CAN NEW BERNE BE MADE MORE PROSPEROUS.

With the increased trade which comes to every merchant and business man at this season of the year, there is little time for them to give to the consideration, how shall New Berne be made more prosperous than it is.

And yet this is the very time when such a consideration ought to be given careful thought.

Business may be good, sales of merchandise increasing over previous years, and the outlook encouraging, yet every merchant feels that there is a time coming when this buying will fall off and trade will lapse into dullness.

To provide against this evil day is the duty of every citizen.

Necessarily there must come periods when sales are slow, yet there need be no excessively dull times, if the working man of New Berne is provided with work, for it needs no argument to show that the laborer provided with work, is always a consumer to the extent and degree of the compensation he receives for his work.

At this season, it is the farmer who is the agent of New Berne's prosperity. He has good crops. He is marketing his produce, and with the proceeds is buying those things which through the season when his crop was maturing he could not afford to buy, or really did not need. This is changed now. The farmer has sold his produce, and has money to spend, and is spending it every day in this city.

In the same degree as the farmer with his farm products brings prosperity to New Berne, so will the laboring class of this city bring it prosperity, in a daily, unceasing flow, if this class shall be provided with work.

New Berne can be made and kept prosperous, if remunerative wages can be given her working people.

Building manufactories will give this work, and it will not merely increase and keep permanent the local mercantile trade of the city, but manufactories will attract outsiders who will not be slow to follow the lead of those who living here, show their faith and confidence in the future of their city by constructing factories for the manufacture of home products and for the employment of home labor.

To the extent that the laborer is provided with work, so shall prosperity increase, and every citizen who can make legitimate work should do so, and thus make his city more prosperous.

Orange Groves Renewed.

If the owners of the Florida orange groves had given careful attention to their groves immediately after the freeze, instead of neglecting them, as a large proportion of them did, says the Savannah News, the orange crop this year would be something like 1,000,000 boxes, instead of 250,000, as it is estimated it will be. Of this 250,000 boxes about 200,000 will be marketed outside of the State.

Why most of the groves that were eventually cared for are so backward is that their owners were too poor to buy the fertilizers necessary to force the trees to a vigorous growth. Now they are fertilizing their groves liberally, having been able to borrow money on them since better times came. Within about four years, if nothing occurs to give the groves a set back, the orange production will be as great as it was before the freeze—about 5,000,000 boxes.

It is estimated that fully 10 per cent. of the groves injured by the frost were abandoned, but many new groves have been set out in that section of the State which was not noticeably hurt by the freeze. It would not be at all surprising if ten years hence Florida should be producing 10,000,000 boxes of oranges a year.

Will Raise Wheat in Alabama.

A meeting of farmers of Dale and adjoining counties was held at Ozark, Ala., last Monday. It was called by commissioner of Agriculture for the purpose of discussing the cultivation of wheat and cereals. Cheap cotton and a short crop furnishes abundant evidence that the farmers of the section were erring in single-cropping cotton, and the big assembly of a hundred or two prominent farmers endorsed the plan of diversifying crops and raising everything to eat at home. One hundred of the delegates pledged themselves to sow from five to twenty bushels of wheat this fall, and deposited money with the probate judge to purchase the seed wheat for them. The Dale meeting was such a success that Commissioner Culver will try the plan in other counties.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

How to be Beautiful.

To be beautiful, you must have pure blood and good health. To do so, purify the blood and build up the health with the best Tonic and Blood Purifier of the age, Botanic Blood Balm ("B. B. B."). It is the old standard and reliable remedy. It never fails to cure all manner of Blood and Skin diseases, where eminent physicians, and all other known remedies have failed to send stamps for book of particulars, to the Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. Price $1.00 per large bottle.

POSITIVE PROOF.

A lady friend of mine has for several years been troubled with bumps and pimples on her face and neck, for which she used various cosmetics in order to remove them and beautify and improve her complexion; but these local applications were only temporary, and left her skin in worse condition.

I recommended an internal preparation—known as Botanic Blood Balm, (B. B. B.) which I have been using and selling about two years; she used three bottles and all pimples have disappeared; her skin is soft and smooth and her general health is much improved. She expresses herself much gratified, and can recommend it to all who are thus afflicted. Mrs. M. M. Wilson, Iron Mountain, Texas. For Sale by Druggists.

Cats and Fish. A sea captain tells of his sailing in southern seas where flying fish abound. They would sometimes in their flight in the night come aboard the ship and drop to the deck. He had three cats that, though they were lying asleep below, would hear the sound whenever a fish struck the deck and would rush up to get it. They distinguished this from all other sounds. The crew tried to imitate it in various ways, but could not deceive the cats.

All animals, domestic ones included, become restless before a storm. Cats and dogs scratch and move about, while their fur looks less bright and glossy than usual. It is always a sure sign of rain when horses and cattle scratch their necks and sniff the air.

The eyesight is very often injured for life by tight lacing.

SLEEP FOR SKIN-TORTURED BABIES

And that for tired mothers in a warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, and a single application of CUTICURA (ointment), the great skin cure. CUTICURA REMEDIES afford instant relief, and point to a speedy cure of torturing, itching, humbling, itching, burning, bleeding, crusted, scaly skin and scalp humors, with loss of hair, when all else fails.

DOCTORS AGREE.

Recent investigations by the authorities of several States have attracted attention to proprietary medicines, and there is a marked disposition to draw a sharp line of distinction between mysterious nostrums and worthy articles of scientific compound and known character. "Many proprietary medicines," says a leading physician, "are the best possible prescriptions for the diseases which they are made to cure. It is certainly only reasonable to expect that chemists of world-wide reputation and unlimited resources ought to make compounds with exceptional skill, and it is manifestly to their interest, to have their ingredients fresh and pure. Take, for example, Lippman's great remedy, popularly known as P. P. P. The formula is on every bottle. Every physician knows that the ingredients are the best possible remedies for purifying the blood, and the compound is a scientific one, which increases the efficiency of the whole. I sometimes prescribe special mixtures for Blood Poisoning, Scrofulous Affections, Catarrh, Eczema and other complaints arising from impure and weak blood, but I always feel safest in prescribing P. P. P., especially where I am not personally acquainted with the druggist. In prescribing P. P. P. (Lippman's Great Remedy), I know I am taking no chances." When doctors feel such confidence in a standard remedy, it is no wonder that the general public insist upon having it. P. P. P. is sold by all druggists. 50 a bottle; six bottles, $5.
