dium as Heavy. "What makes a good foothall player?" inquired a man recently. "Must he be a compare and a wrestler and this fear-ful wounds as calmly as he would drink a glass of water?" "There are special qualifications," said the man who had been through the mill, "for football players. It is just as hard for a man to play a different game or a different po-sition as it is for a baseball player to be abifted about the diamond. As in base-ball, there is room for all kinds and ball, there is room for all kinds and since of men. The little follow need not despair when he sees the burly fighters on the rush line. He can use his activity and even take advantage of his small size by playing quarter. Goarter backs suidom average over 140 pounds in weight and are supposed to be as active as bornets. A big quarter back is, as a rule, not near enough to the ground to stoop and take the low anaps sent him by the center, and the little fellow has ever neigned supreme in that depart-ment. If a man is of medium size, let him practice for a half or full back. A man of middle stature, weighing say, 188 pounds, is a hard thing to stop when he comes butting at you and equally hard to catch when he is sprinting ds, is a hard thing to stop when d the end. A tall fellow may be ble to run well and buck finely, but his long legs and attenuated body afford an extensive field for grabs by the fac-klers, and he will seldom get over the ground covered by the middle sized felagain, ground covered by the middle sized fal-low, while, on the other hand, a very small man, unless he sludes tackling by agile dodging, is simply seized, held prisons and often rushed back by the first one of the opposition to grab him. If you are tall and bony, get into the rush line as a gnard or tackle. A tall, wire fellow can do wonders in the line. wiry fellow can do wonders in the line, the pushing, shoving strength of a long man is usually something enor-mous. If you are a tall, 200 pounder, yet strong and active for so big a man, you belong at center. An immovable center rush can have lots of fun just the other fellows off through his sheer bulk. If you are a mixture, and don't belong to any of these classes, get on an end. There are good ends of every size, for the great requisite of an end is his ability to skate out diagonally and induce an escaping runner to lie

ATHLETIC NOTES.

Cornell carsmen are not discouraged in the least over the coming of Coach Lehman to Harvard.

Six members of the Chicago Athletic tion's crack football eleven have been expelled for insubordination and supposed professionalism. At a recent practice game of the University of Pennsylvania basket ball candidates De Loffre threw eight goals from the field and one from a foul.

An interesting discussion is proceed-ing in English rowing circles as to whether restrictions should be put upon the entry of foreign crews at Henley.

Charles Courtney, the Cornell coach, as 56 men in training for positions on the crew for the annual intercollegiate regatta on the Hudson river next year. Many members of the New York Athletic club are great admirers of golf, and they are thinking about organizing a golf club and making links at the summe at Travers island.

A Coaching Difficulty.

Clayton Goes to Engli

"Perhaps one of the most difficult things to accomplish in coaching a football team," says G. W. Woodruff in the Philadelphia Press, "is to get the cap-tain to try for goals from the field on first downs inside the 25 yard line. He John R. Gentry, 2:00%, recently purchased for $19,900 by L. G. WLen in the heat of the game he seems utterly unable to realise that the sur-render is not for more than half a min-te of estimal playing time because the boy on the lookout to earn a penny, whether by cutting grass and chasing tennis balls in summer or shoveling paths through the snow in winter. Abundant use can be made of him in golf, for he is needed to carry the sticks and locate the balls. Dignified by the name of "caddy," he has rapidly mas-tered all the intricacies of the sport, and when his master calls for the render is not for more than half a min-ute of actual playing time, because the hall cannot be kicked out from behind the 10 yard line much farther than to the 85 or 40 yard line, and there is ev-ery probability that the man who catch-es it after the kick out will be able to ron it back inside the 85 yard line with the assistance of heavy interference from the other players of his own side, or if the hall is not kicked out farther than the 80 yard line a fair catch can almost marely be made, and the chances of kicking a goal from the field after such a outch are very great." and when his master calls for the "cleek," the "putter" or the "brassy" the lad hands them out with all the alertness and grace of his Scotch name New Pitcher For the St. Louis Browns
