1178-BOY D.

The marriage of Miss Annie Boulane Roberts to Mr. William Gibso Boyd was beautifully solemnized in the Episcopal church on yesterday afternoon at four o'clock in the presence of relatives and hosts of frien 3a

It was a typical Southern Spring lay for all nature seemed glad and lorons.

The Rev. T. M. N. George, the beloved rector of Christ Church united in the holy bonds of matrimony two hearts that have worshippid lefore that same altar with the impressive situal of the church to which they are both devoted.

THE BRIDAL PROCESSION. As the deep toned organ pealed fort , in sweetest notes, the exquiste wedding march from Lohengrin ander the skillful playing of the alcuted organist, Miss Lillian Robsrts, the bridal party entered the shursh in the following order: Lordy little Margaret Disosway and Mader George Roberts, carrying) iskets of flowers, leading up the nain aisle to open the unique white vel pink flower gates; Mr. N. C. Lughes a few steps in advance of Mr. P. S. Cox and Mr. H. R. Bryan, Ic., The groomsmen, who are al oppular in social circles, wearing me conventional black cutaway ait, Miss Ruckman, of New York lit a special friend of the bride, and following closely came the other pridesmaids, Miss Sarah S. Hollister and Miss Mollie Heath. The grace 'ul bridesmaids wore white and pink organdie, trimmed with lace and white satin ribbons, and carried jink roses.

Then came the maid of honor. diss Dita Roberts, a sister of the wide, pleasing to all by her winsome ligni y, wearing pink crepe, trimned with lace and pink ribbons, and pearl ornaments. THE GROOM, who several years since moved from

New Berne to achieve his share of acrited success in the railroad world and is now associated with the Southern railway in their New fork City department, with face glow with the genial smile so famil uar to a legion of friends in his stive city, entered from the right sisle door with martial bearing accompanied by his "best man," Mr B. P. Neal, to the altar of plighted troth. '1'e bride followed her maid of honor, leaning on the arm of her poble father, Mr. F. O. Roberts, & the chancel. The bride's handsome gown of white watered silk and point lace lent additional charm t he unassuming grace of her digniied womanliness and the proaounced intelligence of a face speaking love and rare sympathy. She
