Diplomatic Opinion That Such is Our Interest in Cuba

Meetings Held in Washington De manding Action by This Government. Senator Foraker Visits the President and Goes Home Pacified.

JOURNAL EURTAU. WASH NGTON, D. G., Oct. 4. Members of the diplomatic corps, under special instructions from their Govupon the relations between the United one of them consented to express his views, provided his name was not used. that e'l will be paid by January 1. He said: "I don't think that either the American people or their press, with all their shrewdness, understand the moves that are being made in this Cuban business. The general impression is that this country is working to bring about the ndependence of Cuba, with a view to its ultimate annexation. In my opinion, and in the opinion of many of my fellow diplomates, that is entirely wrong. I tion made by the United States to Spain, which I believe to have the moral support, if not the material support of Creat Britain, does not go further than bringing peace to Cuba, in order that the commerce of this country and England with the island may be restored to its former size. In other words, it is a question of dollars and cents and not of favoritism or sentiment. I believe further, that the new Spanish Cabinet will be favorably inclined to this proposition, but that doesn't mean that it will be, or can be carried out. There are two obstacles, serious ones. First, the Cubans have lost no opportunity of proclaiming to the world that they will listen to no offer that does not grant them absolute independence, and lastly, the strength of public opinion in this country in favor of independence for Cuba. If Spain one's Cuba peace and some rule with a government something like England gives its colonies, and the Cubans refuse it, what will this country lo? A majerity of your people appear to be with the Cubans, but I am satisfied hat your government is not, and your government is right. Cuba could not naintain its independence if it had it. I onsider its native population unfitted for self government, and equally unfitted o become a part of the United States, ven if your government wished to an nex the island, which I do not believe nteresting problem, but I confess that I e no solution in sight." The other side of the Cuban question night have been heard at a public meeting held in a Washington church, Sunday afternoon, which was the first of a series to be held in Washington and elsewhere during the fall and winter, under ional Cuban League. Among the speak ers were a number of prominent men and women and several Washington preachers, and the text from which they all spoke and demanded action on the part of this government was "Free Cuba." The star among President McKinley's numerous political visitors since his return to Washington was Senator Forake of Ohio. He was preceded by the story that he had left Ohio in a huff because of some disagreement with Senator Hanna and his Lieutenant, Col. Dick over the management of the campaign and did not intend to return. This may or may not have been, but after severa conferences with President McKinley Senator Fo, aker left Washington today for Ohio and said he would at once re sume his campaign work, which he had only left temporarily on account of press ing private business. The politicians believe that there was foundation for the disagreeing story, and that President McKinley, who has a record as a peacemaker among Ohio Republican factions, in some way brought about a truce and persuaded Senator Forsker to again enter the campaign. Anyway he is going into the campaign again this week.
