Wanted--An Idea
Who can make a good thing out of a bad thing? We are looking for a man who can make a good thing out of a bad thing. We are looking for a man who can make a good thing out of a bad thing. We are looking for a man who can make a good thing out of a bad thing.

INCREASED VALUATIONS.

Railroad Commission Reduces
Telegraph Rates to 15c.

Fair Buildings Being Put in Order.
Efforts to Carry School Tax Election. Report on Onslow Fish Industry. Carroll Denies a Deal Was Made.

JOURNAL BUREAU,
RALEIGH, N. C., July 23.

The Railroad commission which has been holding its session in the mountains has increased the valuations of railroad for the entire State about $3,000,000 over the valuations of 1896. It has also reduced the telegraphic rates to and from any points in the State from 25 cts. to 15 cts. for 10 words. This reduction begins September 1st.

The State buildings and the State Fair association building out at the Fair grounds are being put in thorough repair for the big State Fair.

Mr. Tom Pence the city editor of the Press-Visitor, Raleigh's bright evening paper was thrown from his wheel yesterday and his hip badly hurt.

Every effort is being made by the public school authorities to have the public school tax election in August carried. If this extra amount is won for the schools it will raise the grades higher, and put into the schools, Latin, Greek and all the higher branches. Many think there is no need for such grades in public schools for the bulk of the pupils are those who will have no need for such branches in the battle of life before them. Give them a good education in the three R's, reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic," and they go out better fitted than if they had a smattering of all the collegiate courses. The tax will be voted, because the majority of the voters are not those upon whom the tax will fall.

Senator Butler declares that the railroad fare and valuation question will go into politics in 1898.

The Labor commissioner has a report of the fish and shell fish industry from Onslow county. Last season there were taken from New River 10,000 blue fish 15,000,000 menhaden, 1,000,000 mullets, 100,000 perch and 1,000,000 other fish; 20,000 bushels of oysters, the whole value exceeding $400,000.

Chief clerk of the State Treasurers office, Mr. J. W. Denmark has gone to Morehead to attend the "bankers" convention and also the county officers convention.

U. S. Marshall Carroll is back from Washington and denies the rumor that he has made a deal with Senator Pritchard. He says both Pritchard and State chairman Holton have been his friends all along and that they expressed to the Attorney General in Washington their desire that he serve out his term. He says Dockery who is to succeed him declined to take the office until his (Carroll's) term is ended--all this was done voluntarily by the above three named gentlemen.

SUGAR AGAIN LEADS.

Another Day for New Records in Stock Prices.

Foreign Markets Strong on Cotton.
Causes Good Advance. Big Receipts. New Wheat Causes Break in Wheat Prices.

Special to Journal.
New York, July 23--Stocks continued in their upward movement and will go much higher on crop report.

New records were made today, for the Grangers, and Sugar came in for an advance of three dollars on renewed buying.

Cotton was strong on foreign cables, and good purchasing by the home interest. We look for higher prices.

The wheat receipts of the last two days together with lower foreign markets was too much pressure for the bull contingent, and prices after opening a cent lower showed a feeble rally, and continued downward, netting two cents loss for the day.

We look for a rally for current prices.

FORGOT TO FIGURE.

To Defeat Tariff Bill Senate Must Reject Conference Report.

Sugar Stock was Bound to go Up.
Queer Ideas of What a President Can do. Influence of Strike on Ohio Politics. Against Powderly.

JOURNAL BUREAU,
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.

It was a case of mistaken judgment on the part of those Senators who started out to filibuster against a vote on the conference report on the tariff bill, as they discovered as soon as they took time to do a little quiet thinking. The parliamentary status of the bill after the conference report was made tied its opponents hand and feet, unless they could control enough votes to reject the conference report, as a motion to accept the report was the only one that was in order.

Could separate votes have been taken a motion to reduce the duty on white pine lumber to $1, could easily have been carried, as could motions to replace cotton ties, bagging, burlaps and other articles on the free list, but when it came to rejecting the conference report with all the uncertainty of what would be the result of reopening the entire bill to amendment a majority was opposed to it. The trouble with those who wished to change portions of the bill was that they did not include any of those who voted for the bill as a whole or who would have voted for it, even if the changes they wanted had been made. That is why the effort was a failure from the start.

It is somewhat uncertain whether the sugar trust imposed on Congress and got much more than Congress thought it was getting in the final sugar schedule of the tariff bill, or whether it is now imposing upon that portion of the public which invests its money in stock speculations. If the present unprecedentedly high price for the sugar trust stock is maintained it will indicate that the first is true, but if the price of that stock takes a tumble, as some are predicting, it will be good evidence that the trust has worked the speculators to make up for what it failed to get from Congress.

That some people have queer ideas of the power of the President is shown by the urgent written appeals which have come to President McKinley concerning the big coal strike. Without exception these communications have come from educated people, and without exception the writers ask the President to stop the strike at once. Doubtless the writer of each of these appeals has an idea that all the President would have to do to stop the strike would be to intimate to the strikers and their employers that he wished it stopped. As a matter of fact the President has no more authority to stop the coal strike, or any other strike, than the humblest reader of this paragraph has. He might, of course, influence either, or both sides, by suggestions or persuasion, but he cannot order them. It is very well known that Maj. McKinley would like to see the strike satisfactorily ended. He is much interested in the political campaign in Ohio, and he knows that a continuance of the strike isn't going to help Senator Hanna, but he is too shrewd a politician to take any chances of injuring himself by being too forward with suggestions. In plain English, while he wants the strike settled he doesn't wish to have any hand in the settlement, even if he had the power.

The opposition to Mr. Powderly's confirmation as Commissioner General of Immigration is so active that it is understood his friends in the Senate determined not to push the nomination to a vote at this session of Congress.

Keen interest is felt in geographical circles as to the result of Andree's polar expedition, and this is greatly increased by the arrival of the pigeons at Soevdo and at Tromsøe Island, though there is some doubt as to whether either bird came from Andree.

A terrific cloudburst struck Youngstown, Ohio, flooding the entire valley and causing great damage to property, both in the city and along the railway lines. Many people are supposed to be drowned. The entire country east and west for twenty miles was flooded, and the damage will be enormous, the railroads being the heaviest losers. The Erie railroad west of Warren fourteen miles and north of Sharon for the same distance was entirely flooded-out, and orders were issued to discontinue all trains.

Secretary Sherman denied the statement that he had been induced to sign the letter of instruction to Ambassador Hay relative to the seal controversy, which has so excited the British press only under severe pressure and against his own judgment. He said that there was not a word of truth in it and that as a matter of fact he had been in perfect accord with the President in every step of the correspondence relating to the seal question.
