SEC'Y GAGE'S PLAN.

All Bonded Indebtedness Refunded
at 2 1-2 Per Cent.

Not Likely to Be Adopted by Congress. Ingalls and His Pen. The Union Pacific Sale. Much Talk About Nothing.

JOURNAL BUREAU, WASHINGTON, D. C., November 1. The publication officially of the financial recommendations that will be made in Secretary Gage's annual report to Congress, created the suspicion that the synopsis of those recommendations, published several weeks ago, came directly from Secretary Gage, or some one sufficiently in his confidence to know just what he intended doing. The material facts are precisely the same—the funding of our entire bonded indebtedness in 2 1/2 per cent gold bonds, the increase of the gold redemption fund; the reduction of the class of notes that are redeemed upon demand in gold, and an increase in the number of National Banks by allowing the establishment in towns of less than 2,000 people of banks with a capital of $25,000, and increase in National bank notes by allowing the issue of notes to the par value of bonds deposited by them with the U. S. Treasury.

While these recommendations will not please the silver men, as they all tend towards increasing the strength of the grip the single gold standard has upon the country, they will not surprise them; they are mostly a natural sequence of the St. Louis platform, and the position assumed by the Republican party in the National Campaign. It is certain that no member of the administration seriously believes that legislation authorizing the issue of gold bonds can be secured from the present Congress; therefore, that portion of the recommendations may be said to have been made for effect—to state to the world what the administration would do if it had the power.

Ex-Senator Ingalls has engaged quarters in Washington for the winter for himself and family, and there is more or less guessing as to what he intends doing. The favorite guess is that his vitriolic pen is going to be used for a newspaper, or a syndicate of newspapers, but a respectable minority guess is that he intends following the usual occupation of the members of the "ex" brigade, who spend their time in Washington, during a session of Congress—lobbying.

Attorney General McKenna is very proud of the part taken by himself and the rest of the administration in the negotiations which resulted in a bid for the Union Pacific Railroad sufficiently large to cover the claims of the government against that company, and he thinks it somewhat unreasonable on the part of those who still insist that the administration should have had the sale postponed, in order to give other syndicates a chance to bid. The average individual who isn't prejudiced either way, thinks that Uncle Sam was playing in deuced good luck to get out whole on his loans to the U. P. and the accumulated interest.

"I'll tell you," remarked a diplomat, "why neither this government nor that of Spain is willing to give out the answer of Spain to Gen. Woodford's communication. There is nothing to give out. In other words, the long communication is merely an exemplification of Tallegrand's definition of the duty of a diplomat—to talk without saying anything. That is what the Spanish ministry has been doing. In about sixty days I think there will be some talk on both sides that will mean something."

Victim of Yellow Fever.

SPECIAL TO JOURNAL. RALEIGH, N. C., November 1.—Mr. Rom Weathers who was formerly a cotton grader in this city died from yellow fever at Montgomery, Alabama, today. Mr. Weathers left Raleigh three years ago.

RESULT OF FOOT BALL.

Van Gammon of Georgia Team Dead. Games in Georgia to be Prohibited. SPECIAL TO JOURNAL. ATLANTA, Ga., November 1.—On account of the death of Van Gammon of the University of Georgia foot ball team, the Legislature of Georgia will prohibit the playing of all foot ball games.

The accident to Van Gammon occurred last Saturday in the game here with the University of Virginia which resulted in a victory for the Virginians.

Gammon of the Georgia team, made a desperate effort to buck the strong line of Virginia, and in its tackle somehow lost his balance and toppled head over heels. The force of all nearly bent him double and his foot struck his head with great force, producing concussion of brain. He was taken from the field and given careful attention. He was only eighteen years old and a native of Athens, where he was exceedingly popular.

RALEIGH.

Big Order of Hosiery Yarns. Reducing Penitentiary Guards. Rain Prevents Hunting. Loss Fertilizers to be Bought.

JOURNAL BUREAU, RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 1. Today there will be a general re-organization of the guards, etc., at the penitentiary. There will not be so many guards, as the number of convicts is so much reduced by there being so many hands sent to the State farms.

Mrs. Stonewall Jackson has come here to see her sister, Mrs. D. H. Hill and her grandchildren. She is not very strong. Later she will go to her home in Charlotte.

A Naval Reserve Division is to be organized at Southport composed only of pilots. The Raleigh Hosiery Yarn Mills have contracted to furnish the Golden Belt Hosiery Co., of Durham with three hundred thousand pounds of hosiery yarns. The Roman Catholics of the State are preparing to celebrate Bishop Haid's silver jubilee which occurs November 25th at St. Mary's college near Charlotte. There will be a large gathering of leading Catholics, Cardinal Gibbons, and many other prelates will be there.

Superintendent Smith and Chairman Dockery say that the cotton fields on Roanoke river are only half picked. There are 700 convicts on the farms, but only about 400 can pick.

The directors of the penitentiary did not know that the Rev. (?) Babb was paid $60 for services. He was a protégé of Superintendent Smith.

Auditor Ayer declines to pay the costs in the Pauline oyster case, but recommends that the claimants appeal to the next legislature. The Supreme court decided that the State was liable for these claims.

The Supreme court has never filed a decision in the case of Satterfield, the clerk to the House of Representatives in 1895. Satterfield appealed to the Supreme court from the decision by the Superior court where he was convicted of fraud regarding the assignment act that was so notorious.

The Supreme court in the morning begins the docket of the 6th District. Hunters were sadly disappointed to find that today, the opening of the hunting season, was a typical rainy November day, for the rain has fallen in sheets since early this morning.

Those Republicans who will favor fusion with the Populists declare that Butler must be downed and take his little coterie and go his own way.

The drop in the price of cotton is discouraging to the farmers. It is hard for them to understand why this is. There is a big crop of cotton.

The farmers say they will buy very lightly of fertilizers next spring. They bought heavily this year. The new rooms in the State museum are being filled with over 8,000 specimens of ores and minerals. The capacity of the sulphuric acid works in the Caraleigh Phosphate mills near the city are being doubled.

Latest News Items.

The library of Congress, in its new home, was opened to the public yesterday. The funeral of Henry George was in many respects the most remarkable ever held in honor of a private citizen of this country.

The reception of General Blanco, in Havana was cordial, if not enthusiastic. Telegrams via Key West from Spanish correspondents in Cuba relative to General Weyler's conduct are couched in the gravest possible terms.

Sunday was an encouraging day in the yellow fever situation in New Orleans, but is feared that the heavy rain which has fallen will have a bad effect on the patients and will cause many more new cases to be developed. Cold weather is expected to succeed the rain.

The steamship Milwaukee sailed from New Orleans for Liverpool with the largest cargo of cotton, if not the largest general cargo, ever floated. It consisted of 23,850 bales of cotton, 30,200 bushels of grain, 38,818 pieces of staves, 2,300 cars, her entire cargo being equal to 26,000 bales of cotton. It would take 500 freight cars to carry her cargo, and the train would measure three and a quarter miles in length.

ELECTIONS TO-DAY.

Victory to be for Either Van Wyck or Low.

Van Wyck Leads in the Betting. Tracy not in the Race. How George's Vote will go. Money Spent in the Campaign.

SPECIAL TO JOURNAL. NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—In the election for mayor of Greater New York tomorrow, victory is claimed by both Tammany Hall and the Citizen's Union. The betting on the Tammany candidate, Van Wyck is not so heavy as it has been. The Republican candidate, General Tracy, cuts no figure. Those best familiar with the situation are of the opinion that Tammany Hall will get about 50,000 of the votes which would have gone to George, the Citizen's Union will get about 35,000, and that 10,000 will remain loyal to the name and fame of Henry George, and vote for the son in the place of the father.

It is estimated that the election will cost $2,374,000. Of this sum the actual cost to the municipality will be $297,000. It is then, estimated that the Republicans will spend $510,000; Tammany, $412,000; Citizen's Union, $318,000; Thomas Jefferson Democracy, $120,000, and all other parties in the contest, $155,000.

Elections will be held today in Maryland, Virginia, Ohio, New York, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado, South Dakota and Kansas.
