A DAY IN THE CITY.

The weather forecast for today is, fair.

There will no meeting of The King's Daughters tonight.

The JOURNAL wishes to thank its many friends for their kind words and actions in their appreciation of its news service and bulletins.

The meetings at the Church of Christ continue with interest. There will be preaching this afternoon at 3 o'clock and again at night.

The Republican Judicial convention of the Second District, has been called to meet at Rocky Mount on June 1st, for the purpose of making nominations for judge and solicitor.

The order issued from headquarters of the Western Union Telegraph Company, as to its employees giving out news going over the wires, is not limited to any one office or city, but is general throughout the country and takes in every office and employe of the W. U. T. Company.

Invited to Charlotte.

Mr. A. H. Bangert, foreman of the New Berne Steam Fire Engine Company, has received an invitation for his company to attend the Firemen's International Tournament, to be held at Charlotte May 18-21.

Prizes to the amount of $430 are offered, but none for quick steaming. Mr. Bangert states that his company will be unable to attend the tournament.

Express Office at Newport.

The Southern Express Company has just established an office at Newport, the business at that place demanding its establishment.

Mr. J. B. Mann will be the agent for the company.

THE SHAM BATTLE.

An interesting event this afternoon at Fair Grounds. Music by City Band.

At half past four this afternoon the Naval Reserves will give a practice drill and sham battle at the Fair Grounds. The maneuvers will be gone through and a real presentation of a battle skirmish will be given.

No doubt a big crowd will be on hand to see the boys. The admission is 25 cents for men, and 10 cents for ladies and children.

The proceeds are to help buy the uniforms for the Reserves. They deserve to be well dressed. Everybody should go who can, or at any rate buy a ticket. The small sum will educate your pocket for larger calls that may be made upon your patriotism in case of a serious war.

The City Band will play the following airs during the fray:

- 1—Tenting on the old Camp Ground.
- 2—Hail to the Chief.
- 3—Yankee Doodle.
- 4—Hail Columbia.
- 5—Star Spangled Banner.
- 6—Bonnie Blue Flag.
- 7—Maryland.
- 8—The Girl I Left Behind.
- 9—See the Conquering Hero.
- 10—The Flag of our Union.
- 11—Dixie.
- 12—Red, White and Blue.
- 13—We Won't go Home 'Till Morning.
- 14—When Johnnie Comes Marching Home.
- 15—Home Again.
- 16—Auld Lang Syne.
- 17—Old Folks at Home.
- 18—Massa' in the Cold, Cold Ground.
- 19—Home Sweet Home.
- 20—America.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Emily Claypoole left on yesterday's morning train to visit at Durham.

Mr. O. J. Carroll of the Raleigh Morning Post, is in the city.

Miss Mabel Chadwick came up from Beaufort yesterday and is visiting Miss Mary L. Hendren.

Mr. Sam B. Waters, Jr., arrived on last night's train.

Mr. W. S. Chadwick of Beaufort, spent the day in the city yesterday.

Messrs. A. F. Davis, of Smyrna, and J. T. Cooper, of Bayboro, were in the city, yesterday.

Not Fish Weather.

The fish dealers are inclined to complain about the weather which is much too cold for their business.

There are good orders for fish from outside buyers, and the trade would be good, but fish are scarce, due to the continued cold weather which prevents catches of fish of any consequence.

Fish are in demand but few are on the market.

FRUIT NOT DAMAGED.

Outlook Promises Fine For Peaches, Plums and Strawberries. At Newport.

Mr. Geo. N. Ives, the senior member of the firm of G. N. Ives & Son, who have the largest fruit farm in Eastern North Carolina, located at Newport, was seen by the JOURNAL yesterday, and asked regarding the damages from frost, which his fruit had received during the cold spell of last week.

"Upon examination I find that we have suffered no damage from the freezing weather, or from the frosts which we have had nearly every night."

"Peaches and plums are very fine and the prospect is for a large yield. Our strawberries are coming all right. We shipped the first today, more on Saturday, and next week they will go lively. I think we are ahead of Mt. Olive on strawberries this year, in first shipment."

"I think the precautions we took during the cold nights, building fires, saved our fruit crop."

"POLITICAL ECONOMY."

Practiced by Governor Russell on

A. & N. C. Railroad.

All Must be Nativized. Hewitt's Some thing "Equally as Good." Politic ians Happy. How Will the Stock holders Like it.

Governor Russell's brief reign, a little over a year in North Carolina, has given him a wonderful insight into the correct way to manage railroads,—for political purposes.

The Governor's great victory (?) in his personal fight against the Southern Railway, has been entered upon his private diary, as a work of genius.

"The State has saved $10,000 in lawyers fees, and I have made the corrupt Andrews pay the piper," enters the Governor upon his diary.

But on ce made thirsty by the success of bleeding the corrupt Southern corporation, the Governor looked about for a new railroad field in which to display his genius.

The Atlantic and North Carolina railroad is the Governor's, that is so little remains for private stockholders, that their representatives while permitted to attend directors meetings, yet have little voice in the actual say so as to the road's management.

The Governor, after his failure to dispose of the A. & N. C. by lease to the Southern, found it necessary to have a President for the road, also two directors.

To "name" his men, meant their election of course.

"No Craven county men need apply," has hung as a motto over the Governor's desk for several months, so Jones and Onslow counties were given the offices of directors, for it was good "political economy."

"Governor, our man Hewitt, the guardian of our Carteret Lodge, the preserver of our fish and game, must be President of the A. & N. C. railroad," says the Messrs. Dukes.

"But Dan Patrick is the better man, gentlemen," replies His Majesty.

"Remember our Republicanism," say the Dukes.

"Then let us practice political economy," answers the Governor.

"Therefore be it resolved, that T. D. Hewitt, be made Road master at a salary of $100 per month, in place of C. K. Hancock, who drew $70 per month."

"Does that please you, gentlemen?"

"It does Governor, for we think that Hewitt can manage to live upon the monthly stipend of $100 if Hancock existed on $70."

"Therefore all is happy. The Governor has his Dan in office, the Dukes have friend Hewitt provided for, and the politicians are satisfied that the Governor will continue to practice his "political economy" in every department of the A. & N. C. and their "friends" will receive something decidedly better than standing on the platform, watching the trains go past.

And so the Conquering Russell proceeds,—but the stockholders?

Well they may complain, but then why should they, when the Governor will wisely shake his head, and proclaim that by "political economy," only, can railroads be successfully managed.

TONIGHT AT THE THEATRE.

A Fine Entertainment Premiered. Names of Those Taking Part A Gypsy Dance.

Tonight will be given at the theatre the "Chronotheloteron" and a fine presentation is assured.

The celebrated personages of by-gone ages will appear in living form and will converse familiarly with each other. They will dress again as they did in their former life, and their characters will have undergone no change in the passing years.

The following are the characters represented and the names of the young ladies representing them:

"Genius"—Miss May Hendren.
"Inventress"—Mrs. J. T. Hollister.
"Sarah, wife of Abraham"—Miss Eulalia Willis.

"Pharaoh's Daughter"—Miss Agnes Foy.
"Cornelia"—Miss Mande Land.

"Martha Washington"—Miss Rosa I'll.

"Priscilla"—Miss Annie Stevenson.
"Joan of Arc"—Miss Sadie Moore.
"Pocahontas"—Miss Augusta Crapon.
"Virginia Dare"—Mrs. H. L. Lumsden.

As a second part to the entertainment, what was at first a "Spanish dance," but is now called a "gypsy dance" will be given. The young ladies will all be in costume. Their names are as follows:

Miss Sadie Moore.
Miss Nora Huddleston.
Miss Adlie Claypoole.
Miss Lula Taylor.
Miss Lizzie Hancock.
Miss Fannie Cutler.
Miss Corinne Chawick.
Miss Carrie Hendren.

The sale of seats at Waters' began yesterday and was large. A full house is expected. The prices are 50 cents reserved, 35 cents front row gallery, 25 cents general admission.

I was reading an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the Worcester Enterprise recently, which leads me to write this. I can truthfully say I never used any remedy equal to it for colic and diarrhoea. I have never had to use more than one or two doses to cure the worst case with myself or children.—W. A. Stroud, Popomocks City, Md. For sale by F. S. Duffy.

TRENTON.

Anxious For War News. Colored Citizens Tell of the Wonderful Gun at Kingston. Items of Interest.

TRENTON, April 14.
Miss Rosa Kinsey of Tuckahoe is visiting the family of R. L. May.

Edgar Hardy and Eli Hardy went to Kingston today on business.

Lon Taylor has nearly completed his lively stable.

Business is a little dull around Trenton now, farmers are too busy to visit us.

Mr. Bray of New Berne paid a flying visit to Trenton yesterday and left for home today.

Every man in Trenton is at the Post-office on the arrival of the mail from Cove to learn the war news. Many of us attend a half a hour before time and wait very impatiently with anxious looks down Jones street to see it coming. War has abated everything around here.

The rains are bringing out everything around here which was damaged by the late cold snap. The fruit has sustained but little damage by the late frost.

Mr. Lupton of South river has accepted a position with Sylvanus Baker as salesman.

The shad catch around Trenton is very limited, only two or three are placed on the market of mornings for the last two weeks.

A colored citizen of Cypress Creek township, has for the last two weeks when visiting Trenton been very solicitous about the war between Spain and the United States and making many inquiries about the fighting propensities and the barbarities and the atrocities of the Spanish soldiers, when some of the boys around here concluded to have some fun by telling him how cruelly he would be treated, if he should be captured by Spaniards and that the militia would certainly be called out and that he would have to go. "No sirs, said he, when I hear of that call I am going for the pocasin and stay there until the war ends."

A few days ago business called our man to Kingston and he concluded to go out and see the Naval Reserves drill and when he returned home he said if Spain wanted to know how badly she would get whipped she ought to just visit Kingston and see that wonderful gun there that just kept shooting all the time. He said if our people would give the Cypress Creek boys just such a gun as that at Kingston, he was ready to go and fight them for he was certain that they could whip Spain and make her leave this country.

Several Episcopal preachers with Bishop Watson will hold services at Grace church Trenton commencing on Friday next to continue during the remainder of the week.

Mr. Lon Taylor and wife are visiting relatives and friends at Dover.
