UPHOLDING HOME INTERESTS.

There is nothing but loss and disappointment to the promoters of home enterprises, as well as injury to the communities in which they are located, if through lack of local assistance the enterprises, once begun, become failures.

The citizens of a town should be as regretful of the success of every home enterprise, as they would be of their town's honor or credit, for failure of local enterprises does not reflect more discredit upon the individual or individuals, than it does upon the town which through indifference has neglected to give them just and proper support.

The meeting of those interested in the organization of the New Berne Fire Insurance Company, and this includes not only those who have property to be insured, but every citizen in this place, should be fully attended, and the company enabled to go to work at once. There is hardly a person who pays insurance who cannot take some stock, and if all should subscribe in proportion to the insurance they take, the stock of the local company would be taken several times over.

This Fire Insurance Company, is a home institution, a local enterprise and is entitled to the full support which it will unquestionably receive.

The promoters of the Tobacco Warehouse, should receive the recognition and support due this enterprise. The stockholders will undoubtedly maintain their end, but it is necessary that every citizen take an interest in the Warehouse project to the extent of speaking a good word for it, and exciting an interest in it that shall bring it a full business when it commences operations.

Encourage every home industry and enterprise.

A Farmer's Shrewdness.

Along the banks of the Cape Fear river, in North Carolina, are lowlands, behind which lies a higher level, or bench. The lowlands are subject to more or less frequent overflows by freshets, which are destructive to crops planted thereon. A number of years ago a farmer, resident in the vicinity, made a very comfortable sum of money, by insuring his neighbors' crops against these freshets. His unvarying success as an insurer was for many years a profound mystery to the people of the region. The years when he declined to insure were invariably years of destructive overflow. The years when he was willing to insure were equally certain to be seasons of exemption from disaster.

In the earlier days in New England this man's reading of the future would have brought him some Cataract Cured.

No remedy is as effective in eradicating and curing Cataract as Hood's Blood Balm, (B. B. B.) It purifies and enriches the blood, eliminates micro-organisms, etc., and builds up the system from the first dose. Thousands of cases of cataract have been cured by its magic power. For all skin diseases, it has no equal. It is the old reliable and long tested remedy, and doesn't throw your money away on substitutes, peddled as "just as good." Buy the old reliable Hood's Blood Balm. Price $1.00 per large bottle.

SAYS IT IS GLORIOUS.

I cannot refrain from telling you what a glorious medicine you have. For two years my mother has suffered with a severe cataract of the head and neck, and she resorted to various remedies without effect, until she used Hood's Blood Balm (B. B. B.), which cured her cataract, and healed her sore throat. W. A. FRYER, For sale by druggists. Fredonia, Ala.

unpleasant experience as a dabbler, if not an adept, in black art. In the middle ages of Europe he would probably have been revered as a prophet and saint. Yet his information came from no occult source. Observation had shown him that a certain species of wasp, which built its home in the ground, built some years on the lowlands, and other years upon the higher level. Experience taught him that when the wasps built on the lowlands there were no freshets; and when they built on the higher ground the lowland would, some time during the season, be submerged. The man had simply noted an instance of that little understood precience manifested by certain insects and animals, a better knowledge of which might even be of service to our national weather bureau. It was only at his death that he revealed his secret. —Washington Star.

Good For Brain Workers.

Blanchet almonds give the higher nerve or brain and muscle food; no heat or waste. Walnuts give nerve or brain food, muscle, heat and waste. Pine kernels give heat and stay. They serve as a substitute for bread. Green water grapes are blood purifying (but of little food value); reject pips and skins. Blue grapes are feeding and blood purifying; too rich for those who suffer from the liver. Tomatoes—Higher nerve or brain food and waste; no heat; they are thinning and stimulating; do not swallow skins. Juicy fruits give more or less the higher nerve or brain, and some few muscle food and waste; no heat.

Apples supply the higher nerve and muscle food, but do not give stay. Prunes afford the highest nerve or brain food, supply heat and waste, but are not muscle feeding. They should be avoided by those who suffer from the liver. Oranges are refreshing and feeding, but are not good if the liver is out of order. Green figs are excellent food. Dried figs contain nerve and muscle food, heat and waste, but are bad for the liver.

The great majority of small fresh seed fruits are laxative. All stone fruits are considered to be injurious for those who suffer from the liver, and should be used cautiously. Lemons and tomatoes should not be used daily in cold weather; they have a thinning and cooling effect. Raisins are stimulating in proportion to their quality.

MAYSVILLE ITEMS.

The entertainment for the benefit of Tabernacle church and parsonage held at the residence of Mr. M. B. Sabiston near Maysville last Friday night was a decided success.

In the early evening the crowd began to gather from Jacksonville, from New Berne, from Maysville, from Stella, and from Swansboro they came until there was room for no more.

The beautifully decorated veranda and hall were "things of beauty" while the tables fairly groaned under the weight of the good things supplied for the "inner man."

After supper, the crowd adjourned to the parlor where a delightful musical program was rendered by Mrs. Louis Snow, and Miss Zeta

BABY HUMORS

Barker of Stella, Miss Laura Sutor, of New Berne, and Miss Daisy Williams of Maysville.

Then the fun began. First, all the young ladies were auctioneered as "old maids" amid the shouts of laughter, and then commenced the voting for the pretty girls' cake. The bevy of pretty girls present made this last contest a close and long one and it was not until after three o'clock that the crowd, tired, but happy, left for home.

NOT EXACTLY A BABY.

How a Woman Flayed a Trick on a Cable Car Conductor.

"John, dear, some one ought to speak to that woman. See, she's smothering me. I'm not running this road. Besides, it's probably her own kid." "Well, I shall certainly inform the authorities. It's over 15 minutes that dear little thing hasn't had a breath of air. Won't you call the police?" Of course this dialogue was furnished by husband and wife. Scene—a cable car bound down town. The character spoken of is "that woman" was a female of uncertain age and decided sternness. She boarded the car at Fifty-ninth street. In her arms she carried the "it" referred to as man fashion as "the kid." Tenderly, almost to suffocation, the woman hugged her charge. Not even the end of its tiny nose nor a wisp of baby hair peeped out from the folds of the long cloak. The woman snuggled and cuddled the bundled child, and never an infantile wail or a gasp for breath aroused the wondering passengers to action. When the car reached Thirty-fourth street, "that woman," still hugging her bundle, left the car. The husband and wife followed. The car sped on.

Safe on the sidewalk, the woman paused, shook the folds of the baby's cloak, and deposited on the pavement a long, curved, wet nosed, watery eyed snout. That was all. "Well, John, I'm beat," said the wife. "So's the conductor and the company," responded John. "She smuggled the beast and got the best of the company. I was smart enough to mind my own business. Come on."—New York Sun.

P. P. P. restores shattered nerves, gives strength and tone to the entire system, revives the worn out, nervous and debilitated. You cannot but be nervous if your blood is impure.

P. P. P. gives the proper nourishment to the blood, and cures nervous prostration, debility and nervous headache.

P. P. P. cures that tired, languid, "all gone" feeling, cures dyspepsia, indigestion, and that awful distress of the stomach.

P. P. P. cures that weak, nervous condition, that dreadful jumping of the heart, followed by dizziness and sinking spells. Make your blood pure by taking P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy, and you will be well and happy.

WEAK, TIRED PEOPLE

should take P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy, without delay. While not actually sick, you feel weak and tired, ready to get sick, and what you need is strength to drive out of your system that which is the cause of Spring Fever. P. P. P. is needed at once.

Mrs. Mattie Mylius, of 70 East 60th Street, New York, says that she was in poor health, and that her case developed into nervous prostration. She suffered from nervous headaches, and at times was unable to do any work at all. She could not sleep, and was so nervous that she would have to get up at all hours of the night and walk the floor, and the opening of a door would startle her. But her weakness and nervousness finally gave. P. P. P. was what saved her. Her appetite improved, her nervousness is a thing of the past, and she thanks P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy, for her complete restoration to health.
