THE INAUGURATION.

McKinley Took the Oath of Office at Noon.

President Cleveland Accompanied Mr. McKinley. While the Senate Committee of Arrangements Escorted Mr. Hobart. Twenty Thousand Persons in Parade.

Special.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—The weather today was clear and pleasant, with a moderate temperature, leaving nothing to be desired in that important matter.

From the best estimates obtainable it appears that there were about twenty thousand men in the great parade. Of these about twelve thousand were military and eight thousand civic organizations. Almost all of the latter were republican-league clubs. This organization numbers 8,000 clubs scattered over the country, with an aggregate strength of two and a half millions, and was the great fighting force in the past campaign. The three civic divisions are composed almost wholly of its members, with only about eight detached organizations of any sort, one of which is the famous old Harmony Fire Company of Philadelphia and another the Indian School Battalion of Carlisle.

The official ceremonies began with the departure of President Cleveland and President-elect McKinley and Vice-President-elect Hobart and the Senate committee of arrangements, and their escort of 7,000 troops from the White House for the Capitol, where the oath of office was administered to the new chief executive by Chief Justice Fuller.

Major McKinley drove over from the Ebbitt House to the Executive Mansion at 10:30 and met the President at his private office.

The Presidential party, with its escort of United States troops, Troop A, of Cleveland, and the District National Guard, left the White House at 11 o'clock and reached the Capitol shortly before noon.

Vice-President Stevenson did not accompany his successor, the Vice-President-elect, as Mr. Stevenson was engaged in presiding over the sessions of the Senate. Mr. Hobart instead was accompanied by the Senate committee of arrangements, consisting of Messrs. Sherman, Elkins and Mitchell.

At the Capitol the President and other officials, the President-elect and Vice-President-elect assembled in the Senate chamber, the members of the Supreme Court and of the Senate and House being present. Vice-President Stevenson administered the oath of office to Mr. Hobart and at the stroke of 12, declared the Senate of the Fifty-fourth Congress adjourned without day. The new Vice-President, an extra session of the Senate having been called, then administered the oath to the newly-elected Senators.

The Senate then took a recess and the procession moved to the stand at the east portico in front of the rotunda, President Cleveland and President-elect McKinley leading. President McKinley then made his inaugural address.

On concluding he returned to the President's room, in the Senate wing of the Capitol, and from there he was escorted to the White House by the inaugural parade, which moved from the Capitol about 2 o'clock.

The parade moved from the Capitol by way of Pennsylvania avenue West to Washington Circle, thence East through K street to Vermont avenue, where the organizations were reviewed by Grand Marshal Porter and dismissed.

From a stand in front of the White House the President reviewed the parade.

On the return to the White House, which President McKinley reached ahead of the main body of the parade, luncheon was hastily served for him before he went to the reviewing stand. At this time he and Mrs. McKinley took leave of ex-President and Mrs. Cleveland who at once left.

At night there was an illumination and a display of fireworks in the Washington Monument grounds, beginning at 7:45 o'clock.

THE COTTON MARKETS.
March 4.
TUESDAY early cables reported a good business done at Liverpool, but later the spot prices were marked down 1 1/2% of a penny and futures 2-64.
New York opened at about yesterday's close, but the demand was inadequate to absorb the offerings and the result is a net loss since yesterday of 11 points. May delivery 4.96.
The main features of statistical strength are unaltered and will perhaps at an early date again exert a favorable influence on values.

Yours truly,
J. E. LAWMAN.

THE STATE CAPITAL.
Warrants to be Served on Speaker Hileman and Lieut. Gov. Reynolds. No Code Commissioners.

JOURNAL BUREAU.
RALPH, N. C., March 4, 1897.

It is not at all probable that there will be any code commission at all. The Republicans and Democrats both oppose it. The Populist majority have taken decided action against any bill to take charge of the three Insane Asylums. This is very highly commended. It is said that Governor Russell himself does not want those institutions troubled, but it is the minority Populists who are urging this.

Ex-State Auditor Furman says if the bill passes to establish a Board of Equalization it will increase the revenue of the State about $150,000 and with very little extra expense. Auditor J. W. Ayer had the bill drawn.

In the House the bill for the election State Librarian and railroad commissioner came up. R. A. Cobb, Populist, was nominated for Librarian and D. H. Abbott of Danville, was nominated for railroad commissioner. The bill to revise the public school laws passed. It creates a State Board of examiners, county superintendents, etc. The Senate concurred in the House nominations for State Librarian and railroad commissioner.

The House concurred in the Senate amendment to the New Berne charter (the Wilmington bill), by which the Governor appoints aldermen.

The vote on the substitute for the New Berne negotiating charter to let the people select commissioners and let the Governor appoint 5, passed by the following vote:

Ayes—Anderson, Ashburn, Atwater, Barker, Cannon, Clark, Dickson, Early, Jeddle, Grant, Henderson, Harbison, Hyatt, Lyon, Maulsby, Maxwell, McCarthy, McCusky, McNeil, Newsom, Odum, Person, Ramsey, Roberson, Rollins, Sharpe, of Wilson, Sharpe, of Irlet, Smathers, Utley, Wakefield, Whedbee, Yeager. Ayes 32.

News—Abell, Alexander, Anthony, Barringer, Justice, Mitchell, Moxe, Merritt, Parker, of Alamance, Patterson, Ray, Seales, Walker. Nays 13.

STUART OUT AGAIN.
Appears on the Streets at Carson. Rumor About Fitz. New Trainer for Corbett.

CARSON, N. C., March 3.—Dan Stuart who has been very ill, walked today to his office and was the centre of attraction. Information given out at Stuart's office today would seem to indicate that manumission will take advantage of the opportunity to see the glove contest. One of the clerks said that fifty letters had been received from women in various parts of the country.

Fitzsimmons was annoyed today by a story that he had been drinking. It grew out of the fact that when he came to town last night he appeared in a jovial mood. The fact was he was simply overjoyed by receiving a telegram saying that his wife had left New York for Carson. Fitzsimmons is very boyish in his ways and is a man of moods. He is leaning toward overindulgence.

Corbett has wired to Prof. John Donaldson to join him at Shaw's Springs. Professor Donaldson trained him for his fights with Sullivan and Mitchell and is a very scientific boxer. At present Joseph Corbett is used for fast work. Jeffries for rushes and short-arm work in corners, and Woods as a sort of lunatic punching bag. Donaldson is cleverer than any of these and will be of great service not only as a boxing partner, but as trainer and second.

Fitz took a bicycle ride today and a swim in the pool around the foothill. The warm weather had an exhilarating effect and when he returned to quarters he finished up his whole day's work, including boxing and wrestling, before lunch.

Corbett took a twelve-mile run through the foothills. He said today: "Win or lose, I shall make my home in New York after March 17. My sympathies are with the West, but I prefer the East as a place of residence. I hope to visit Europe next summer."

Corbett has promised to give his half of the purse he intends to win.

Rhinistons visited Dan Stuart's headquarters yesterday and was interested in a nickel-in-the-slot machine which registered the force of a blow. Few men in Carson have been able to hit it up to 500 pounds, but Fitzsimmons had no trouble in sending the indicator around to 800 pounds at the first trial. He said, too, that he had a kink in the wrist. Corbett has declined to take the chance of hurting his hand on the machine.

It was decided yesterday to bring from San Francisco the same ring in which both Corbett and "Fitz" met Tom Sharkey. The ropes and paraphernalia were shipped today.

THE SENATE ADJOURNS
For One Minute in Honor of McKinley.

Five Dollars Tax on Lawyers, Doctors and Dentist. Tax of Fifty Dollars on Outside Drummers.

Special.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—On motion, the Senate adjourned for one minute at noon today in honor of Major Wm. McKinley, who was inducted into the President's office, at Washington at that time.

The House refused to adjourn for that purpose and went on with the regular business of the session.

The Senate considered the Revenue act today and put a tax of five dollars on Lawyers, Doctors and Dentists. A tax of fifty dollars was put on all drummers from outside of this State.

Lieutenant-Governor Reynolds and Speaker Hileman were arrested this afternoon upon the affidavit of A. L. Swanson, ex-enrolling clerk, for breaking into his office while back. They were given a hearing before a magistrate this afternoon.

Americans to be Tried.
HAVANA.—The Associated Press is informed upon good authority that positive orders have been issued to the civil and military authorities throughout Cuba to try with all possible haste, and in the most satisfactory manner available, all American citizens who are now in jail and to expel those found guilty from the island.

Colonel Peijon, while reconnoitering at Santa Ana and San Rafael, this province, has had skirmishes with the insurgents, during which five of the enemy were killed and two were taken prisoners.

Ramon Mas, the secretary of Castillo, the insurgent leader, who is a prisoner at Santa Esobido, says that the insurgent leader Aguirre and the Marquis of Santa Lucia, president of the Cuban republic, both died recently of sickness, and that Quintin Bander, one of the best known of the insurgent leaders, died recently of wounds.

Resignations in Order.
WASHINGTON, D. C.—Secretary Olney resigned and his resignation will be left to be acted upon by Major McKinley. All the other cabinet members will have their resignations prepared also to be forwarded, but until the new cabinet is confirmed all of Mr. Cleveland's cabinet will continue in office.

Thirteen ambassadors and ministers have also sent in their resignations. These will be accepted in one form to the next administration when their successors have been appointed. Some few confidential generals, including General Lee have submitted their resignations.
