ESTABLISHED 1882

FROM THE CAPITAL

STATE NEWS OF MUCH INTEREST TO ALL.

Soldiers Home, Fritchard's Chance, Republican Organization, New Berne Honored, As to Presidential Electors, Census has Closed Up.

JOURNAL BUREAU, RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 21.
The annex to the male department of the insane asylum here has now reached the third story. It will be completed in January. It is entirely built out of savings made during the past two years, and this is extremely creditable to the management. The improvement of the grounds and drives of the asylum are very marked.

The present year has been marked by very small mortality at the Soldiers Home. The 72 veterans there are looking forward with pleasure to Thanksgiving Day.

The annex to the Agricultural Department will not only afford much needed room for the experiment station, but also for the museum. None of the groups can be placed until it is ready. The roof is now being put on.

The commissioners of labor statistics will this year issue a more complete report than ever before. It will really cover all the cotton mills of the State.

It is believed that the special December report of the Agricultural Department will show the yield of cotton to be larger than was predicted 30 days ago.

It is asserted that the odds really are in favor of Senator Fritchard's re-election, in spite of the developments as to the movements against him.

It is also declared that the odds are against any lease of the Atlantic and North Carolina railway.

Two lives were lost in the collision of engines on the Western North Carolina railway this week, and it is now found that Packney Marshburn of McDowell county is seriously injured.

A reformatory for youthful criminals now appears reasonably sure. The pressure is being brought to bear upon the next legislature to establish it will be far greater than ever before.

It is reported that large numbers of South Carolina negroes are moving into this State and that during the next 90 days many more are coming. The Republicans have special lists of all negro voters in this State. They are making their organization stronger than ever before. Many Populists who left it 4 years and 3 years ago, when it was weak, will resume their old relations, it is asserted.

Gregory Carr appoints the following as delegates to represent this State at the convention at Tampa, Florida, January 20, to discuss matters relating to the proper defense of South Atlantic and Gulf ports against foreign attacks: Alex Sprunt, S. J. Galloway, John D. Whitford, James L. Fowl, R. B. Creney, W. G. Curran, W. T. Battle, J. E. Fugate, Peter D. Price, W. M. Cocks, W. E. Breza Jr., J. H. McAdam.

The fertilizer sales made in the State for the fiscal year ending November 30, are so far 25 to 30 percent greater than in any year. Generally the total brings in $20,000,000 revenue to the Agricultural Department from the tonnage tax, but this year the total is almost $40,000,000.

It appears that there is a conflict as to the date of the meeting of the North Carolina electors to cast their vote for President and Vice President. It is a conflict between State and Federal laws. The former name the first Wednesday in December as the date; the latter the second Tuesday in January. The electors will, however, meet on the first named date, which is December 1, it is said.

Gov. Carr directs Judge Hoke to hold Person county court, beginning next Monday, in lieu of Judge Melver, who continues in poor health, though his condition is said to be somewhat improved. Paralysis is the trouble.

The public schools of this city will hold special Thanksgiving services, and at these contributions to the poor will be made. It will be a practical illustration of charity.

There are many persons who think the golden rule ought to be made the National Law. The surgeon general of the army writes that the pollen of this flower is nonallergenic, but officials of the U. S. Agricultural Department deny this.

The new cotton mill at Henderson, which is, by the way, admirably equipped and cost $110,000, is almost ready to begin operation. It will be in full swing by December 1.

Senator Butler will be here before December 1. He was rather worried at the signature of his newspaper editor by the sheriff. The total debt is $622. It was said this morning that the paper would appear today. It ought to have been printed last Tuesday night.

Some of the stockholders of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railway are alleged to be desirous that the Southern Railway shall make a proposition to lease it. This again has made no proposition. The Wilmington and Weldon made one about a year ago.

PRINCETON WINS.

The Mighty Embers of the Black and Orange Easily Down Yale Murky Players.

New York, November 21.—The great football game of the year was played today at Manhattan Field in this city. The game was won by the followers of old Nassau as was expected. The weather was cool and chilly, and at times a light misty rain made it very disagreeable for the immense crowd.

There was great consternation among the followers of Princeton when shortly after the game opened Yale made a touchdown and Hinkey easily kicked a pretty goal from the field, but the Princeton men gathered themselves together and from then on Yale men had no hope, especially as Murphy, Yale's great captain, had to retire on account of his injured shoulder.

At 2:15 sharp the desperate struggle was begun by Baird kicking off for Princeton, scrimmage after scrimmage was had with neither side making any gain, when Yale gave a Hinkey a trial for goal, which he kicked easily from 40 yards line, thus scoring 5 points for Yale.

Princeton kicked off from middle of field, and after a lively punting match between Hinkey and Baird, inch by inch rushed Yale back and scored her first touch down by the prettiest work of the year. Baird kicked goal, score, Yale 5, Princeton 0.

Yale kicked off, and again the desperate struggle began, the ball going from one to the other. In making a desperate effort to gain through Princeton Line Captain Murphy of Yale was injured and forged against his will to retire from the field.

Smith was given the ball and behind the most superb interference made a run of 35 yards, and was rushed over for a touch down, Baird kicking goal. Time exhausted for first half. Score: Princeton 12 Yale 5.

Second half opened with lively kicking, Princeton getting some the best of it, when Kelly finally got the ball, and after a beautiful run of 65 yards, was downed within a foot of Yale's goal, and was shoved over for touch-down. Baird missing goal.

Score: Princeton, 18; Yale, 5.
Yale was worsted on the kicking at the kick off, when Kelly again got the ball and in another great run of 50 yards to Yale's 5 yard line was pushed over, by almost hydraulic ramming, for another touch-down. No goal. Score: Princeton, 20; Yale, 5.

From this on to the end of the game Yale wasn't in it. Princeton easily scored again, after which Yale made a grand struggle and kept the ball in Princeton's territory till time was called for god of game.

Princeton 24; Yale 5.

Smith was given the ball and behind the most superb interference made a run of 35 yards, and was rushed over for a touch down, Baird kicking goal. Time exhausted for first half. Score: Princeton 12 Yale 5.

of 9 million bales. This would give a surplus at beginning of next cotton year (September 1st., 1897), of only 1 million bales which will be the smallest for many years.

If a lively speculation should get in the market and speculators decide to carry a fuller quantity than usual, spinners might be forced to pay pretty high next summer for their cotton.

New Berne market has been steady at 6 1/2 to 7c.

Yours Truly,
J. E. LATHAM.

Rbert Moore & Co. of New York, in their weekly cotton letter say:
Few persons were prepared for such a heavy movement of cotton as has taken place at the South this week. The port receipts exceed any of the estimates made at the beginning of the week and the aggregate for the season compared closely with the year '91-'92 when the yield was 9,000,000 bales. These large receipts have caused many holders to sell out and the liquidation which has been going on all the week has kept the market continually heavy.

January delivery which closed last Friday at 7.78 sold yesterday at 7.44. Some good judges think the decline has discounted the large receipts. We are glad to note that Southern markets have been held, comparatively speaking, very steady. There is shown no marked pressure to sell from primal markets which would indicate a large trade demand. This is a very healthy feature and if receipts show any marked signs of falling off this coming week we should have at least a steady market. We had better, however, give up any idea of a return to 8c. for January delivery until we know something more definite about the crop than we are likely to know in the next 30 days.

Market closes at decline of 24 to 27 points from last Friday's prices. January delivery 7.52.
