COURTS OF ARBITRATION.

The recent labor strikes, and attempts at lock-outs on the part of the strikers, which have caused a blockade to business, and placed the employer who is fair with his employees on the same footing with the employer who may wring the uttermost out of his employees, shows the necessity for some action, some Court of Arbitration, which shall determine and settle questions between employer and employe.

Every right minded person desires that honest labor should be adequately paid.

Every right minded laborer, or person who works for wages desires only such compensation as is just.

If both employer and employe might each on his part, feel that their interests were closely allied, too nearly identical to warrant any disturbance on either side, then there would be no strikes or lock-outs, no losses to employer and employe, no disturbance of the public peace.

Unfortunately this is not the case, and there is some mode of settlement demanded, so that the present and all future labor disturbances may be done away with, and the periodical waste of millions of capital, or its equivalent, may be avoided.

How shall the mode of settlement be arranged, unless some legally constituted Courts of Arbitration be established, is a hard matter to decide upon.

There is a right and wrong to all these strikes.

Capital and Labor arrayed against each other like hostile armies, is a menace to the State and the Nation.

Shall the breach between the two be only closed by the exhaustion of one or the other, or can some means be instituted so that at the first intimation of friction between the two, the case may be adjusted and cause removed?

Every sensible person will favor almost anything, rather than the oft occurring strike and public disturbance, so sure to follow.

In the establishment of Courts of Arbitration by law, precisely like courts of equity, there must be some infringement upon individual rights and possibly so much of an infringement as to place the establishment of such courts out of the question. However this may be, will it not be better that some personal liberty be given up, if by the surrender of individual privileges, the welfare of the State and Nation be best served, and there be a cessation of strife between Capital and Labor?

An Old Controversy.

The silver jubilee of King Oscar's coronation has awakened the old Bernadotte-Napoleon controversy. The French admirers of the great Emperor still insist on libeling the memory of Bernadotte (afterward Charles XIV of Sweden) as that of a traitor. Not only do some historians accuse him of treachery to Napoleon, but they declare that he would also have betrayed the allies, and have made himself an Emperor after the Napoleonic model.

But it is also well to remember that Bernadotte had been Minister of War while Bonaparte was in Egypt, and served splendidly as a Marshal despite his rivalry with the "Little Corsican." He was made Prince of Ponte Corvo for his brilliant feat at Austerlitz, and he only resigned and washed his hands of Napoleon when that passionate ruler quarreled with him over the battle of Wagram. As for his work with the allies, it was Bernadotte's soldiers that decided the battle of Leipzig.—Ex.

Bachelor Items.

September 23rd. The weather fair and pleasant again.

The basket supper at Oak Grove last Saturday night was quite a success. A good many young ladies and gentlemen from other places were present, all of whom seemed to enjoy themselves nicely.

Samuel Fulcher of Smyrna, ship carpenter, is in Bachelor working this week.

Samuel Bacon & Sons' tug boat was in Clubfoot's creek this morning after a large raft of logs.

Mr. Teasley of Wildwood is in Bachelor erecting a new dwelling for James F. Smith.

Quite a number of our young people went to church at Adams creek Sunday.

D. M. Salter of Merrimon and Tobe Marshall of Winthrop were in Bachelor Sunday night on a visit.

An Old Doctor's Favorite.

Dr. L. M. Gilliam, who practiced medicine over forty years, originated, used and claimed that Botanic Blood Balm, (B. B. B.) which has now been in use about fifty-five years, was the best Tonic and Blood Purifier ever given to the world. It never fails to cure the most malignant ulcers, sores, rheumatism, catarrh, and all skin and blood diseases. Beware of substitutes. Use this standard remedy. Price per large bottle $1.00.

AFTER SEVERAL DOCTORS FAILED.

I have been afflicted with Catarrh for many years, although all sorts of medicines and several doctors did their best to cure me. My blood was very impure, and nothing ever had any effect upon the disease until I used that great Blood Remedy known as Botanic Blood Balm, (B. B. B.), a few bottles of which effected an entire cure. I recommended it to all who have Catarrh. I refer to any merchant or banker of Athens, Ga., and will reply to any inquiries. R. R. SAULTER. MAYSVILLE.

Festival on Monday. The Town Building Up. A New Ginney. Street Lights Are Needed.

September 22nd.

A festival was given at the warehouse of the W. & N. R'y, Monday night for the benefit of the new Baptist church which was recently erected by the good citizens of Maysville and vicinity. There was a very large crowd present and $27.50 was realized.

The farmers are very much dissatisfied with the present prices of cotton. It having sold here today for 6 cents, but they are living in good hopes, and still waiting for the "promised wave of prosperity."

Miss Laura Suter of your city, was a visitor in our town on Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Emma Weeks of Cedar Point is visiting friends and relatives of this place.

Misses Fannie and Bertha Bell of Polkville, who have been visiting Mr. A. J. Collins, returned home today. We hope to have them with us again soon.

Maysville is on the boom generally, several new stores and dwellings having been erected and occupied recently.

W. F. Mattocks has opened his store. He carries a full line of general merchandise.

The Maysville Ginning Co., have completed their ginney and are ready to accommodate their customers. They also have a saw mill combined.

F. M. and G. H. Jenkins will open at an early date a full line of confectioneries. We wish them much success.

L. T. Gillett was a visitor to your city Wednesday. He went in the interest of A. J. Collins to purchase goods.

W. F. Gillett of your city is visiting friends and relatives at this place. He is always a welcome visitor with us.

Our streets have all been laid and cleaned, and now all we need is plenty of good street lights, which
