, and the daily presentation of news which the press has unceas ingly sent forth day after day.

The voters are familiar with every have of the political situation, from the dangers which threaten Democ racy from the County to the Presi dential ticket, no one need again bring these up. The Democratic Press and Democratic speakers have waged a tireless, relentless warfare. and without reward, except it be the consciousness of having been faith ful to the trusts which the party have placed upon them.

Today is the day of results, when shall be demonstrated by the votera at the ballot box, the effects of this campaign of education.

Today is not the day for speech making or political excitement. It is not the day for emotional controversy, but it is the day for Democrats to vote for the interests which each voter by this time is fully convinced means the welfare of himself, and the prosperity of his section, State and country.

It need be no secret that triumph North Carolinians, this has been told very often, but its test will be today.

The work of today should proceed with as much, if not more care than any work that has hithertofore been done by Democrats, there is no time and wiedom never before observed by Democratic workers.

And today ends it. The vote counts today, therefore let Demo crats vote.

The First Coaches.

In the Fifteenth Century coaches appear to have been used in pro cessions, or other public ceremonies, more as an ornament than anything clae, if we may judge from the clumsy form of the vehicle. The entrance of the Ambassador frevas tuto Mantus in a carriage is noticed as early as the year 1433; and that of Frederic III. into Frankfort, in a covered coach, in the year 1475. It with which new inventions are now adopted that nearly a century pand before the covered carriage was introduced into England, Stow in his "Chronicle," under the year 1555, mentions the introduction in these terms. "This yeare Walter Ripon made a coach for the Earle of Rotland, which was the first coach (mith he) that was ever made in 1554 the said Walter Ripon made the first hollow-turning coach, with lers and arches, for Her Majestie them her servant, Also, in no 1584, a chariot throne, with ir pillers behind to beare a Hood's Samsparilla.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rey. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract. "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church seemed as if she could not survive them A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and bighty satisfactory in results."
