WASHINGTON NEWS.

Facts About Cleveland. His Wealth Estimated.

Mr. Chandler and Butler Hitch. Secretary Herbert Will Remain in Washington. What the Senate is Doing.

JOURNAL BUREAU,
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 3.

It is probably the first time in its history that Washington has entertained a President and Vice President, a President-elect and Vice President-elect and the recently defeated candidate for the Presidency, all at the same time. President at the White House working early and late to finish the work which must be completed before the 4th of March; McKinley at a swell hotel waiting to be inaugurated, and William Jennings Bryan at the house of a friend receiving enthusiastic delegations of silverites apparently undismayed by his defeat and almost unconscious of the preparations for the inauguration of his late opponent, is certainly an interesting situation.

Mr. Bryan is interviewing his political friends here and is laying plans and preparing for an active campaign in the cause of bimetalism.

In spite of the money he must spend in keeping up the dignity of his position of the President of the United States usually makes a very neat sum of money during his four years in office. His salary for the term amounts to $200,000, and this it is estimated, is only about two thirds of what he really receives. He as everybody knows, has the White House rent free, and money is appropriated every year to pay the running expenses of it. This sum averages about $45,000 every year. His stable is taken care of for him and this amounts to about $8,000 during the term. The Government provides him with a private secretary and pays his salary, which is $5,000 a year. He is provided with a private door-keeper whose salary of $1,300 a year is paid by Uncle Sam. He has light, heat and newspapers free, and clerks always at his hand to do his bidding.

The election to the presidency is a gift of a paid up life insurance policy for four years, as the widow of a President who dies in office has a pension of $5,000 a year. In the case of Mrs. Garfield this was supplemented by a gift of $300,000 by the people of the country. When the four years of glory have passed and the President becomes what we so proudly term an "ordinary citizen," he usually retains some of the glory which attached itself to him while in office, because if he as a lawyer he is able to demand fees ten times larger than he received before his election to the office. Ex-President Harrison can readily command $10,000 for a single case.

President Cleveland came to the White House twelve years ago comparatively a poor man, and now his fortune is estimated to be anywhere from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000. The most conservative say one million, while his Populist enemies put it at the top figure. The most profitable deal made here was his big speculation in real estate. During his first term he purchased a country house called Red Top for $25,000. At the end of his term he sold this house for $248,000 to a syndicate. The syndicate platted the grounds and attempted to sell building lots, but it is still looking for purchasers. His largest fee, probably was the one he received while practicing in New York for straightening out the affairs of a railroad. This fee was in the form of a commission and amounted to nearly $50,000. It is reported on good authority that Mr. W. C. Whitney let him on several things in the stock market, and that helped him always on the golden road.

After recovering from his nervous fit over the Cuban matters the Senate settled down to business on the appropriation bills and the Senators are working like turks from early noon to after midnight every night. On Sunday February 22, they were in session from midnight until just midnight. On the night of March 2nd they will sit through the entire night and until noon of March the 4th. It has been determined by the Senators that the hands of the clock in the Senate are not to be turned back this year as has been the custom, and that the session will close on the instant of noon. Senator Chandler has been very anxious to push his monetary conference bill through, and has been endeavoring to have the rate for armour plate reduced to $300.00 per ton instead of $400.00 as recommended by the Secretary of the Navy and the Naval committee. Senator Gallinger has been prodding the Indian appropriation with an earnest endeavor to find unnecessary expenditures. Senators Hale and Fry have been equally active these days. During the rush of Monday March 1st in the House Mr. VanHorn (Missouri), secured the passage of a bill for the purpose of authorizing the National Bank of Kansas City to move its office from one suit of rooms to another suit in the same building. It seems that the bank is in a building which is on the boundary line between Kansas and Missouri and it desired to move from a suit of rooms on the Kansas side of the building into a suit on the Missouri side of the building. As this would be putting the bank in another jurisdiction it required a special act of Congress.

The local postal bill is now primarily of the Confederacy have decided to make the Jefferson Davis memorial the object of their efforts to raise funds. "The Private Soldiers of N. C.," will be the subject of the Memorial Day address this year. Capt. Thomas M. Mason has been requested to be the orator.

The Republican paper, the Tribune, is very hard on Mr. Josephus Daniels, the editor of the News and Observer, this morning.

In the House the following bills passed: To appropriate $23,000 for improvements at colored deaf mute institute, and $20,000 for the blind asylum at Morganton. The bill for police commission at Charlotte was killed.

In the Senate a bill placing Wilmington under police commission passed. It had already passed House. The Fayetteville police commission bill was killed.

The committee to investigate fraud in the Senatorial election meets with contradictory evidence.

ently hung up in the Senate. Senator Chandler has charge of this bill as chairman of the committee on post-offices and he admits that the bill has no chance. As amended the bill provides one cent postage for letters. Senators Stewart and Butler are opposed to the bill. Mr. Butler declaring that the bill is infamous. Mr. Chandler replied to Mr. Butler that he had not time to talk against an "Uncorked Populist," but he could not see how a bill having as one of its prominent features a one cent letter postage could be infamous.

At least one member of the Cleveland Cabinet will remain permanently in Washington after the 4th of March. Secretary Herbert is to open a law office and enter upon the practice of his profession. He will take cases before the Supreme court the Department of Justice and the local courts.

The last session of the 54th Congress will go on record as containing the greatest aggregation of bluffers ever assembled as a legislative body. They have for the past few days been blowing themselves on Cuban resolutions, and indications are that they will continue until the 3rd of March. The President and Secretary Olney have been seriously disturbed for fear that the Senate might do something that would offend Spain. Olney is keeping his promise to Spain that nothing would be done in the Cuban matter by the present administration, and he will be glad when the 4th of March has passed. Although General Lee, Consul General to Cuba is a personal friend to the President he cannot submit to the humiliation of his present position. He, too, will be glad when McKinley is President for then he can get out of his present position without a rupture with his "great and good friend."

At this time the Senate is getting off a lot of "clap traps" and "swash boats" about protecting American citizens in Cuba which would be very proper if it really intended doing anything. Senator Allen expressed the situation very well when he remarked that the Cuban question like the Indian affairs was a very good foot ball to kill time with when we haven't anything else to do. However, the Senate has plenty to do now but is engaged in the brilliant, if not entirely legitimate business of determining how not to do it. Senator Allen and Senators Morgan and Hill introduced resolution on the Cuban question all of which went over.

NEW BERNE CHARTER.

Bill Passed Both House and Senate.

D. H. Abbott Elected Railway Commissioner. R. A. Cobb as Librarian. The Special Committee at Work.

SPECIAL.
Raleigh, N. C., March 3.—The Legislature elected R. A. Cobb, a Pritchard Populist, for State Librarian. The holders and Republicans voting straight for him. The Populists voting for E. A. Cole, and the Democrats for J. C. Ellington.

It also elected D. H. Abbott, railway commissioner, the Democrats voting for E. C. Reddingfield and straight Populists for John Graham.

Bill passed both branches amending New Berne's charter, so that the Governor appoints one alderman from each ward.

Bill to create a police commission for Goldsboro was railroaded through the Senate by Grant who is one of the commissioners.

The House passed the revenue act, incorporating in it $30 tax on all attorneys, also a bill amending the school law, and another bill appropriating $100,000 direct to common schools which raise an equal amount of tax.

The House special committee on the lease of the North Carolina railway this afternoon examined ex-Governor Carr, E. C. Smith, A. B. Andrews, J. W. Wilson, R. F. Hoke and H. W. Miller.

THE STATE CAPITAL.

The Penitentiary Bill Passed. No Extra Session. The Pope Name Ours. Bills Passed.

JOURNAL BUREAU,
RALEIGH, N. C., March 3, 97.

In the Senate last night the penitentiary bill passed. It gives the Governor power to appoint nine (9) directors; to name the chief officer by consent of the Senate and to name the warden etc. by consent of the directors. The insane Asylum were also taken out of Democratic hands by the House.

Senator Grant from Wayne is one of Governor Russell's most bitter opponents. They clash in all subjects, and he says openly that Russell is backed by the majority Populists, headed by Senator Butler.

It is pretty well settled that there will be no extra session of the Legislature called and it will not adjourn so Speaker Hilleman says until Wednesday 10th. Hon. Elliot F. Danforth of New York is here the guest of Mr. Ed. Chambers Smith. He is a member of the National Democratic Committee.

There seems to be no hope for Walter Henry securing the judgeship or anything else.

There seems to be a continuous caucus at this time. In the Republican caucus last night it is said Lt. Gov. Reynolds' hinted at a plan for the Republicans and Democrats to go in together and divide the State institutions.

The Populist bolters met last night and named R. A. Cobb for State Librarian; D. Reed Parker, commissioner of Agriculture; Dr. W. R. Wood, superintendent of Raleigh Insane Asylum and J. Y. Hamerick, commissioner of labor statistics. This was done by agreement with the Republicans.

The Republicans say they will defeat the Code Commissioner on the plea of expense.

The committee for investigating fraud in the Senatorial election has done but little. Two men say they were offered positions to vote for Pritchard, but this is denied by those who are said to have made the offer. Then somebody has fibbed.
