Baptist Picnic. Colored Excursionists in Raleigh. Col. Haywood to

JOURNAL BUREAU,
RALEIGH, N. C., June 23.

It is expected that the council of State will meet on Wednesday, and the contract for public printing be given out.
Barnes Bros. will undoubtedly get the job work, but the heavy work such as printing and binding of books, will be given to another party, so as to keep the two grades of work separated.

Tomorrow the Sunday school of the First Baptist Church will go to Chapel Hill for their annual picnic.

There is very general regret that North Carolina will be so poorly represented at the Confederate reunion at Nashville.

Yesterday Raleigh was crowded with negroes the result of two excursion trains from the eastern part of the State.
The excursionists were indignant that the keeper of the capital would not allow them to go on top.

The three following names have been sent to the Inspector General of the United States as the best all-round drilled men in the Agricultural College. Drilled J. Wooten, Wilmington; J. L.
Knight, Tarboro; C. D. Harris, Raleigh.

Mr. Charles D. Heatt ex-chief of police of this city is critically ill at his home here. Mr. A. P. C. Bryan, Southern Express agent here has had a relapse and is very ill.

Col. W. W. Haywood of the dead Tribune will probably return to Hendersonville where he was doing newspaper work before he came here.

The 4th Virginia regiment passed here yesterday in a special of cars returning from the Tennessee Centennial.

One of the drug stores here is putting in the largest plate glass window ever brought here. It is 8x10 feet, one half inch thick and weighs 600 pounds. It cost $105.

Treasurer Worth says over half the sheriffs in the State will attend the DIAMOND JUBILEE.

Eight Million People Gather in London in Honor of the Queen.

LONDON June 21.—If the streets can be taken as a forecast, Queen's Day will be signaled by the assembling in London of not less than eight millions of people. At all the London termini since early morning people have been pouring into the Metropolis in thousands. And for thousands there is no other shelter than the streets.

Bright sunshine and warm temperature blessed the first day of the open-air programme of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee. Sunday was devoted to religious services in the historic cathedrals of old England and in churches throughout the British empire. Today the venerable Queen emerged from Windsor Palace, her country residence in England, and, embarking on a magnificent railroad train of coaches built upon the American palace car pattern, rode twenty miles to London. Every station was crowded with loyal subjects, who cheered their sovereign on her way, and all along the route groups of people assembled to do her honor.

The reception in London was an ovation, and the ride through the streets from Paddington Station to Buckingham was a foretaste of the great jubilee procession of tomorrow. In the afternoon the Queen received the special envoys sent by the United States and envoys every nation upon earth. The eventful day closed with a grand dinner party at which the Queen entertained her most distinguished guests in Buckingham Palace and a reception to the diplomatic corps. It was a subject of special gratification that the Queen bore the fatigues of the day without apparent distress beyond what might be expected of a lady of her age. She is seventy-eight years old.

COTTON.
NEW YORK, June 23.—There was more activity and a larger volume of business in the cotton market today than has been noticed for some time. The opening was about on a parity with yesterday's close, and during the first hour prices held up fairly well. After this there was some realizing, principally by the local traders which was followed by a gross decline of from 9 to 11 points to the lowest for the day. A slight rally near the closing hour reduced the net decline to about 7 points. Houses with Southern connections were moderate buyers on the decline, in expectation of a higher Liverpool tomorrow. Although we are considerably over expected which favors a squeeze in the August option, yet we consider that contracts are too much divided to cause even a temporary advance and believe lower prices will follow the evening up process which will start in a few days.

STOCKS.
NEW YORK, June 23.—Those who looked for a reaction in the stock market today were disappointed. Opening prices were about 1/4 above yesterday's close, and, with but a few exceptions, the close this afternoon shows an advance for the day. The grangers, under the leadership of Burlington were exceptionally firm, and gained nearly a dollar a share. Commission houses were moderate buyers for public accounts.
Considerable business was also done by the leading international houses, which would indicate a better feeling abroad.
Nashville was also strong and favored our views as regards purchases on all weak spots. There was considerable realizing in the industrials and coalers, but offerings were quickly absorbed, especially as regards the latter stock. Chicago Gas is the weakest stock on the board and should be sold on all bulges, as insiders are inclined to withdraw their support for the present.

CHICAGO MARKETS.
CHICAGO, June 23.—Trading in wheat was irregular today. Opening prices were unchanged to lower. Considerable short wheat was covered during the forenoon, especially in the near options, which resulted in an advance of over a cent for July deliveries. This movement proved only temporary however, as the good crop reports and the knowledge that wheat is coming in fast led the trading element to ignore the possibility of a squeeze in the near month, and the crowd was quick to take advantage of the small rise to increase their short lines.
We have, along with other prominent houses, believed in a possible squeeze and were dubious of the short side of July, but upon a careful investigation, we find the majority of large houses have successfully transferred their July holdings, and the danger line seems to have been obliterated. The close this afternoon was near the opening figures and the consensus of opinion is to sell all options on bulges.

Provisions were fractionally higher today, but the buying was scattered; the larger houses being out of the market.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

Conditions for the Week Ending Monday, June 21, 1897.

The week ending Monday, June 21st, was generally very favorable for farm work, especially haying and harvesting, and for the growth of crops, which have improved materially. The weather was very warm and dry up to the 17th, with maximum temperatures above 90 everywhere, and abundant sunshine. Good showers followed, which were extremely beneficial. Some severe local storms occurred. The wheat harvest is about over. Cotton is beginning to bloom in extreme south portions. A good crop of hay has been saved in past two weeks.

EARLY DISTRICT.—A very warm week ending with fine rains. Crops on high lands suffered first part of the week from drought, but all were improved by a favorable season after the 17th and crop teration common to the cheap brands.

are generally clean. Local heavy rains or hail damaged crops over limited areas in Nash, Bladen, Chowan, Camden and Brunswick counties. Cotton is doing very well, though still small. Corn is growing more vigorously; some farmers through hilling it; tobacco slender and inclined to button too early; some leaves have been cured. Peanuts are growing fast. Oats being cut; crop not good generally. Cantaloupes and watermelons blooming. Peaches and pears ripening, but crops very short; June apples very inferior; berries abundant.

GOOD PROGRESS.
Republicans Hope to Pass the Tariff Bill Next Week.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The rapid progress made with the tariff bill today has given rise to hopes upon the Republican side of the chamber that the bill may pass by the end of next week. There are, however, a number of weighty questions to be determined by the Republican caucus, including the woolen duties and the duty on hides, which may cause delay, while the Democrats will have some amendments to offer that may lead to prolonged discussion. Still the Republicans express themselves as perfectly satisfied with the progress that has been made.
