Bimetallic Commission Think their Mission Will be a Success.

Test Vote in the Senate on Tariff Republicans Allowed Full Swing. To Curb the Trusts. The Populist Address. The Armor Plate Companies.

JOURNAL BUREAU, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.

What was virtually a test vote on the tariff bill was quite unexpectedly brought about in the Senate this week, and the Republicans won by a majority of one. The vote was on a motion made by Senator Morrill, who is chairman of the Finance committee, to refer the resolution offered by Senator Vest, declaring the orders issued by Secretary Gage for carrying out the clause of the tariff bill which makes the duties therein go into effect April 1, to be illegal, to that committee. To the surprise of many, one Republican, Senator Chandler, voted against Mr. Morrill's motion. All the Populists present, Butler, Harris of Kansas, Helfield and Turner, voted against the motion, as did all the silver Republicans, except Mantel, who were present—Cannon and Pettigrew.

Representative Jerry Simpson was promptly on hand to oppose the semi-weekly adjournment of the House for three days, but as there was a quorum present and one 83 members voted against Mr. Dingley's motion to adjourn his opposition was no more effective than his previous efforts in that line. There is considerable trouble in the Democratic ranks over this question of three-day adjournments, but the majority following the lead of Representative Bailey, of Texas, have adopted the policy of opposing the Republican programme.

Cuba, the bankruptcy bill, and the Indian appropriation bill which failed to become a law at the last session, are the principal matters which have occupied the attention of the Senate this week. It is still a matter of doubt when the tariff bill will be reported to the Senate, with little probability that it will be earlier than the first week in May.

Senator Nelson, of Minn., is one of those who think that the tariff bill offers an excellent opportunity to curb the greed of some of the trusts, and he has given notice of his intention to offer several amendments, having that end in view, when the bill gets before the Senate. One of these amendments directs trusts or combinations for the restraint of trade or to enhance the market price of imports or manufactures to be against public policy and illegal and void, and provides punishment by fine and imprisonment for its violation and another authorizes the President to suspend the collection of duties levied upon any imported article, the hom-product of which is shown to be controlled by a trust.

Whatever others may think, it is certain that Senator Wolcott, of Colo., does not regard the coming visit of the special diplomatic commission, composed of himself, Gen. Paine, of Mass., and ex Vice President Stevenson, of Ill., to Europe in the interest of international bimetalism, as a wild goose chase. On the contrary, he thinks the commission has a hopeful field to work in, and President McKinley has the same idea. Few politicians sincerely believe in the possibility of international bimetalism and the number of politicians who would really rejoice in the success of international bimetalism would be still fewer. The professional politician is always sorry to see any question that has prominently figured in the political arena permanently settled, because a settlement deprives him of part of his stock in trade.

The populists in Congress have issued an address to their party throughout the country, the keynote of which is to refrain from doing much talking about their future intentions, and to quietly watch and wait, while standing staunchly by their principles and making converts wherever possible. The address especially appeals to populist editors to cease wasting their ammunition by fighting each other.

While the opinion is general in both branches of Congress that the Carnegie and Bethlehem steel companies are refusing to make armor plate for naval vessels at a reasonable price, because of their belief that the nature of the contracts made for the construction of the three battle ships now being built and the absence of other armor making plants will compel the government to pay their prices, it is not at all probable that Senator Chandler's bills for the seizure of the armor plants of those companies by the government will become laws. The remedy would be worse than the disease, and the precedent entirely too dangerous to set up.

GREENS ADVANCING.

The irregulars capture important strategic positions. The Sultan urged to war.

LANZA.—The main body of the Greek irregulars is continuing its successful operations against the Turks in Macedonia, with the view of cutting the Turkish lines of communication, getting in the rear of the Turks and raising the Macedonians against the rule of the Sultan.

LOAN.—A special dispatch from Constantinople says that in the last account between the Greek irregulars and the Turkish regular troops the latter lost 240 killed and wounded.

The dispatch adds that Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander in chief, has telegraphed to the Turkish authorities at Constantinople that unless he is ordered to cross the frontier and take up a position on the plains of Thessaly his present position is untenable, owing to the constant attacks of the Greek insurgents who have entered the Turkish lines by stealth, and also in consequence of the excitement among the troops, especially the Albanians.

The Turkish ministers, it is further announced, have informed the Sultan that war should be declared against Greece. The Sultan, who objects to war, has not yet replied to the commendations of his ministers.

North Carolina Railroad Directors Want Office.

Present Incumbents of Insane Asylums can Stay. Fire Insurance Fight Growing Out of New Tariff Act. Rates to Agree with Virginia.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 16.—Judge Adams decides the Insane Asylum case in favor of the present incumbents. The new appointees appeal through J. C. L. Harris, their counsel.

Gov. Russell's appointees as directors of North Carolina Railway, met today at Greensboro and elected R. M. Norman President pro tem, and E. S. Walton Secretary pro tem, and took a recess until June 7.

They tried to get into the company's office at Greensboro, but it was locked. Messrs. A. C. Avery and W. H. Day were present as their counsel.

There promises to be an interesting fire insurance fight growing out of the proposed action of the Southeastern Fire Association regarding the new act which requires rates on farm risks to be 10 per cent higher than in Virginia.

The Tariff Association was today advised to lower the rates to agree with those charged in the Southern border counties of Virginia.

THE STATE CAPITAL.

This Week's Solemnity Will be Succeeded by Gaiety. More Appointments. Resignations Coming in Newly. Conventions.

JOURNAL BUREAU, RALEIGH, N. C. April 16.

It is very much regretted that Judge Adams has not rendered his decision in the asylum cases, so that it could go before the Supreme Court this week, when his work was comparatively light. Judge Adams says that he will bring the decision with the papers in the case to-day.

In the suit in which Mr. J. C. L. Harris is charged with assault and battery against Superintendent Howell, Mr. Harris was fined $15 and costs.

Today "Good Friday," the Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches are solemn in their black draped altars, and sad and solemn are the services held commemorating the death upon the cross, of our Saviour. The decorations for the churches here for Easter, it is said, will be special and beautiful. For several years, at the church of the Good Shepherd here, on Good Friday there has been held almost a continuous service all through the day with the meditations on the seven sayings of Christ upon the cross.

Next week will be one full to the brim of gaiety. Monday night the "Mystic digests" appear at the Academy for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. Raleigh's brightest and most attractive little one will be before the foot lights.

The Superintendent of public instruction is trying to get a report of the school in every county in the State. Heretofore several have always failed to send their reports and thus the report of the State Superintendent has never been complete.

In the appointments made in the revenue service as store keepers and gaugers so Raleigh men got places. The fortunate ones are: S. W. Holloway, J. A. Crockett, W. E. Foster, C. M. Fritchett, J. C. Berens, and Daniel Allen.

"An evening with Moore and Burns," will be given next week in the parlors of the Yarbore, and voluntary contributions will be received for the Jefferson Davis Memorial.

All schools in the city have closed for the holidays.

Last night, out near the penitentiary a negro William Manly, who was drunk, and down with his head on the railroad track and went to sleep, never to awake again in this life, for a train coming in severed his head from his body.

Governor Russell, has received and accepted the resignation of Mr. Dorch as State proxy of the A. & N. C. Railroad. He is enjoined from appointing Mr. Dorch's successor, but he says he will do so if it suits him. Only two Democratic names have resigned so far—Adjutant General Cameron and Mr. Dorch.

The A. L. is used for $65,000 for the death of Herman Greer last winter.

WEYLER ORDERS HOUSES DOWN.
All Dwellings in the Cultivation Zone Must be Demolished. Arrest of Junta Feared.

HAVANA.—In view of the approach of the rainy season Captain-General Weyler has ordered the erection of an infirmary on the trocha and the extension of military hospitals. New hospitals will be constructed under the supervision of the sanitary inspector-general at Trinidad, Cacha, Isabella and Sagua.

The captain-general has ordered the demolition of all houses inside the cultivation zone. This is on the theory that the peasants will remain at night in the blockhouses and remove their families to the towns. In this way, says General Weyler, the regulars will not be exposed to the risk, in case of insurgent aggression, of shooting women and children.

PHILADELPHIA.—A private meeting of Cubans and Cuban sympathizers was held in this city, at which it was decided to take steps to frustrate what the Cubans say is the real object of Major Sandoval's visit to Philadelphia. This is said to be the arrest of the members of the Cuban junta in this country. It has been stated that Major Sandoval came to Philadelphia to purchase munitions of war to be shipped in the regular way to General Weyler in Cuba. Leading Cubans say he is trying to gather information that will culminate in the arrest of Gen. Estrada Palma, at New York, and General Quesada, at Washington. The former is the minister of so-called Cuban republic, and the latter is the charge d'affaires at the capital.

Major Sandoval, it is stated, has been commissioned by General Weyler for this express purpose, and is known to have documents found on the steamer Laurada in one of her recent trips to Cuba, showing the part played by Generals Palma and Quesada in her movement.

THE COTTON MARKETS.

April 16.
The Exchanges were closed yesterday, Good Friday.

The following letter will be of interest to you.

J. E. LATHAM.

New York, April 16, 1897.

Whatever strength the market has shown this week has been derived chiefly from the good business reported from Liverpool, and the growing confidence that the trade requirements will absorb very nearly all the desirable cotton left of this past season's growth. Yet there is little or no disposition shown to anticipate wants, on part of spinners, as freely as the situation would seem to justify, and for this reason, no special improvement in values is yet attained. An important auction sale of cotton goods took place here yesterday, with satisfactory results, according to trade report.

There is certainly a broadening demand but spinners claim prices leave them little or no profit. The new crop usually enters as an important factor about this time every season. Current reports now state that preparations are on an extensive scale for a large crop. Attention to this important feature is partially diverted by the serious overflows, which now threaten to cut off a large area from cultivation. The possible damage is variously estimated probably much exaggerated by some. The future of prices seem to depend entirely on trade and crop developments. Prices on summer deliveries are the same as last week, while next crop is four to five points lower. Our market will remain closed until Monday and Liverpool until next Wednesday, August delay 7.15.

October delay, 6.77.
