MEHLIN HIGH GRADE PIANOS The A. Coun Piano & Organ Co.

Gentlement-It is with real pleasur Gentlement:—It is with real pleasure that I note your having again secured the agency of the meritortous "Medim" pianes. I only wish that those of our tome people who are desirous of purchasing a pano would intelligently investigate the genuine merits of this king of pianes. It possesses, indeed, all of these remarkable characteristics which have made the Chickering, Steinway and other first grade instruments so justly celebrated—cusy, electic touch, full and evenly balanced tone, sympathetic to the veriest shade of feeling,—a perfect the veriest shade of feeling,—a perfect Wagnerian tornado or a Chopinesque zephyr, at the will of the performer. In my opinion the Mehlin is slightly in advance of any other piano. It must be investigated thoroughly before it can be fully appreciated. When we conside that its cost is far below that of the obissuit by. As for the microsthat were famous in this section ten to thirty year ago. I am simply asto ished that peop will consider them even as see instruments. As a matter of fact, the old celebratics are far behind the times in one or two conspicuous instant being rediculous in comparison with su a marvel as the Meblin. It affords t pleasure to write you this, and, as I dentirely and wholly a voluntary act. F
