WASHINGTON NEWS.

Reed and McKinley will Decide Upon Senate Resolution.

Senators Promise that Tariff Debate will not be Prolonged. Two Men who Looked out for their Constituents. Successor to Late Senator Earle. The Pooling Bill Objected to.

JOURNAL BUREAU. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 24, Speaker Reed is the man who control the fate of the Senate resolution deciaring for the recognition of Cuban belligerency, and there is no reason for anybody entertaining any doubt as to hi attitude towards that resolution. If Pres ident McKinley should conclude that a recognition of belligerency would be preferable to the policy he has mappe out for himself and should desire to have that resolution adonted by the House, h has only to say so and Speaker Reed wit promptly put the resolution through, bu so long as the President remains of the opinion that a recognition of belligerency will not satisfactorily meet the exigencie of the case, that resolution will remai just where it is-on the Speaker's table fpere is much talk about a revolt on the part of the House, and the adoption of that resolution in spite of the Speaker out it is only talk. Enough Republicans in the House will stand by the Speaker and the President to control that body and that, too, in the face of the fact tha probably seven tenths of them are in fa vor of the belligerency resolution. No such thing as a "veto of confidence" known in American legislative proceed ings, but President McKinley in saying hat the adoption of that resolution a: this time would embarass him in carrying out his Cuban policy, has practically asked his party in the House for a voice of confidence, and, although there is no politics in this question, his party is likely to do as he wishes, at least long enough for him to have the chance to make Li policy known. If the Republican and Democratic Sena tors live up to their caucus [agreements, the country will be spared long-winder speeches in the tariff debate which was opened today by Senator Aldrich. Th rtepublicans did not attempt to have then caucus indorse the amendments to the sariff bill, because it would have been seless, owing to the outspoken oppos tion to some of the schedules on the par of Republican Senators. The Democrats secided to start in by making an attempt to strike out all the internal revenu taxes imposed by the bill, leaving their future actions to be determined by the dissensions they expect to see developed among the Republicans. The Populis Senators are not talking much abou their intentions, but it is safe to say that they will in all the preliminary voting stand for or against those items in the bill which they think are for or against the interests of their States, reserving the right to vote for or against the entire bill when it is put upon its final passage It is now thought that the bill will b passed by the Senate inside of four weekunless, it shall be delayed by some com plications now unexpected,

Senator Gorman, and Representative Richardson, of Tennessee have always enjoyed the reputation of being hustler in getting places for their constituents but it fairly made the eyes of some of their colleagues bulge when it was stated before the Senate civil service commit tee that when Mr. Gorman was chairman of the Senate Printing Committee, and Mr. Richardson of the House Printing commit tee, they had to the ircredit two hundred and seventy-five employes respectively in the Government Printing Office. A great many of those employes are still there, enjoying whatever protection there may be in Mr. Cleveland's exten sions of the civil service rules, again which such a fight is being made by Re

The politicians are much interested i the successor of the late Senator Earle, S. C., who died last week. The legis lature of the State will not meet unti next January, so the naming of the nator who will serve until that time selongs to Gov. Ellerbe, who is himself For Cash oredited with Senatorial aspirations. I is thought that Senator Tillman would like very much to have his friend; Ex-Gov. Evans, appointed to the vacancy, but, according to South Carolinians in Washington, Gov. Ellerbe is not on suffi-
