Keeper Burns is Still Giving Away Trees.

Company Incorporated to Manufacture Lumber. Capital Club's German, Inter-State Association of Teachers Proposed.

JOURNAL BUREAU,
RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 3.

The East Coast Cedar company has been incorporated for 30 years with a capital stock of $50,000 with privileges for increasing. They will cut and manufacture timber extensively through these eastern counties. The incorporators are all Philadelphia capitalists.

There are even one hundred cases on the Criminal docket for the U. S. district court which meets here on Monday the 6th.

Keeper Burns of the State Capital building and grounds is still having trees taken up out of Capital Square. He presented some very valuable trees from there to friends as souvenirs and now he is having more taken up and put out in the public square facing the big Union Depot. The committee on Public Buildings and Grounds in the afternoon rather "sat upon" the reverend Burns, but it remains to be seen whether he will mend his ways.

Mr. Tom Bush one of Raleigh's favorite society young men led the german last night of the Capital Club to the visiting young ladies in the city. It was a delightful dance. This evening Col. and Mrs. Thomas Kenan give a large card party at their lovely home.

"Southern Progress" a news journal printed in Philadelphia and edited by Mr. Frank Heywood will soon issue a 50,000 edition and send them all through the west.

Treasurer Worth was yesterday informed by wire of the failure of the Piedmont Bank at Morganton. It is a State bank and so Treasurer Worth sent State Bank Examiner Crowder there. The State had less than $500 on deposit, but it is safe. During the year the bank handles the State funds to the sum of $140,000. $90,000 is the appropriation to the Western Insane Asylum and $40,000 for the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, both of which are in Morganton.

The proposition for an inter-State Association of Teachers to be held this coming summer at Asheville is meeting with much encouragement.

dealer in commercial fertilizers, and that the county commissioners say he must pay the merchants purchase tax on fertilizers. He says that the tonnage tax covers all taxes in fertilizers. The matter was referred to the Treasurer with Section 2205 of the Code. This says that whenever any manufacturer of fertilizers shall have paid the tonnage tax, his goods shall not be liable to taxation by any city, town or county. The Treasurer referred to Attorney general who says that under Section 22 of the revenue act of 1897 Croom is clear: that he is simply a buyer and seller of fertilizers. The Treasurer disagrees with him and no doubt it will go before the Supreme court in the end. Over four million dollars sales of fertilizers has been made in this State this year.

Missing Letter Contents Illegal.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The Postoffice Department is taking a firm stand against the so-called "missing letter" and "missing word" contests which are being conducted by a number of publishers to increase the subscriptions to their papers. All newspapers and periodicals containing advertisements of this character are forbidden transmission in the mails. The lottery law, it is now announced at the Postoffice Department, will be applied to all schemes which are violations of it, if they are continued in operation or advertisements of them are published.

SPEAKER REED'S POWER.

Is Likely to be Greater During Next Congress.

Plans for Suppressing Bills in House Next Session. Senator Cullom's Financial Ideas. Restricted Immigration Measures to be Tried.

JOURNAL BUREAU,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 3.

Great as has been the power of Speaker Reed during previous sessions of Congress, it must be greater still during this session, if he can succeed in carrying out the programmes he is credited with having drawn up. It taxed his power to the utmost all during the last Congress to prevent the passing of any public building bills by the House, and at the extra session of the present Congress it was only by using the argument that the extra session was called solely to pass a tariff bill, and that inaction on other legislation by the House was absolutely necessary in order to hurry up action by the Senate on the tariff, that he succeeded in carrying out his wishes.

At both of these sessions he had the support of Mr. McKinley, who then had many juicy plums to bestow upon his friends, and at the extra session the desire for good committee assignments also kept many members of the House quiet.

Now, Mr. McKinley has disposed of most of his stock of plums and the house committees are all formed, yet the speaker's programmes is said to be that there shall be no public building, private claims or river and harbor bills passed by the House at this session. The difficulty of carrying out such a programme can be fully appreciated when it is remembered that right after the close of this session members of the House will have to appear before their constituents and ask for reappointment.

Senator Cullom outlined a policy for his party in the Senate that would be in thorough accord with common sense and business principles, when he said, in reply to a question as to what his party ought to try to do in the shape of financial legislation at this session of Congress: "Unless we can be assured by a poll of the Senate that a financial bill can be passed, I think the Republicans should keep their mouths shut on the subject." But that policy is not likely to be adopted.

It is almost certain that there is to be much debate from all sides of the financial question at this session, especially in the Senate, and equally certain that no general financial bill will be passed, although there appears to be a slight chance in favor of legislation amending the National banking laws.

The advocates of a further restriction upon immigration are already making themselves heard in Washington, and it is evident that a very determined effort in that direction is going to be made in Congress, and from present indications it will probably be successful, although not to the radical extent that extremists are asking for.

The administration naturally prefers cutting the appropriations down to going to Congress for additional tariff legislation at this session. By next July the tariff may be bringing in all the money needed, as Secretary Gage now asserts. If so, everything will be right, and the Republicans can claim credit for having known it all the time. If it isn't all right, then Congress will at the next session have to provide for more revenue.
