Craven County.

The people of New Berne do not fully appreciate the many blessings which are showered upon them in this most healthy and pleasant place, where their city is located.

Secure against those atmospheric before the place of the place o disturbances which harass and im poverish many localities in this country; with no expessive heat in "That's very singular. Let me see country; with no expessive heat in summer, no extreme low tempera-tures in winter; with rain and suntures in winter; with rain and sun-shine equally distributed to make arms. His chubby cheeks are rosy, and productive crops for those who farm in this vicinity, the people of New Berne are singularly fortunate in living in such a climate and place.

"Four years and a half."
"He ought to stand all right at that age. How did it begin?"
"I don't understand it at all, I tell you. He was very well last night, and he played all around the room. This morning I went to wake him as usual. I put on his socks, I put his little breeches on and then I put him on his feet. He fell at once."

The mother goes out of the room and words, that our neighboring town has secured the necessary money pledges to insure it a cotton mill.

In these days when so many places have suffered in their attempts to build local industries on the co-operative plan, it is truly a matter of rejoicing to find among the many failures, here and there exceptions, in brilliant successes.

Kineton is one of the successes, not because its people are richer or have more money to invest than many other places, but it is successful because its people determine to build, then go shead and put up the money themselves for the enterprise. not waiting for some outside or imaginary philanthropist to come in and furnish the necessary capital.

Congratulations to Kinaton and its people, for it has shown this rection the quality of its confidence in its own town's future in this co-operative work, which will give it a cotton mill, and its action in this particular speaks louder than the words in ten thousand newspapers.

"I never shall overcome the ecstances of integrater which assail me when I see varieties of coal exhibited in tiny shop windows, set forth in high glass dishes, as we exploit chocolates at home. But well they may respect it, for it is really very much cheaper to freeze to death than to buy coal in Paris. The reason of all this is the city tax on every chicken, every carrot, every egg brought into Paris. Every mouthful of food is taxed. This produces an enormous revenue, and this is why the streets are so clean. It is why the sappalt is as smooth as a hallroom floor. It is why the whole of Paris is as beautiful as a dream."
