JOURNAL BUREAU,
WASHINGTON, D. C., November 8.
Washington, D. C., November 8. —The wire pulling that will be done by the Republicans who would like to succeed Senator Gorman, as at least three of the gentlemen spend practically all their time at the National Capital. Those who would like to be Senators from Maryland are Postmaster General Gary, Judge McComas, of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, and Representative Mudd. Governor Lowndes, who is also credited with a desire to sit in the Senate, likewise spends considerable time in Washington, being a member of the famous Metropolitan Club. One of these gentlemen has formally announced himself to be a candidate for the Senate, but they are each being pushed for the position, by friends, and there are others who would not object to the plum.

Commissioner of Pensions Evans, not only fails to predict, as his predecessors in that office did, an early decrease in the number of pensions paid by this government, but calls attention to the failure of such predictions. At the close of the fiscal year, June 30, there were 976,014 pensioners on the rolls, a net increase in a year of 5,336. The annual report of the Commissioner doesn't say so, but all the same, it is reasonably certain that the net increase of pensioners for the current fiscal year will be much larger than during this last fiscal year, owing to the change of policy in the conduct of the pension bureau, which now gives preference to applications for original pensions. The Commissioner makes two recommendations, which seem to be in line with everyday business sense. First, that a complete list of the names and addresses of pensioners be published, and second, that Congress make it illegal for the widows of veterans of the late war who marry after this time to draw pensions. The last is intended to break up the demoralizing practice, the extent of which is extraordinary, of women marrying the old soldiers when they are on their death-beds, solely for the purpose of drawing a widow's pension. Under existing laws, pensions cannot be denied to these women, even when they are known to be disreputable.

The treaty between the U. S. and Japan, by which it is agreed that the killing of seals in open sea in Behring Sea and the north Pacific Ocean shall be temporarily suspended, having been signed by the Representatives of the several governments, the work of the seal conference is closed, and this week, the second conference, between the U. S., Great Britain and Canada, will meet. Interest has been increased in this conference by the intimation that the Canadian officials intend to try to negotiate a treaty which will include some sort of commercial reciprocity between the U. S. and Canada.

If President McKinley and other prominent Ohio Republicans in Washington take any stock in the numerous stories appearing in print, alleging the existence of serious doubt of the election of Senator Hanna by the Ohio legislature, they hide it well, for to a man they insist that Senator Hanna's election is insured.

Durant Must Hang.

Special to Journal.
WASHINGTON, November 8.—The United States Supreme Court has decided that Theodore Durant must hang for the murder of Blanche Lamont at San Francisco.

Wreckage off North Carolina.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—An immense amount of wreckage is drifting off the North Carolina Coast, according to a report made by Captain Robinson, of the Clyde Line steamship George W. Clyde. The wreckage included a vessel's hatchets, parts of deck houses, a number of large timbers and an improvised raft.

Widows Going to Klondike.

NEW YORK, November 7.—More than 5,000 men and women went to the East river today to inspect the steamer City of Columbia and some of the adventurous passengers and queer outfits she is to carry around the Horn and up to the gold fields of Alaska before that region thaws out in the spring.

Mrs. Hannah S. Gould, a sprightly widow, who as she says, is going to carry a band of "sixty widows and bachelor maidens" to the Klondike, was on deck nearly all day receiving visitors and assisting Captain Baker and Edward C. Machen in explaining the details of the proposed voyage of nearly 20,000 miles. The Columbia which is to leave this port December 1, will carry about 400 passengers, nearly all from New York. She is a 2,000-ton steamship and was formerly of the Old Dominion Line.

Latest News Items.

The outcome of the recent Middleton election confirms the belief that Liberalism in England is in the ascendant.

There has been a big decrease in the number of the yellow fever cases in New Orleans. Few cases are now quarantined against New Orleans and there has been a general revival of business.

Chinese coal miners are to take the places of Americans in the Northern Illinois district. An attempt will be made to break the strike that exists, and 800 skilled Celestials have been picked for the work. They will all bear arms and will live inside the galling-gun-equipped stockade and will be guarded by 100 Chicago ex-police.

Marine fire-bugs have recently started incendiary fires in the holds at Charleston, S. C., of three European outgoing steamships, loaded with over 100,000 bales of cotton, and the City Council has increased the reward for arrest to $15,000.

Indications now are that the aggressive fight between the American Sugar Refining Company and the Arbuckles, who have long controlled the coffee trade, will be continued with renewed vigor. A prolonged fight between these powerful interests must redound to the benefit of the consumer, as it means lower prices for both refined sugars and coffee in the domestic trade, which they respectively control.

Cotton Letter.

NEW YORK, Friday, Nov. 5, 1897.
DEAR SIR:—The market reached the lowest prices touched this season, this morning. January delivery sold at 5.71 which is within 4 per cent of the lowest reached in 1894 when stocks of the world were 800,000 bales more than at present. It may be said we have already passed the point that conservative operators consider it prudent to follow the short side and yet the markets still labor under precisely the same conditions which have led to the continuous decline since the season opened. Trade is backward and uncertain consequently mills feel justified in pursuing the policy of buying only moderately.

The crop is large beyond all question so that speculation on a broad scale has been slow to develop. The planter meanwhile markets his crop with the usual freedom and to make sales is continually forced to make concessions. How long is this thing to go on? No one denies that prices are very low and most people admit that they are already below the cost of production. Basing their calculations of this one part namely, that cotton cannot be raised for 5c per pound, strong parties have already entered the market and will buy further as the market declines. If there is to be substantial support given it evidently must come from investment buying. We don't mean purchases made on $1.00 per bale margin but purchases by those prepared to protect their holdings and buy more if the price declines. But we must have some substantial support if present values are to be.

Yours truly,

JOURNAL BUREAU,
RALEIGH, N. C., November 8.
The city bonds for $50,000 for the street improvements were bid in by Esta Brook & Co. of Boston for 109 and a fraction. These bonds will be delivered this week. It is said that they are being disposed of to parties north for 112 and 113 and they may go to 115. About $5,000 in premiums will be netted by the city.

It is said that a man from Salisbury will soon write a book showing the cruelty of the guards to the prisoners in the penitentiary. If such is the case the public ought to know the truth of it.

Today at Salisbury Judge Coble hears the case of Chairman Wilson as to his right to hold the position on the R. R. Commission. The people are anxious to know whether he, as well as Mr. S. O. Wilson will be denied the right of trial by jury.

President Abernathy of Rutherford College says he would like to meet Dr. Kilgo president of Trinity College in debate on the question of education. He considers Dr. Kilgo a dangerous man.

The Post office Inspector has caught up with the person who has been robbing the mails in a Star route down in Bertie county. It was a negro who was assistant postmaster at Williamson. He pleaded guilty and will be tried here before the United States court on December 7.

"The North Carolina Presbyterian" has been bought by a stock company and will hereafter be published in Charlotte. "The Lives of Distinguished North Carolinians" is the title of a new book just out. It is edited and compiled by W. J. Peck of Raleigh.

The Supreme court has reached the 7th District and appeals from that district will be called tomorrow.

The North Carolina Rooking Exposition Car is to be called "The City of Charlotte." It is 71 ft. 9 inches in length, and is divided into two divisions, the exhibition room and the living room. The exterior and interior is in white and gold. It is to reach here today, and the exhibits will be put in from the State museum.

There has been noted the large quantity of whiskey purchased by the penitentiary authorities. They now state that it was bought to give convicts who were down on the Roanoke. It was mixed with quinine and given to prevent chills.

It is said that monazite mining has about ceased in this State. That monazite brought here from Brazil as ballast has about flooded the market.

Evangelist Lee has begun a heavy fight against saloon keepers here. He is conducting a series of meetings here and proposes to show up this town.

Secretary of State Thompson has issued a charter to the Dunn and Lallington Telephone company.

Judge Robinson heard the claims of the Carteret oyster case in Chambers here, and decides that the Auditor must issue the warrant for the payment of them.

Col. W. H. S. Burgwyn is urging that Gen. Clingman be finally buried at Asheville.

Rev. Dr. Strange of Wilmington has decided to decline the call to Norfolk, and will remain in this State.

Dr. George W. Blackhall is very ill at his home here.

A rich bed of phosphate is discovered on the penitentiary land at Castle Hayne. There are phosphate deposits in 9 counties.

NO INFRINGEMENT.

What the Philadelphia Times says:

"The 'Sunlight' Lamp is said to be entirely superior to the Weibach's Light as it gives a more natural color to objects, and does not create the ghastly appearance that the Weibach Light does. It is furthermore worthy of note that the 'Sunlight' Gas Lamp Mantle will last twice as long as any other and that it will increase the light at one half the cost for gas."

The "Sunlight" Light is brilliant, mellow, and gives all objects in their natural color, resting instead of straining the eye.
