SENATOR BUTLER'S PERSONAL ORGAN DICTATES.

Will Gold Bugs Capture the U. S. Senate? Answered by Populist Dictator. No Tampering With His People.

Raleigh, N. C. November 10.—In Senator Butler's paper tomorrow, he will in a leading editorial headed "will the gold bugs capture the United States Senate," say:

"That since the smoke of the National campaign has cleared away, it is evident that the gold men were not only determined to elect McKinley, and a gold house, but that they have made desperate efforts to capture the Senate also."

He declares he does not believe their scheme can succeed with the North Carolina legislature, unless there are enough gold Democrats elected to join with the Republicans for this purpose, as they have arranged to do in Kentucky and Delaware.

He then says, of one thing one feels sure, and that is, they cannot control the vote of a single Populist member of the legislature.

It is not a question of how much money can be used to capture a gold Senator from North Carolina, it is a question of whether any legislator can be tampered with or not.

The action of the North Carolina legislature determines whether the people will control.

Weyler Phrasing Race.

HAVANA.—No news has been received from Puerto Principe, and details are lacking of the siege of Guaimare, which was lately reported to have been captured by the rebels. Railroad connection with that place has been broken since October 2nd.

A large rebel force attacked the town of Aguada, Province of Matanzas. The garrison made a brilliant defence and repulsed the insurgents, killing five of them including their leader, Mendez. The Spaniards lost a major and one soldier killed and three wounded.

There are now, according to an official report, 13,657 soldiers ill in the various hospitals of the island.

Capt. General Weyler arrived at Murcia this morning. The troops accompanying him were incorporated with 6,000 men who had been sent from Guantamo, and the entire command started in the direction of the hills in search of Mucos.

Mrs. Castle's Pardon.

LONDON.—Although Sir Matthew White Ridley, secretary of state for home affairs, is out of town, Mr. Abrahamson, auditor for the defence in the case of Mrs. Castle, has received a promise at the home office that that department will speedily give favourable consideration to a petition for the release of the unfortunate woman.

Mr. McConnell, the chairman of the Clerkenwell sessions, who sentenced Mrs. Castle to three months imprisonment, has been directed to draw an opinion upon the case, and the chief physician of the Workhouse prison, in which Mrs. Castle is confined, will make a report to the Home Office upon the physical and mental condition of Mrs. Castle, in accordance with instructions.

These formalities, having been observed the home secretary will advise the queen and a pardon should be granted. This procedure is absolutely necessary before a royal pardon setting Mrs. Castle at liberty can be issued.
